Lieut. Thomas Thompson of Cleveland, Ohio, desiring to learn something of Oregon, has become a subscriber to the CHRONICLE.

Portland is becoming overstocked with peaches. They are selling there at from 40 to 50 cents per box. The last ocean steamer brought a lot of muskmelons from California, which sell for $3.00 per dozen.

There was a fair attendance at the Christian Endeavor social at Mr. McFarland's last night. The guitar club favored those assembled with some choice music, which was the only noticeable feature of the evening.

Mr. Farley, superintendent of construction of the Cascade Portage road, came up from the Cascades today and says his force is getting along well with the work and that the road will be finished and ready for the rolling stock as soon as it arrives.

The Wasco base ball nine have some professional players in it and confidently expects to carry off the honors today; but The Dalles boys intend to make it very lively for their visitors and will put up good ball.

Mr. Riddell tells the CHRONICLE that at his place on Five Mile they were favored with a fine rain last night. He says that he never saw it rain so hard in Oregon. It is Mr. Riddell's opinion that the storm extended into Sherman county, as it was moving rapidly east.

Col. E. W. Nevius, of The Dalles, was in the city this week looking after the interests of his clients in the case of Barkers vs. Berry, now being heard before U. S. Land Commissioner, W. R. Dunbar.—Goldendale Sentinel.

Last night the heavens were lit up by a magnificent electric display. The lightning was quite vivid followed by loud resounding thunder. Only a few drops of rain fell in the city, but it rained in Sherman and a severe hail storm visited Klickitat county.

About 10:30 a. m. last Friday it began to rain in this section. The showers were copious and quite frequent for twenty-four hours. It has freshened things up nicely, washing the dust off of things and making the roads delightful. The value of the rain to the growing crops cannot be stated in round numbers. All fears of a shortage in grain are dispelled, and everybody is happy, healthy and busy.—Goldendale Sentinel.

Death of Mr. Adams.

Just as we go to press we learn that Mr. Chas. Adams died at 1:10 p. m. at the family residence. He died surrounded by his family, as he has been near death's door for some days. Full particulars will be given in Monday's issue. The funeral will take place from the house Monday forenoon at 10 o'clock. Friends of the family are invited to attend. He was aged seventy-three years and six months.

WANT QUIET SUNDAYS.

The W. C. T. U. of the City Commence Agitation of the Subject.

With the thermometer well up in the nineties, and a scorching westerly wind adding its mite to the general discomfort of the people, the members of The Dalles branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union yesterday afternoon found it hard work to hold a meeting and discuss ways and means of securing better Sabbath observance. The meeting was held in the Methodist church at 3 o'clock, but at that hour there were less than a score of ladies present, while aside from the pastor of the church, mankind interested in the silent Sunday system found Thomas Hodson its only representative. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Smith French, who, after the usual preliminary exercises of such meetings were concluded, announced to the gathered few the object of the meeting. She said: The Women's Christian Temperance Union was seeking to secure throughout the country a better Sunday observance and in common with the other branches of the organization, the members at The Dalles would engage in an effort to secure such a blessing for this city. The movement was not directed against saloons alone but every place in the city where business was in any way conducted on the Sabbath. Even the Chinese laundries must be closed and the bias-eyed heathens must not be gatherers of soiled linen on that holy day. Several years ago the ladies of the city took it upon themselves to secure such a measure and as a result presented to the council a petition signed by several hundred citizens, but the document was laid upon the table until finally pigeon-holed and nothing more was heard of it. Now the second attempt was to be made and the fact that the first name on the petition of years ago was Robert Mays, our present mayor, gives us considerable encouragement to again go to work for a quiet, orderly Sabbath. Now that Spokane, Walla Walla, Tacoma and other places have started a Sabbath reform it seems to be becoming a fashion and this may have the effect of reaching the hearts of the men.

Rev. Mr. Brown was called upon to express his views and aiming his rhetorical carbine point blank at the saloon target made the conduct of that particular business on Sunday his particular grievance, and he thought that maybe the saloon men might be persuaded to close up their saloons voluntarily and be lawkeepers instead of lawbreakers, but if not, they ought to be taught their places and made to observe the Sabbath day. Mr. Thomas Hosen was next called upon to say something and in response gave the ladies some excellent advice based upon the old maxim of Davy Crockett of "First be sure you are right, then go ahead." He was in favor of having a good, clean Sunday but there was no use of rushing headlong into the fray until the plan of campaign had been fully arranged. He was in favor of continual agitation of the subject—take the question into politics if necessary—but at all times keep up the agitation for out of that comes education and the moulding of a public opinion that would bring strong moral support to the movement. None others present seeming inclined to talk; the members of the union passed a resolution asking the pastors of the several churches in the city to bring the matter before their congregations next Sunday and awaken an interest in the work. Another public meeting will be held next Friday at the Methodist church for further discussion of the subject.

Our Wamie Letter.

WAMIC, July 15, 1891.

EDITOR CHRONICLE: Wamie is waking up. Harvest has commenced, and as crops are very good, every one is in good spirits. We had a nice shower of rain last week, and the weather has been very warm since.

Mr. A. J. Swift has for some time been training a horse for a grand race, to be run on his track. As horse-racing is more important and much better employment than good farming, his crop is likely to suffer.

Several families went from here to the celebration at Cinemash on the Fourth. All had a nice time, and came home happy.

Civilization is making a great change in the Indians. Long may religion and education continue their good work.

Oregon Pharmaceutical Association.

From president George Blakely we learn that the pharmaceutical association is rapidly becoming a powerful and useful institution. It is estimated that there are about 320 competent druggists in Oregon, and at the meeting in Portland for the present fiscal year there were 250 of them represented. Since that time there has been many applications for certificates. Yesterday President Blakely received 96 certificates from the secretary for his signature. This would indicate that nearly every druggist in the state has thought best to obey the law and join the society. The next meeting of the association will take place at Salem, about the first week in June, 1892.

Did Not Sell His Wool.

Mr. Patterson returned from The Dalles on Tuesday's stage, without having sold his wool. The highest offer he had was 14 1/2 cents, and that not being satisfactory, he left the wool in Mr. Moody's hands, authorizing him to sell at 15 cents.—Wasco Observer.

What a pity Mr. Patterson could not have met Mr. Shearer and got 17 1/2 cents for his clip. ED. CHRONICLE.

The mayor of Salem, P. H. D'Arcy, was in San Francisco during the past week and was interviewed by an Examiner reporter, to whom he said: "The people are fast coming our way, and democrats in all parts of the state seem full of confidence. Governor Penoyer is making himself very popular—and deservedly so, in my opinion. The incident that occurred just before the presidential reception in our city did not hurt him a bit, although I believe he is now very sorry it occurred. When the president got well acquainted with the governor he liked him very much, and they parted the best of friends."

Peter Agedus Sr. one of our most prosperous farmers, is building a silo, for carrying his corn crop. This is the result of an experiment made a couple of years since, the same proving entirely satisfactory.—Goldendale Sentinel.

The Northwestern Life Insurance Co., OF MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN.

Assets over $42,000,000.00. Surplus over $6,500,000.00.

LAGONDA HEIGHTS, SPRINGFIELD, O., June 15, 1891.

Prof. E. L. Shney, Dayton, Ohio. DEAR SIR:—Replying to your request for a statement of the facts concerning my experience with the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York in their late settlement with me, I would state that in the early part of 1881, my age being 56 years, I took out a Ten-Payment Life Policy in the amount of $25,000.00. The first premium was paid in January of the present year, and the Company then offered me the following terms of settlement:

FIRST—A paid up policy for $40,000.00. SECOND—A paid up policy for $4,500.00. THIRD—Surrender my policy, and receive in cash $6,000.00.

I was so little satisfied with the results of my investment that I chose the third, cash proposition, but when I so decided, the company, through several of its representatives, labored to induce me to take one of the other forms of settlement, but finding that I was determined to surrender the policy and take the cash, they finally instructed me from the home office to send policy and receipt for the amount, $26,498.50, to their State manager in Cleveland, and he would remit me the amount. I followed their instructions and sent the policy and receipt through my bank in Springfield to one correspondent in Cleveland, only to have it returned from the Cleveland Bank with the information that the State manager of the Equitable states that he "had not sufficient funds to meet it." This forced me to return it to the New York office, and compelled me to wait some twenty days after maturity before receiving final settlement.

I have given no statement endorsing the Equitable, or expressing my satisfaction with their settlement with me. On the other hand I have positively refused to do so. The fact that my returns were $1,015.20 less than my total investment renders further comment unnecessary. During the time I carried the Equitable policy and up to the day when they submitted the above proposition to me, I was kept in total ignorance of the condition of my investment.

I marked contrast with this has been my experience with the Northwestern, in which in 1882, I took a Ten-Year Endowment Policy, Ten-Year Term, for $10,000, that company having from time to time furnished me with a memorandum of the surplus on my policy over the signature of their actuary; so that while my policy has not yet matured, and will not until next year, I have the satisfaction of knowing that at maturity it will net me from $4,000 to $5,000 more than the face of the policy calls for. Very truly yours, ROSS MITCHELL.
