ADVERSE TO PHOEBE.

Judge Blodgett Renders a Decision Against the Pretty Ex-Secretary of the World's Fair.

Crowds of Excursionists Visit the Itata and the Charleston--Women's Suffrage Case on Trial.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Judge Blodgett decided the Phoebe Cousins case this morning by rendering a sweeping decision against the ex-secretary of lady managers of the world's fair. The court held in short that Miss Cousins was out of office for good and she cannot get back. The court held that the board of managers was created by the national commission and received its powers from that body. These powers extended to the executive committee of the board of lady managers and it had full power to act inasmuch as congress had not provided for continuous sessions of the board of lady managers which had to delegate its powers to a committee. This committee the court held was in fact the board itself.

Don't Take Stock in the People's Party.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 9.—Extended canvass shows that the new people's party is not endorsed by the farmers of New England and New York. The sub treasury bill and loaning new issues of paper by government on land values is looked upon as wild schemes and the free coinage of silver has but a small following.

Woman's Suffrage Case to be Tried.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The case of Nevada M. Bloomer, vs. John Dodd and others is to be called in the supreme court of the United States October term, on an appeal from the decision of the Washington Territory supreme court three years ago, in which it was decided adversely to woman's right of suffrage and holding offices.

Will Not Fuse With the Democrats.

TOPEKA, Kansas, July 9.—About fifteen prominent people's party leaders session here have declined a proposition made by the democratic state central committee recently to fuse with them in local county elections in Kansas this year and to unite on electoral ticket in opposition to the republicans next year.

Did Not Violate the Interstate Law.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 9.—In the case of the United States vs. J. M. Eagan and C. H. Headridge of the Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City road on trial for alleged violation of the interstate law. Judge Thayer this morning instructed the jury to find for the defendants.

The State Alliance.

PORTLAND, July 9.—The state farmers' alliance reconvened this forenoon was consumed in the preparation and adoption of a constitution and by-laws. This afternoon an election of officers will be had.

Immigration to the United States on the Increase.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The superintendent of immigration at New York reports that $405,664 immigrants arrived there during the fiscal year as compared with $28,891 the previous year.

Parnellites Discouraged.

DUBLIN, July 9.—The Parnellite press is exceedingly downcast over the result of the Carlow election. The Freeman's Journal says there is now no more chance of getting home rule for Ireland than of getting the moon.

Gen. Schfield in Portland.

PORTLAND, July 9.—Major General J. M. Schofield and party arrived here this morning from San Francisco.

Weather Forecast.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Forecast for Oregon and Washington, light rains in eastern portion.

Chicago Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 9.—Close, wheat steady cash 91 1/2 @ 3/4; September, 87 1/2; December, 89 @ 3/4.

San Francisco Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Wheat, buyer '91, after August 1st 1.59.

It was expected that Hood River would send a large delegation to The Dalles the 4th, but the poem by Waldeman Seton in the Times-Mountaineer of June 29th has made all who have read it desire to get out on the babbling trout streams far from the haunts of men they can lie in the shade and catch innumerable trout, or at least lie, whether in the shade or not. Brother Michell is derelict in his duty to the fraternity in that he has not polished up his club, and "slewed" the deadly contributor.

When a man goes down the general verdict is that he has gone up.

THE ITATA AGAIN.

Her Libel Suit to be Tried in September.

SAN DIEGO, July 9.—Judge Campbell, assistant United States district attorney, arrived here last night to confer with Marshal Gard and the officers of the Charleston. He stated that papers in the libel suit were filed yesterday but the trial could not be had until September.

It is now stated that the rumor of a plot on the part of the Itata's officers to take the vessel out of port last night was disproved by the fact that the vessel is in no condition to leave, her machinery having been taken to pieces, her boiler being overhauled and the caps on her cylinder heads have been removed. The Charleston lies within a few hundred yards of her.

Excursion trains are running from all parts of Southern California bringing people to see the vessels.

KILLED IN A COURTROOM.

The Result of Bad Blood of Long Standing Between Rival Lawyers.

RED BLUFF, Cal., July 7.—Great excitement was caused by a shooting affair in Justice Tolley's court this afternoon. P. H. Coffman and C. H. Braynard were recently employed by Mrs. Belle Lunsford in a suit where some of her property was attached. They won the suit, but she failed and refused to pay them for their services, and employed William and Charles G. Nagle to defend the suit which followed. Today during the progress of the trial frequent wordy conflicts occurred, and a personal encounter seemed imminent. Charles Nagle remarked that they (meaning Braynard and Coffman) might win their case if they were not trying to swindle a poor woman out of $100. "Do you mean that?" asked Coffman. Nagle replied that he did, when Coffman picked up a chair and struck at Nagle. William Nagle started to his brothers assistance, when Braynard pulled his pistol and began firing, four shots entering his victim. Charles Nagle rushed upon Braynard, but escaped without serious injury. They were parted, when Braynard left the courtroom, but afterward gave himself up, and is now in jail. Nagle was taken to his home, and tonight his physicians say he cannot possibly recover. There was an old feud between the Braynards and the Nagles owing to family troubles.

PROPOSE TO DICTATE.

The Farmers' Alliance Contemplating a Big Wheat Combine.

CHICAGO, June 27.—A circular of advice issued through the official channels of the farmers' alliance to all members of farmers' organizations in the United States, urges them to combine and withhold this year's wheat crop from the market until the farmers can get their own price or at least a price considerably above the average. The circular, which is now ready for mailing and will be sent to the 2,000,000 members of the farmer's alliance and industrial union. The 1,000,000 members of the national farmers' alliance of the north; the 800,000 members of the Farmers' Mutual Benevolent Association; the 600,000 members of the Patrons of Husbandry. The farmers' organization now apparently feel in a position to make demands calculated to yield pecuniary profits to the agricultural classes, and they propose to begin with a gigantic combination in wheat.

A DUEL IN THE SOUTH.

Two New Orleans Editors Slash Each Other With Rapier.

NEW ORLEANS, July 7.—L. P. Bonby, editor of L'Orleans, and A. S. Caruthers, editor of The Mascot, fought a duel just across the Louisiana state line today. Rapier was the weapon used. During the encounter Mr. Caruthers was cut below the eye, and although the principals decided to continue the fight, the seconds and doctors agreed that honor was satisfied, and that the two adversaries had given sufficient proof of their courage and dignity. The duellists subsequently became reconciled.

Closure of Behring Sea.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 7.—In reply to a telegram sent protesting against the closure of the Behring sea this season, the Board of Trade this afternoon received a letter from the colonial office in which the following occurs:

"As a total cessation of sealing in the Behring sea will greatly enhance the value of produce of the coast fishery, her majesty's government don't anticipate that British sealers will suffer to any great extent by exclusion from the sea. They will be prepared, however, to consider any case in which it is established that a direct loss has been sustained by British subjects through the enforcement of prohibition against sealing in the Behring sea.

Villard's Faith in North America.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Villard is again on Wall street. He refuses to talk for publication. It is said he maintained great faith in North America, believing it worth a good deal more than it is selling for. The official estimate of the value of assets makes the stock worth 37 at present market prices. Yesterday's advance in Northern Pacific was attributed to Villard.

A Ravisher Riddled With Bullets.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 7.—Fifty mounted men heavily armed, broke into the jail at Blacksea, Ga., last night, took therefrom Roland Brown, a negro, who assaulted Mrs. Berry last Friday, took him to a spot one mile from town, tied him to a pine sapling and riddled his body with bullets.

NOT OPPOSED TO HAMLIN.

Colonel Nicoll Says the Philadelphia "Times" is in Error.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Colonel Nicoll, who was one of President Lincoln's private secretaries, today sent a dispatch to Mrs. Hamlin, stating that the editorial in this morning's Philadelphia Times to the effect that Lincoln was opposed to Mr. Hamlin's renomination as vice-president in 1864, is entirely erroneous. The dispatch says that on the contrary Lincoln favored Hamlin's renomination, but withheld any opinion for or against the candidate. Nicoll also expresses the deepest sympathy for Mrs. Hamlin and the nation's loss in his death.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Prominent Wall Street Operator Takes a Gloomy View of the Gold Export.

NEW YORK, July 7.—A prominent operator is disposed to take a gloomy view of the present financial situation here and abroad, and makes the point that the most serious aspect of the gold export movement is that we are really parting with the basis of our circulation. This construction, he adds, is also being placed upon the shipments by foreign financiers and operators. The bulls assert we can ship considerable more gold without special damage, except in the way of sentiment.

Machinery for the Flyer.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Five cars of machinery passed here yesterday consigned to Captain U. B. Scott, Portland, Or. This plant is for the steamer Flyer, being built by the Columbia River & Puget Sound Navigation company, and which is expected to be the fastest steamer on the Pacific coast. The shipment is in route on special time over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Northern Pacific railroads.

In Behalf of Science.

BERLIN, July 7.—Dr. Leibig has raised a sensation by accusing Professors Bergmann and Hahn of experimenting with cancer inoculation since 1887 on hospital patients without their knowledge or consent. Drs. Bergmann and Hahn admit the truth of the charge, but claim in every case the patients have been past recovery. They add as an excuse that it is necessary to select human beings for experiment, as the lower animals are unsuitable.

Notes in the Air.

H. Hennequin, of Paris, France, who has had some experience in aerial navigation, stopped in the city from San Francisco on his way home. Mr. Hennequin was in Fontenay at the time Tissindier and Gower had their startling adventure in a balloon. The traveler is an intimate friend of Gower, and tells the story of their fall of a mile as the balloonist related it to him:

"They ascended from Tissindier's house in Paris and floated off toward Vincennes, and as the wind was somewhat strong from the northeast, the two men soon disappeared from the view of Paris, having risen to a height of 1,500 feet. When they had reached Fontenay, however, they were fully 6,000 feet above the earth. They were sailing along smoothly, watching the scenes below, when suddenly they seemed to fall into a hole in the atmosphere, and down they went at a terrific rate. Gower glanced at the needle of the vertical scale. It was traveling with lightning speed. A roar filled their ears, and both men thought their time had come.

"Nothing had happened to the balloon. It was in perfect condition, but there seemed to be no air to hold it up. Tissindier desperately threw out sandbags. They were falling so rapidly that the bags were left far behind and disappeared above them. The earth seemed to be rushing at them with the speed of a comet. There seemed to be no atmosphere left, and they could scarcely breathe. As a last resort Tissindier threw over the anchor and the remaining ballast, and the big balloon, after a rush of a mile through the air, regained its poise and they were saved. The earth was but fifty feet below."

"This goes to show," continued Mr. Hennequin, "that too much precaution cannot be observed in carrying plenty of ballast. There are in the air occasional rarefactions, and when a balloon once gets into one of them it drops like a piece of lead. Gower and Tissindier sailed into a veritable pit in the air, and had they not had lots of ballast aboard they would have been dashed to pieces."—Chicago Tribune.

Old Wood for Violins.

When the old Pierre building, that had stood at the corner of Front and Court streets for more than two hundred years, was torn down six or seven years ago, I got a lot of pieces of spruce joists out of it to make violin tops. That's it, now. Most people think violins are made from some queer and costly foreign wood. They are not. The top is of spruce boards or timbers, and the strap, the back and the scroll from curly maple. The essential, however, is that the wood shall have been seasoned for generations. Cheap violins are made from wood that has been seasoned only four or five years. I want wood 100 years old. The old spruce is easier to get than the old maple. For that we have to seek in old farmhouses, where there are venerable chests of drawers and old fashioned bedsteads of maple, with headboards and footboards. We buy these for what we can, but they cost a great deal, for people usually value them highly as heirlooms. The posts and frame of the beds we can work into necks and scrolls, and the headboards, etc., into scraps and backs. Here is an old piece of board no more than two feet long, as you see, that I couldn't replace for a five dollar bill.—
