WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, July 1, 1891.
Weather forecast till 12 m., Tuesday, fair. Slightly cooler.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A plate of cream, a lemonade. An iceberg and an chili. For me when '90 in the shade. And rising, rising still.

Mr. J. E. Divine, of the Grand Ronde Chronicle, paid this office a visit to-day. Green corn is in the market. The first to make its appearance came in last week.

Masters Lieu Abrams of Ellensburg, Wash., and Chester Hogue of Portland are in the city on a short visit. They will return to their homes this p. m.

Those of the bicyclists who are intending to ride in the 4th of July parade will please meet in the CHRONICLE office square at 7:45 this evening for drill.

Miss Lettie Johnson has gone to Portland for a few days visit, after which she will proceed to Dallas, Polk county for a somewhat extended vacation.

Mrs. E. R. Taylor and two children of San Francisco are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Mack. Mrs. Taylor is a niece of Senator Stanford of California.

The funeral of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Menefee took place from the residence at ten o'clock this morning. The services were conducted by Rev. W. C. Curtis.

The first peaches of the season appeared in market Monday; they are of the Alexander variety, also the first apples, Red Jones, were displayed in limited supply, Tuesday.

The fire ladders are making extra exertions to make a fine display on the Fourth. It is believed that they have never before taken so deep an interest in any public demonstration, as they have in this one.

Miss Etta French, who has been visiting her uncle D. M. French Esq., for the past few weeks, returned to Portland today where she will visit friends in that city before returning to San Francisco, her home.

The boiler of the Regulator has arrived but as the incline near the boat landing is needed for transfer while the burned bridge is being repaired, the boiler cannot be placed on the boat till this is accomplished.

Yesterday a number of young men from the city took a trip in the Baker down to Hood River, intending to return by the same means in the evening. As the boat did not return till seven this morning the young gentlemen spent the night serenading the citizens of Hood River and entertaining the delayed passengers with vocal and instrumental music.

The first bridge below Rowena was burned yesterday. The bridge is a very long one, and before the fire was subdued bents were burned, in number variously reported from eight to eighteen. It is not supposed the damage can be repaired sooner than tomorrow, and it may take two or three days. Meanwhile passengers and baggage will be transferred by boat to and from this city.

Scarlet fever has broken out in the Ten Mile district and is very likely to spread over the greater part of the neighborhood. Dr. Doane visited a patient yesterday and pronounced it a well defined case of this disease. As the child is a pupil of the school nearly all the children have visited their sick school mate, and some of them are more than likely to contract the disease.

Sergeant Will Graham has an eye to business as well as soldiering. Finding that a number of the boys belonging to company K were for a short time on the sick list, he hoisted a hospital flag in the show window of his restaurant and placarded the tent on the grounds of the "Camp Graham" with the legend, "Hospital O. N. G. K. Co. All down but eight. See 'em inside." If the joke does not cost Graham something in the way of cigars or "something," we will miss our guess.

Mr. Lockhead, of the Columbia Feed-yard, is the maddest man in town. Last night some ungodly tramp invaded Mr. Lockhead's domain and taking the pants from under the heads of two freighters, who were sleeping in the yard, rifled their contents, and got away with two watches and $35 in money. It was in the grey of the morning and one of the disturbed freighters saw the thief, but supposing it to be one of his companions went to sleep again without making any disturbance. Mr. Lockhead affirms that the East End is overrun with tramps. He and some others made an attempt to capture four of them this morning, but they escaped on a passing freight train.

THE BOYS IN BLUE.

The Doings at Camp Chenoweth Yesterday and Today.

The members of the 3d regiment are hard at work learning the soldier's trade in camp and are making splendid progress. They are doing good solid work and will be better for the drill. All is passing pleasantly and so far no accidents or unpleasant features have presented themselves. Following are some of the events of yesterday:

THE GAMES.

The first two games of the baseball tournament were decided. F company of Baker City and C company of The Dalles were the first team, but through some misunderstanding C company's team did not put in an appearance, and F company got the game by default.

E company of Fossil and K company of LaGrande then occupied the diamond for the rest of the afternoon, and at mess call, E company having the largest score were declared the winners.

Companies E and F will play the deciding game this afternoon.

The first four heats of the 100-yards dash for members under 35 were run off last evening. Signal Sergeant Patterson won the first heat, Private D. Rand second heat, Private Bert Bryan third heat, Private J. Pearl fourth heat.

The above four winners will run off the deciding heat for the prizes at 7:30 this evening.

THE VISITORS.

Amongst the visitors to camp yesterday were Mrs. Thompson, wife of Lieutenant colonel Thompson, Miss Wiley, the Misses Thompson, and several others. Father Brongeeest and H. Athelston Morley were guests to dinner at headquarters yesterday and during the repast were segregated by the regimental band.

LESSONS IN GUARD DUTY.

Considerable consternation was created amongst the guards in the wee sma' hours by a visit from the Grand Rounders. This is a camp of instructions, and without any previous warning about 2:00 Col. Houghton, Lieut. Col. Thompson and Lieut. Patterson turned out and challenged the sentries, who, being new to the business, surrendered their arms and completely demoralized stood upon their posts helplessly awaiting coming events. The officers above mentioned then gave the men a practical lesson in sentry duty. Lieut. Patterson acting as sentry and being tackled on both sides by the colonel and lieutenant colonel. It can be said without fear of contradiction that any man will be a sharp one who gets a gun from any one of those sentries should they happen to be on guard again.

ARRIVAL OF MAJOR BURKE.

This forenoon Col. Houghton, accompanied by Lieutenants Patterson and Norton arrived in town as an escort for Major Burke of the 14th U. S. Infantry, who arrived here from Vancouver on the delayed train. Meeting the major, the whole party proceeded out to camp, where Major Burke will remain as official inspector until the close of the encampment.

Gossip of the Camp.

Company D of Hood River boasts of having reported the largest number of men of any company in the regiment.

It is reported that Sergeant James Langille has aspirations after the chaplaincy of Company D.

Ordely Sergeant E. Winans has grave doubts about the propriety of Captain Dukes' ordering his men on dress parade after eating onions.

Company D desires, through the CHRONICLE, to thank Joles Brothers for a box of cigars, a sack of lemons and enough sugar to make a whole barrel of lemonade.

After dress parade last evening a little fellow, named Earl Taylor, amused a large concourse of the boys by performing a number of well executed feats of tumbling. He gathered in a pocket full of nickels.

While it is impossible to please everybody, the boys, as a rule are satisfied with their fare, and pronounce it good, wholesome and abundant.

Sergeant Will Graham has been excused from duty on account of his wife's having been prostrated with over-work in the restaurant, during Mr. Graham's absence.

All the members of K Co. who were on the sick list yesterday, were able to report for duty this morning. And sickness has all but disappeared from the camp.

Why was the flag on the hospital at half mast this morning?

The Umatilla House placed this morning a new register on its office desk. The first entries were as follows:

Miss M. C. Redmond, Mosier.
Jos. McEachern and wife, city.
J. H. Barlow, Klifikat.
A. J. Shrum, Burnt Ranch.

The signal service reports for a number of points in California on last Monday indicated that the thermometer ranged from ninety to ninety-six degrees in the shade. The highest reports were: Red Bluff, 104; Fresno, 110; Yuma, 116; and Merced, 118.

An effort is being made to introduce the Chinese peasant into the country bordering on the Umatilla river.

Our Mandolin Club Heard From.

We understand the passengers who were transferred to and from Hood River last evening on the steamer Baker were entertained by a party of Dalles boys who out for a good time with their guitars and mandolins. The entertainment was varied, instrumental and vocal music being rendered in such a manner that the trunks, boxes, casks, and such other furniture as the U. P. provides for its travelers, by the road-side under like circumstances free of charge, seemed a trifle softer and more comfortable after the arrival of the "concert" as someone styled the little troop of pleasure seekers. The boys serenaded the town of Hood River held high carnival under the spreading oaks—or porch roofs—and barring such trifling accidents as a false step through a trestle, which rendered it necessary for one of the party to resort to gargling oil to soothe his wounded feelings, the losing of a mandolin pick which had to be replaced by one hewn out of a railroad tie—and such pangs of conscience as come from a neglected stomach and which nearly drove the party to casting lots to determine which of the boys should be killed and eaten,—the promiscuous wandering through fields, dust, brush, etc., to find the way back to the boat, the boys returned somewhat sobered, it is said, but still in high spirits, declaring they had had a fine time.

Our Handsome Drum Major.

Drum Major Joe Fitzgerald looks very swell in his red coat and outfitting, and proposes to know what music his 3d regiment band is playing if he can find out by asking. Last night the band was at work and rendered beautifully a new piece, "How Beautiful Thou Art." Joe stepped forward to the alto player and asked "what song was that?" To which the "um-ta" replied. "How beautiful thou art Major." It was the retort courteous indeed.

A Dalles Fish Heard From.

In the lobby of the Whitcomb house this morning in a huge wooden tray filled with broken ice was placed on exhibition the finest specimen of Oregon salmon ever brought to this city. The fish weighed 68½ pounds and was caught at North Dalles, Wash., on the Columbia river. It was presented to Whitcomb & Downs, proprietors of the hotel, by George Burlingame, local agent of one of the large Western land companies. The fish will be served to the guests tomorrow at dinner.—Rochester (N. Y.) Post-Express.

Salem Cars Move Slow.

A man in Salem bought a quart of milk up town and boarding an electric car, set the can down upon the floor, while he rode to his home. His surprise came when he opened the can to find that instead of having a quart of milk he had a half pound of nice butter.

Fourth of July Dinner.

The ladies of the M. E. church will serve dinner on the 4th in the store on Second street adjoining Crandall & Burget's. Good meals—home cooking—will be served for 25 cents. Dinner will begin at 12 noon and last all afternoon and evening.

Attention.

Fourth of July Committee extends a pressing invitation to all to take part in the procession of the plug uglies which will start at 1 p. m. headed by the brass band from Mr. Lochhead's feed yard at the east end of the city.

Notice.

The barber shops of this city will close on the Fourth at 12 o'clock noon, and open on Sunday morning till 12 noon, for that day only.

MARRIED.

By Justices Schutz in this city, on June 27th, Mr. Volney J. Houston to Miss Dora Butcher.

June 28, by Rev. Father Brongeeest, Mr. Wm. Rogers to Miss Celia Mespilie.

It has been found that increased leniency in prison discipline has not resulted in a decrease of crime. On the contrary we had in 1870 but 853 state prisoners to the million, while in 1880 there were 1169 and, it is believed, the census of 1890 will show a still greater proportion of convicts to the population. The value of any argument drawn from these statistics, in favor of a more rigid system of discipline, is greatly lessened by our inability to show that a more rigid system would have resulted in a less proportion of crime.

Mrs. Wickstaff—My dear, this ribbon you have brought home for Fido is a shade too light. Wickstaff—All right, I'll try it over. Mrs. Wickstaff (the next day)—My dear, I'm sorry, but the ribbon you have brought home today is a shade too dark. Wickstaff (wearily)—Their wait until tomorrow and I'll change the dog.—Clook Review.

Victoria's head is level. While she lately contributed $300,000 to pay off the more pressing debt of the Prince of Wales, she instructed her agent that the Prince is not to handle a penny of it.

The Salvation Army has already established 3,370 corps, commissioned over 10,000 officers and sworn in over a million soldiers. These figures do not include the recruits for the converts who enter the churches.

Pendleton has abandoned the idea of holding a celebration on the Fourth on account of the presence of diphtheria in that city.

Justice Schutz complains that business is alarmingly dull in his line.

A stone that is fit for the wall will not be left in the way.
