THE SAN JOSE SCALE.

It is useless to conceal the fact that unless vigorous action is taken by our fruit growers io destroy the pests that are infecting many of our orchards, in a short time and in many places, fruit raising will be a thing of the past. Portland papers inform us that Mr E. W. Allen, secretary of the state horticultural society uncharitable men in the world are those lately examined a lot of boxes of apples received from California by commission themselves. The men who stand most merchants, and finding them to be in- in need of forgiveness are the most unfected with the "San Jose Scale" ordered forgiving, and the greatest hypocrites and them to be destroyed or shipped back to frauds are the most uncompromising and California. The dealers concluded to bitterest denunciators of the faults of ship them back and some boxes of the others. The apples show bright red spots on their surface and with the aid of a magnifying glass, on each of sia cannot be depended on for exports of these spot can be seen a gray scale at-tracked under which is deposited the a general scarcity, owing to the miser-installed in the nursery, much to the awe scale is a much dreaded pest and a law some provinces a scarcity already exists. passed at the last legislature forbids the importation, into this state, of trees or fruit infected with it. In our own neighborhood Mr. Varney has been do- Col. T. A. Houghton, commanding 3d ing good work in the direction of stamping out this evil, and he reports that with the law that requires infected right in condemning them, but when anything is condemned in this way please let Mr. V. take it and destroy it and send us a bill with his stamp, giving cause why same has been dessroyed and we will not be out anything ourselves, then." All persons who have infected trees should know that the officers of the state horticultural society are clothed prising the farm of about 354 acres of with ample power to enforce the spraying or destruction of infected trees, and in case the owner should refuse to do so,

A few weeks ago Mesers. J. C. Murphy and E. C. Dickerson of Antelope took a band of horses to the Sound for the purpose of making sale of them. Mr. Dickerson returned yesterday, having been able to dispose of his lot, consisting of 22 head, at fair prices on credit, but he informs us that there is practically no cash market for horses, in that section. Mr. Murphy was less successful, having only disposed of four and he is now on his way back with the remainder. Mr. Dickerson believes that there must be 20,000 draft horses in the various pastures between Portland and Centralia on their way to market or for sale, and probably twice as many smaller horses. Yesterday a gentleman fed 10 head of horses at Mr. Richmond's stable. He had had them in the Sound country but could not sell them and was on his way back to his home in North Eastern Washington. We believe these facts ought to be known so that persons contemplating the taking of horses to these markets should know what they may expect should they go there.

Senator Dolph will be pleased to confer with the citizens of this community, at the court house this evening on matters of general interest to this neighborhood and Eastern Oregon. We hope there will be a good attendance and that the people will not hesitate to insist that Senator Dolph shall use all the efforts in his power to have the works at the Locks finished by contract. There is no room for any second opinion on this subject. In the event of their being finished by contract there would be some hope that the people of this section might, in the course of a few years, realize the benefits of an open river. If the contract system is not adopted it is really a matter of no concern to us whether any more appropriations are made or not, because none of us who have arrived at middle life, ever expect to see the work finished.

Some men's talent for discovery is altogether in the line of fault finding.

The Oregonian did some excellent figuring lately by which it was able to prove that the opening of the Columbia river would secure to Portlaud the great bulk of all the tonnage of Eastern Oregon and Washington. At the end of a somewhat lengthy article are found these significant words: "The upshot S. Pennoyer
G. W. McBride
Phillip Metschan

Completed at the Correction be completed at the Cascades; a portage road must be put in operation at The Dalles. And not to mince words about it Portland must take the lead in it.' That's the kind of talk we like, and if the Oregonian will only keep it up we'll soon get an open river.

> An interesting feature of the World's Fair will be a grand reunion of the Blue and the Gray. The plan is to build a large pavillion for the veterans of both armies and to have the war relics of all kinds stored in the building. The veterans are to camp in tents furnished by the war department, all camping together. The various states will be asked to furnish transportations for their own veterans. The government will be asked to furnish the rations, the Blue and Gray building is to be built by all the states combined and the reunion is to last from ten to thirty days.

Up to June 18th Mondy's warehouse in The Dalles had received 1,618,750 pounds of wool, and it is likely there had been an equal amount stored in the Wasco warehouse. By the middle of June little over one-half of the wool is delivered at The Dalles, so at a rough estimate, it is safe to say in the neighborhood of 5,000,000 pounds of wool will be shipped from The Dalles this season.—

The following statement from Mr. W B. Denny, a well known dairyman of New Lexington, Ohio, will be of interest to persons troubled with Rheumatism. He says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for nearly two years, four bottles in all, and there is nothing I have ever used that gave me as much relief for rheumatism. We always keep a bottle of it in the house." For sale by Snipes & Kinersly.

For sale, due east of the fair grounds, eight and a half lots, containing a good eight and a hair lots, containing a good dwelling-house, barn, and other buildings. The grounds are all set out in choice-bearing fruit trees, grapes and berries. Will be sold at a bargain if bought within the next two weeks, as I desire to leave the city.

There is a well to do young southern man in this city who lives in a handson residence not far from Central park, and who has among other valued po a family of seven children.

He had been "brought up" by an old ne gro "mammy" somewhere near Alexandria, Va., and when his wife suggested that another nurse be secured for the children his thoughts reverted to Aunt Maria. He decided to bring the old negress here, of the northern born young southrons, who were not familiar with the institutions of a bygone age, and who did not quite understand Aunt Maria's authority
The young man' has a telephone in his house, and as the old negress had never heard of that invention she looked upon it at first with wonder and then with suspi cion. The jingling bell, receiver and othe necessary adjuncts were more than Aunt Maria's mind could master. She would never go near "dat debbil's t'ing nohow."

Finally one day S. rang up from his of fice, and after a brief conversation request ed his wife to send the old woman to the telephone. A great deal of persuasion was required to make her consent, but she was finally induced to place the receiver at her ear and listen "Is that you. Aunt Maria?" inquired S

A Thrifty Invalid.

It appears that it is customary in Glas-gow to send carriages to George square, in the center of the city, for the convenience of business men attending funerals. On one occasion the undertaker, on getting into the last curriage, found it already occupied by a man in black, whom he recognized as having been present at several recent funerals

Desirous of knowing the identity of the gentleman whose circle appeared to be so frequently visited by the Destroying Angel, he said in an off handed manner: "I suppose, noo, ye wad ken the corpse!"

"A frien' o' the wife's, maybe?"

"Gned to the same kirk, likely?"

"A business frien', then?"

The undertaker's catechism and his pa-tience being by this time exhausted, he was about to express his astonishment at what could have brought the mourner to the funeral, when the latter vouchsafed this explanation

"Ye see, it's this way I baena been verra weel this while back, and the doctor advised me tae tak' carriage exerceese. This is the third time this week I has been to the Necropolis already "-London Tit-

What a Health Inspector Saw. What a Health Inspector Saw.

The health board has ordered its inspectors to see that the crowded fire escapes on Essex and Ludlow streets be, as a nautical person might say, cleared for action. Domestic implements, washtubs, groceries, etc., make these safeguards useless in case of a fire, and the fearful overcrowding in the buildings make the enforceing of the rule imperative. One of the ining in the buildings make the enforceing of the rule imperative. One of the inspectors told of a quarrel in one room, which wound up in a free fight. It seems that four families occupied a chamber 19x10 feet. Each had a corner, and each its separate oil stove and cuisine. The trouble was caused by one family taking

The Constitutions of New England. The constitutions of the six. New England states are comparatively short. They contain very little beyond the organic law. The limitations upon the power of the legislature are few, because those matters that most nearly concern the people and affect taxation are attended to in the town meeting. This supremacy of the town is preserved because the towns control the more numerous branch of the legislature.
