LOCAL BREVITIES.

Scarlet fever is not raging at Ten Mile. Miss Emma Ward, of Kingsley, is in the city. The field of the National flag has now forty-four stars. Hon. E. B. Dufur went down last evening on business to Vancouver. This is the hottest day of the season. The mercury at 3 o'clock stood at 94°. The Chronicle acknowledges a pleasant call to-day from A. J. Dufur, junior, of Dufur. Two of the sons of Robert Mays, Ed and Robert, have returned from California where they have been attending school. "U. P. Sam" visited camp last night and entertained the band with a song, the refrain of which was, "There is no flier on the drum major." Frank Melone Esq., is baling his wool, and will ship, as prices in this market are quite unsatisfactory to him. We understand several other wool growers will do the same thing. The Baker City papers are more agitated over a recent game of base ball than they are about all the great questions now agitating the state and nation. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Menefee went down to Portland this morning. Mrs. Menefee will remain for a month or six weeks and Mr. Menefee will return on Sunday. The Evangelical Lutheran services will be held next Sunday, 10:30 a. m., and 7 o'clock p. m. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all. A. Horns, Pastor. G. B. Avery, for some time hostler in the company's yard at this place, removed yesterday to Umatilla. William Mahoney, formerly a fireman of the company, takes the place vacated by Mr. Avery. Major Burke has, it is said, expressed himself as surprised and pleased with the fine soldierly appearance of the boys of the third regiment, and says he has seen men after fourteen years' service who did not do better. We understand that Mr. M. J. Ariderson known in the literary world as "Keno" and in the legal world as the late prosecuting attorney for the Jack-Knife Judicial District has located at Dufur. After dress parade yesterday evening the band marched through the tents and serenaded each visiting company. At the close of each serenade the boys responded by giving "three cheers" for the band, and it is no figure of speech to say they made the welkin ring. Secretary J. M. Huntington is in receipt of the charter of the Columbia Building and Loan association, of this city, and now the association can be said to be fully in operation and the Chronicle hopes its future will be bright and successful. The charter is a handsome one and is on exhibit at Mr. Huntington's office in the Vogt block. The association has 21 members at present, and 243 shares have been subscribed for. The Chronicle office would be pleased to have the farmers of this county send in statistics of the number of bushels per acre of grain and corn, and the amount per acre of roots, vegetables, &c., produced during the coming season. A simple way to make an estimate of grain where it cannot be otherwise obtained, is to take four strips of wood each three feet long and nail them together in the form of a square; then drop this square over a piece of average standing grain and cut and thresh it by itself. Statistifying the productiveness of our soil, and if furnished to this office will be placed where they will do the most good. We had the pleasure of meeting to-day Mr. R. B. Sinnott, younger son of Col. Sinnott, who, together with his brother Mr. N. J. Sinnott, returned last Monday from attendance at the University of Notre-Dame, Ind. Both of the young gentlemen, we understand, are in excellent health. The younger is six feet, and the elder six feet two inches in height, while their ages are respectively eighteen and twenty years. We understand that both have distinguished themselves at the university, and we can readily believe it, as far as Master Nicholas is concerned, after having read an essay of his, entitled "Reconciliation," which was delivered at the oratorical contest of the university on June 10th ult., and is published in the Notre Dame Scholastic of June 13, 1891. The essay is a fine impassioned appeal to American citizenship to bury in a common grave all the bitter memories of our late fratricidal war. It abounds in noble and humane sentiments and is possessed of an easy flow of rhetoric and grace of diction seldom found in so young a writer.

SUNBURNED SOLDIERS.

How the Boys of the 3d Regiment are Enjoying Themselves by Playing at Soldiering.

This is the hottest day of the season by far, the mercury standing at 94°, and the heat takes some of the snap out of the boys in camp. However, they are all doing effective work and every body is happy in playing soldier as it is possible to be. The officer's mess at headquarters desire to thank Mrs. Garretson for a jar of delicious spiced peaches. They also extend thanks to Mr. W. C. Cram for a freezer of ice cream. The band was very liberal with its music last evening, dispensing their sweet notes all over camp. The band had a reunion at the headquarters last night and afterwards a shirt tail parade drill. The flag on the tent was at half mast. Major Burke is still the guest of headquarters and is much liked by all with whom he comes in contact. He is a thorough officer and a gentleman. Under the chaperonage of Mrs. Dr. Hollister a charming party of the ladies of The Dalles went to camp in Mr. Richmond's wagonette, and a jolly time is anticipated. Among the visitors to camp last evening were Mrs. Dr. Hollister, Miss Hollister, Miss Lewis, Mrs. Garretson, Miss Annie Sylvester, Miss Jennie Brown, Miss Lora Johnston, Miss Nellie Sylvester, and a host of the belles of the city. Last evening the camp was very attractive from the number of visitors. Many more being in attendance than on any previous evening. Major Burke has reviewed the second regiment, now in camp at Eugene, and says that the third regiment outnumbered the second by 100 men. Lieutenant Colonel Thompson is much pleased with the good conduct of the men. He has only held one field court, and this was for a mere trifle and the man was not punished. The Fossil base ball club, which again carried off the honors, yesterday, have never yet been beaten in a regular match game, and they have played with the Mayville club, with that of Arlington, with that of Antelope, and Condon, and now twice with the La Grande boys. Besides this; two of their best players are not here. This is a record any club may well be proud, and as we have all one common bunch-grass brotherhood we are proud of them too. The first accident of the encampment occurred yesterday. Private C. G. Rodabaugh, of K company, was returning to camp from a bathing trip to the Columbia river in company with seven others, when he missed his footing and fell over a bluff, striking his left knee on a flat rock on which he fell with all his weight. At first it was supposed that the knee was broken and the man suffered for a time, intense pain. His companions carried him part of the way to camp, where the doctor made him as easy as possible and a few hours after the accident he was able to limp out of his tent and view the races. Corporal Will Langille of Hood River turned the joke on his father, yesterday, in good style. It was Will's duty, for the first time, to superintend the cleaning of the camp, and he took particular pains to have his father, who is a high private in the same company, detailed as one of the men to do the work. Corporal Langille prefaced his orders to private Langille with the significant remark, "Daddy I have got you now, where I have wanted you for the last twenty years." And so he had, and the officers commended Corporal Langille for having the cleanest camp and parade ground they have had since they came in the field. The corporal compelled his father to go down on his knees and pick up every scrap of paper and every stump of a cigarette on the ground and private Langille submitted with true soldierly meekness, but when the work was done, his great parental heart again asserted itself as he told his boy, "My son, when I get you home I'll take the lint off you."

Saloons Closed on Sunday. The citizens of Spokane, backed by a determined mayor and a fearless newspaper—the Review—have succeeded in effectually closing the saloons of that city on Sundays. The movement has been largely brought about by the paper spoken of and the citizens should feel proud of such a journal. We have always thought that one reason why saloons should be closed on Sunday as well as business houses was because by keeping open when stores were closed it gave the saloon men an unfair advantage over the merchant in getting the first and best chance at the working men's money. Why should the saloon be given that advantage? The Review in speaking on the Sunday closing movement has this to say of it: The whole motive of the organized fight upon the part of the liquor dealers was their inability longer to enjoy the cream of Spokane's payroll. With the exception of the liquor traffic the general business community have complied with the law, and this they have done voluntarily and without any whining about a "Puritan Sunday." Most of them have been closing their doors at 8 o'clock Saturday night, relinquishing to the saloon men for a period of thirty-six hours the almost exclusive privilege of tapping the city's payroll. The average man draws his salary, quits work at 5 or 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, takes his supper and goes to a barber shop to be shaved. Just about the time he finds himself with his leisure time upon his hands the stores are closed. We all know what human nature is, particularly with young men. The temptation to spend money is with us all to a greater or less degree; and the average man finding himself at leisure with a full purse, and the general places of business closed, is constantly tempted to drop in at the saloons and gambling places to spend his money. If these places were closed down at midnight, and kept closed until Monday morning, they would still have a decided advantage over general business; but they would not have time to get quite so much of the cream of the week's wages, and that is where the shoe pinches. A great many young men, and old ones, too, would go home at midnight, and having a long period of leisure for reflection, reading and out-door life, would go back to their work Monday morning with a clear head and money in their purse, and that money would go into the stores and banks of the city. Some of it would make glad the hearts of suffering wives who bear their cross in proud silence. It would buy dry goods and groceries, pay butchers' and bakers' bills, and put better clothes upon many a child now clad in rags. This is not the hysterical imagination of religious cranks and fanatics, but the deep religious conviction of our best people, and the observation of men whose past follies or present duties have given them a clear insight into the evils of society, and the actual knowledge of every man who sells whiskey or deals cards. Fourth of July. HONORABLE JAMES W. NEWMITH POST No. 33, DEPT. OREGON G. A. R. THE DALLES, OR., July 1, 1891. GENERAL ORDERS No. 3. 1. Comrades are hereby directed to assemble (in uniform as far as practicable) at Post Hall, on Saturday, July 4th at 9 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of joining with our citizens in the proper celebration of the day. All old soldiers are cordially invited to fall in with us. By command of Official. W. S. MYERS, Post Commander. J. C. MEINS, Adjutant. Handsome Plate Work. Dr. D. Siddall, who is justly recognized as one of the most skillful dentists of the northwest, brought to the office yesterday a set of teeth having aluminum as the base instead of gold plate as is usual. It was a finely finished job. The plate is much lighter than gold and is apparently as strong. The new metal is bound to be used by progressive dentists in future in place of gold, although it will undoubtedly take fully as much gold to pay for a set of teeth. Dr. Siddall deserves credit for his enterprise in applying aluminum in a manner that will contribute so much to the comfort of those who need to use anything of the kind. For Sale.
