The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

Notice.

Persons leaving town for the springs, sea coast, or mountains can have THE DAILY CHRONICLE sent to them without extra cost by leaving orders at this office.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Is this hot enough for you? The merry-go-round has come to town.

Mr. E. E. Griffin of Dufur is in the city.

Salmon are running better today than usual.

Mr. H. Heisler of Dufur is visiting The Dalles.

Work on the Regulator is being pushed rapidly.

Mr. C. P. Balch of Dufur has gone to the coast for a trip.

Will Mrs. O'arr call at this office and get the watch that has been left here?

Mr. I. N. Sargent will go to Clatsop Beach in a day or two to catch a good cold.

Ice cream and croquet sociable at the grounds of Mr. McFarland on Friday evening.

About the only thing that a man wishes to wrap himself in these evenings is slumber.

Mr. A. H. Curtiss, of the Diamond roller mills, returned last night from a short trip to Portland.

Johnson & VanHoy of Klickitat are unloading a large steam traction engine and thresher to-day for that valley.

The Goldendale stage driver says the travel between that bright little suburban city and The Dalles is very light at present.

Messrs. Edwards and McDermott, U. S. steamboat inspectors, came up from Portland today and inspected the Regulator.

We are pleased to announce that deacon Roberts, who has been under the weather for a few days, is able to be around about his work again.

The bill posters for Forepaugh's circus have reached Portland. The show will be there in September. It will probably not stop at this city.

A marriage license was issued yesterday by our county clerk, Mr. Crossen, to Mr. John Quirk, aged 56, and Miss Laura E. Ramus, aged 16.

Mr. Adams and his clerk are busy invoicing the stock of Mr. H. Solomon's store. It is thought that there are goods enough in the establishment to pay all the debts.

Last Saturday was a red letter day in wool circles in The Dalles. About 500,000 pounds of wool changed hands at a valuation of $85,000. This was a fair day's work.

Mr. Eastman's team took a run down Second street at a lively rate today, and struck a post in front of the Washington market and then quit. No damage of any consequence was done.

This morning while some Chinamen were in bathing at the Rockfield cannery near this city, one of their number was drowned. The body was not found at the last report given.

Chrisman & Corson found a pair of baby shoes yesterday which had been dropped from a package in front of their store. The owner can have them by calling.

Chief Engineer Munger and George Brown had the engine out yesterday testing the city's hose under 180 pounds pressure. Only one section gave way which is pretty good for hose ten years old.

Rufus Wallis, Esq., of Wallace is in the city on business. Mr. Wallis reports the crops in Sherman county the best ever known in that county and predicts a clean million bushels of wheat this season as the output.

Some complaints is made of the boys who go in swimming between the R. R. bridges on Mill creek, for not wearing bathing suits. The boys will be more careful in the future no doubt. Put on your bathing suits, boys!

The many friends of Mr. W. H. Dunn will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly recovering from his illness. He has been a very sick man, but has taken a decided turn for the better, and his doctor is confident of his recovery.

The newly appointed president of Leland Stanford, Jr. University is a Congregationalist and will take an important part in the programme of the approaching meeting of the general association of Congregational churches in this state.

AN EXPLICIT DENIAL.

The Captain of C Company Makes a Brave Stand for his Boys.

THE DALLES, July 14, 1891. EDITOR CHRONICLE:—I find the following in the Hood River Glacier to which I would respectfully call your attention: "The Dalles seems to have considerable trouble in finding out why they did not have a sham battle. On the face of things it is apparent that the sham pain took its place, and the bottle is mightier than the battle. The majority of C company got drunk and the quelling of the disturbance by I and D companies, caused so much hard feeling that it was concluded best not to have the sham battle."

Members of C company are naturally indignant at what they consider a base slander on their good name. They are not a set of drunkards as the Glacier would have the public understand by the above publication. The members of the company rank as high as any set of young men in The Dalles and they object to the statement that they were drunk on the encampment grounds or anywhere else. My men are sober, industrious, and law observing and I wish to make an explicit denial of the charge of drunkenness on the occasion referred to. Persons who live here in The Dalles and personally know the members of C Company will bear me out in this assertion.

LEVI C. CHRISMAN, Capt. Co. C, 3d Reg., O. N. G.

ENDORSED BY PORTLAND.

The Dalles Portland and Astoria Navigation Company Will Receive Portland's Support.

PORTLAND, Or., July 14.—The meeting of the chamber of commerce last evening had several important matters brought before it. There was quite a large number in attendance and business was disposed of at a rapid rate. The committee on transportation reported that it had had a conference with The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Transportation company, who find that it is absolutely necessary for the success of their enterprise that the business men of the city subscribe $10,000 of the stock of the company. The committee indorses this enterprise and President Osborn recommends it to the favorable consideration of the mercantile community. On motion the report was adopted, and was directed that two members be appointed to assist the representatives of the company in securing subscriptions.

AN INDOREMENT.

The following resolution, introduced by John Gill, was adopted:

WHEREAS, The opening of the Columbia river is an object to which this chamber has pledged its allegiance; and

WHEREAS, The Columbia Railway & Navigation company is now in a position to enter into negotiations looking toward the completion of its already established railroad around the obstructions at the Dalles and Celilo, and also the building and equipping and operation of a complete line of steamboats between the city of Portland and the Inland Empire, tributary to the Columbia river; and

WHEREAS, The Columbia Railway & Transportation Company has signified its desire to submit to this Chamber of Commerce, and through it to the people of this city and the surrounding country, a definite proposition for the establishment of a complete system of transportation upon the Columbia river; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee consisting of Thomas F. Osborn, W. S. Mason, Ellis G. Hughes, Charles H. Dodd, and D. D. Oliphant be hereby appointed to confer as early as practicable with the officers of the said Columbia Railway & Navigation Company, and that said committee report the results of their conference to the next regular meeting of this body, or at a special meeting to be called for that purpose if it is thought necessary.

Wasco's New Paper.

County Clerk V. C. Brock of Wasco, Sherman county, paid the CHRONICLE a visit this morning, and supplied us with information in regard to the new paper which will be started soon at Moro. It will be called the Wasco News and will be edited by Mr. J. M. Cummins of Goldendale. A new plant has been purchased for the office and everything will be complete. Mr. Cummins is a writer of ability, and we have no doubt will publish a bright and new paper. The CHRONICLE wishes the News a long and prosperous career.

Wanted—100 ladies to buy a dress pattern at cost. A. M. Williams & Co.

A novel way of measuring bolted dry goods, which, if followed, will save lots of time for clerks, especially during invoicing season, is the following: Take half the circumference of the bolt and add to it the width of the board on which the goods are wrapped. Multiply this figure by the number of folds in the cloth, and divide that figure by thirty-six. The result will be the number of yards in the piece. One of our merchants put the plan to a practical test recently, and found it to be infallible in its correctness.

The announcement is made that J. M. Strange will begin the publication of a newspaper at Oakesdale, Wash., about the 22nd inst., to be called the Plaindealer. We wish the new institution success.

Children are a good deal like chickens. Give them plenty of range, clean food and plenty of water, and they will require very little doctoring.

The Town Talk says a man with $3,000,000 can build a railroad to Astoria. Then it proceeds to construct the man with the money.

The new city recorder, Mr. Frank Menefee, breaks into the harness in good shape, and can always be found at his office from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

ECHOES OF THE FOURTH.

The Committee Makes Note of a Handsome Turnout.

THE DALLES, Or., July 14, 1891. Ed. CHRONICLE: Mr. E. E. Lytle, the genial and accommodating agent for the Union Pacific at The Dalles, deserves the thanks both of the 4th of July Committee and of the citizens of The Dalles for his efforts in making the parade and celebration a complete success. The division of the parade representing the Union Pacific system was ingenious and unique; it reflected great credit on Mr. Lytle, at whose sole expense it was gotten up. This section represented the different advances made in the mode of crossing the continent.

First in line, drawn by two yoke of oxen, came the typical "prairie schooner," representing the immigrants of the days of '49, bound for Oregon, and and at last reaching their destination after a journey of more than six months. Next followed six horses pulling the stage coach of early days. Last, to show the perfection to which the U. P. has brought travelling, came a magnificently decorated drawing-room car, filled with handsome young ladies and gentlemen, who smiled on the applauding crowd.

While the procession passed through the streets, Mr. John Hampshire, the bright and obliging ticket agent for the Union Pacific, distributed among the throng folders descriptive of the U. P.

The exhibition furnished by Mr. Lytle won for him many friends among The Dalles people, and at the same time it was an excellent advertisement for the Union Pacific. The managers of that road can congratulate themselves on having in Mr. Lytle an efficient officer who will ever look after its interests.

FOURTH OF JULY COMMITTEE.

Now is the time to buy a dress, while you can get it at cost from A. M. Williams & Co.

A. O. U. W. Grand Lodge.

The thirteenth annual session of the grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia will commence tomorrow at Victoria, B. C. A very large attendance is expected. The fare for the round trip from Portland and return including railroad and steamer will be only $11.70, and it is probable that a number of the residents of The Dalles will avail themselves of the cheap excursion rates. Mr. John Fillion is delegate from Temple lodge No. 3, of this city and U. B. Perry, from Hood River, No. 63, both of whom will probably attend.

One of the most important matters will be the proposition to establish a separate grand lodge for Washington and British Columbia, the supreme lodge having at its session in Detroit last month left it optional with this grand lodge. British Columbia lodges were allowed to attach to the Washington grand lodge, or Ontario, just as they preferred. They will probably go with Washington, as they are nearer and better connected by lines of transportation.

State Directory—Caution.

Business men may save themselves a good deal of mortification if they will on their guard against any cheap directory scheme that demands pay in advance. That fake has been worked in the east and is always a disappointment. Either the book never comes or it so incomplete as to be worse than none. R. L. Polk & Co., of Portland, Oregon have been publishing biennially, since 1884, their well known Oregon, Washington and Idaho gazetteer and business directory. It is a standard publication of rare merit and should be heartily supported. It is issued at $5.00, a price that insures a thoroughly accurate book, and the publishers exhibit their confidence in their own work by not asking "pay in advance." People are further warned not to believe in the falsehoods of canvassers for bogus publication, who say Polk & Co., have retired from the field. They now have their next Oregon, Washington and Idaho book in active preparation, and will be here long after these piratical schemes are dead and are forgotten.

Some years ago an orchardist in Maine put up a number of barrels of choice apples very carefully, placed in each his name and address, with a request that the purchaser, whoever he might be, would inform him that the fruit arrived in good condition, and forwarded the lot to a Liverpool merchant. In the due course of time he received replies expressing satisfaction and wanting more of the same sort. This was the beginning of a lucrative business, which the orchardist was wise enough to foster by sending out only first-class fruit. Colonel Pell, of Pelham, N. Y., built up a fine trade in England with his famous Newton pippins, which he had carefully picked, assorted and wrapped in tissue paper before packing. High prices and a steady demand rewarded this painstaking care. Joles Bros., of this city will ship a great deal of fruit this fall and will pack the most of it in paper.

MARRIED.

OF MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN.

Prof. E. L. Shuey, Dayton, Ohio.

DEAR SIR:—Replying to your request for a statement of the facts concerning my experience with the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York in their late settlement with me, I would state that in the early part of 1881, my age being 56 years, I took out a Ten-Payment Life Policy in the amount of $7,512.00. The Ten-Payment Plan, for $40,000. My premiums during the period amounted to $7,512.00. The Ten-Payment period expired early in January of the present year, and the Company then offered me the following terms of settlement:

FIRST—A paid up policy for $40,000.00. And cash $7,512.00.

SECOND—A paid up policy for $40,000.00. THIRD—Surrender my policy, and receive in cash $6,496.80.

I was so little satisfied with the results of my investment that I chose the third, cash, proposition, but when I so decided, the company, through several of its representatives, induced me to take one of the other forms of settlement, but finding that I was determined to surrender the policy and take the cash, they finally instructed me from the home office to send policy and receipt for the amount, $7,512.00, to their State manager in Cleveland, and he would remit me the amount. I followed their instructions and sent the policy and receipt through my bank in Springfield to our correspondent in Cleveland, only to have it returned from the Cleveland Bank with the information that the State manager of the Equitable states that he "had not sufficient funds to meet it." This forced me to return it to the New York office, and compelled me to wait some twenty days after maturity before receiving final settlement.

I have given no statement endorsing the Equitable, or expressing my satisfaction with their settlement with me. On the other hand I have positively refused to do so. The fact that my return was $1,015.20 less than my total investment renders further comment unnecessary.

During the time I carried the Equitable policy and up to the day when they submitted the above proposition to me, I was kept in total ignorance of the condition of my investment.

In marked contrast with this has been my experience with the Northwestern, in which in 1882, I took a Ten-Year Endowment Policy, Ten-Year Tontine, for $10,000, that company having from time to time furnished me with a memorandum of the surplus on my policy over the signature of their actuary; so that while my policy has not yet matured, and will not until next year, I have the satisfaction of knowing that at maturity it will net me from $4,000 to $5,000 more than the face of the policy calls for.

Very truly yours, ROSS MITCHELL.
