TO HOLD THEIR WHEAT

Farmers to Organize and by Holding Back their Wheat Get a Corner on the Market.

A Destructive Hail Storm—Jim Hill's Assistant to Quit—Condition of the San Francisco Wool Market.

St. Paul, Minn., July 23.—St. Paul has been made the headquarters of the national movement by the united farmers' alliance to corner the entire wheat of the country.

The plan is to unite all farmers in a gigantic wheat trust in which the producers shall be stockholders and by which speculators and wheat buyers will be squeezed to the wall.

The wheat crop of the United States for 1891 is estimated at 500,000,000 bushels. Promoters of the farmers trust believe that four-fifths of this can be held back by the farmers from four to eight weeks by which it is thought that prices will have gone skyward.

A correspondent sends us a copy of a letter written by an English sailor on his return from an India voyage. It is dated "Warren Hastings, East India, off Gravesend, March 14, 1813."

"DEAR BROTHER TOM, This cums hoppin' to find you in good health, as it leaves me safe anchor'd here yesterday after a pleasant voyage, tolerable short and few squalls.

"Dear Tom—Hopes to find poor old father stout, and am quite out of pigtail. Sights of pigtail at Gravesend, but unfortunately not fit for a dog to chor.

"Dear Tom—Captain's boy will bring you this, and put pigtail in his pocket when bort. Best in Lunnon at the black boy in seven diles, where go aaks for the best pigtail, pound pigtail will do and am short of shirts, only took two whereof one is wore out, and t'other most, but don't forget the pigtail, as I 'aven't 'ad a quid to chor since a Thursday.

"Dear Tom—as for shirts, yer size will do only longer, I like 'em long—get one at present—best a Tower Hill and cheap —But be particler to go to 7 diles at the black boy for the pigtail, and dear Tom—acks for pound best pigtail, and let it be good—captain's boy will put the pigtail in his pocket Boy likes pigtail so ty it up strong.

"But dear tom, shall be up on Monday, there or thereabouts—according not so particler about the shirt, as the present can be washed, but don't forget the pigtail without fail, and so am your loving brother. T. P.

"P. S.—be sure you dont forget the PIGTAIL."

A Boston newspaper reports an amusing scene in an open horse-car. The conductor had collected his fares and returned to his station upon the rear platform, when one of the passengers left his seat and took another nearer the front.

The conductor, meantime, was presumably on the lookout for passengers, and when his gaze reverted to the car he saw, as he thought, a new man in one of the forward seats. He proceeded at once to collect the fare, and tapped the gentleman courteously on the shoulder.

"The gentleman at once put his hand into his pocket and offered the conductor a coin. "This is a one-cent piece," said the official.

"Yes," answered the passenger, "I know it. I paid my fare when I was in the other seat. This time I supposed you were taking up a collection."—Youth's Companion.
