THE ONLY ONE HANGED.

The Last One of a Noted Lot of Murderers Meets His Death on the Scaffold.

HOUSTON, Tex., July 31.—Williams, a colored man was hanged today at the county jail. The crime for which Williams was executed was the killing of Dr. S. A. Shambler on the night of July 31st, 1888. His was the first murder that became a notable vendetta between what was here known as the "Jolly Biry" and "Woodpecker" factions in Fort Bend county.

THE SALMON CATCH.

Fishermen Estimate That It Will Not be as Light as Anticipated.

ASTORIA, July 29.—The heavy shortage in the 1891 salmon pack bids fair to be much less than has been predicted, and if the August catch comes anywhere near that of the past ten days the pack will be about the same as last year. Cannerymen estimate the pack at the present time at from 20,000 to 60,000 cases short of that of a corresponding period last season.

HIS SENTENCE COMMUTED.

The Coast of Refining Sugar. BOSTON, July 26.—A former refiner of sugar in Boston estimates that the American Sugar Refining company is today conducting operations upon such an extensive scale and with such an economy, impossible under the old system of individual refineries.

A Mother's Attraction. "The most-to-be-regretted act of my life," says a commander in the navy, "was a letter which I wrote home to my mother when I was about seventeen years of age. She always addressed her letters to me 'my dear boy.' I felt at the time that I was a man or very near it; and I wrote saying that her constant addressing me as a 'boy' made me feel displeased. I received in reply a letter full of reproaches and tears.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN CONSPIRACY.

The Czar's Death and a Constitutional Monarchy Its Object.

LONDON, July 29.—A Geneva paper says the St. Petersburg police recently arrested twenty-six officers, connected with a conspiracy to kill the czar and force the czarowitz to establish a constitutional monarchy.

A Desperate Way to Raise Money.

"About the most desperate thing I ever heard of in the way of money raising came to my professional notice some years ago," said a detective to me. "Complaint was made at the office that a diamond stud, valued at over a thousand dollars, had been stolen from a certain up town house.

"The owners proved property and the brilliant was returned to them. It represented at this stage a clear gain for the rascal and a dead loss for the pawnbroker.

"It was not long before we had our man, though, and then there was prompt conviction, a sentence of one year in the Elmira reformatory and a vain search for the owners of the property.

"The matter dropped from my mind in the rush of other business, until one day I learned the secret of the whole operation. The theft had been the deed of the son of the 'robbed' family. They were sorely in need of money, and had resorted to this way of getting it. When called on to reimburse the luckless pawnbroker they were apparently penniless. The thief had then gone free, and all the parties interested had dropped from sight. 'That fellow was paid, or rather paid himself, at the rate of three dollars per day during his stay in Elmira.'—New York Herald.
