

The Dalles Daily Chronicle. SATURDAY, AUGUST 1, 1891

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Merry-go-round is now in Baker City.

Mr. J. M. Cummins, the editor of the Wasco News gave the CHRONICLE office a pleasant call today.

It is estimated that the late hot spell injured grain in Sherman county as much as twenty to twenty-five per cent.

Hon. O. M. Scott has resigned the county judgeship of Sherman county. The governor has not yet appointed his successor.

The gentlemen bicyclists of this city will meet tomorrow in front of J. O. Mack's at the hour of 4 p. m. in order to be photographed.

The wife and daughter of Mr. William Alexander of Wapinitia arrived in this city two days ago from Missouri and left this morning for Wapinitia.

The state fair prizes have been increased all round, and $15,000 in premiums will be offered. The fair opens September 14th and continues one week.

It is expected that the 2nd regiment O. N. G. will go into camp for three days at the state fair. It is said the boys are anxious for it and want further instruction.

The first number of the Wasco News has come to hand. It is a bright, clean, newsy sheet and we heartily wish it success. There is plenty of room for us all, and some of us have come to stay, whether or no.

We were pleased to see Will Grunow on our streets yesterday for the first time since his collision with the "drum major." Will now navigates on crutches but thinks the bicycle a good thing yet.

The Wasco News announces that Sherman county is going to have a railroad from some point on the Columbia river (Biggs is suggested) up Spanish Hollow, through the town of Wasco thence south through Grass Valley and thence to the Fossil coal fields.

Mrs. G. B. Simpson, youngest daughter of Mr. Joseph Beezeley of this city, left this morning for her new home in Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Simpson will stop at Newbridge, in this state, to visit her brother and will be met at Denver by her husband.

A subscriber to a paper published across the river, thinking that the editor had too many flies on him, lately made him a present of a horned toad. The fun of the thing is, the editor publishes a notice of the present in the local columns and failed to see the joke played on him.

This is the first day of the long month of August, the month so characteristically described by Pat when he said, "Six weeks and thirteen days, in the long month of August, did I lie on the broad of my back, wad a faver, spachless, and all my cry was, 'wather, wather.'"

Neabock & Watson, who have the contract for hauling the city water pipes, complain that the railroad company load it on box cars, which makes it very hard to get at, this causing a great deal of unnecessary labor for the contractors. They have already hauled four loads and have eight more loads yet to deliver.

Mr. G. W. Ingalls brought up to this city yesterday, from the fruit ranch of Mr. Absten on the Columbia river, near Hood River, a few samples of the handsomest apples we have ever looked on. They are of the "Belle of the Season" variety and were raised by Mr. Absten whose ranch is offered for sale in another column.

Henry Clews of New York estimates the value of the present wheat crop of the United States at 540 million dollars. That sum would give the six million persons engaged in agricultural pursuits a per capita of $90 for each man, woman and child and that is a kind of per capita that beats the inflation scheme out of sight.

It is estimated that Sherman county will raise a million bushels of wheat this year. If we had railroad connection with Sherman county every pound of their surplus would come this way for shipment to Portland and Astoria. A road on this side too, would mean the handling of this surplus one time less than if it had to be ferried across the river to Columbus.

Mr. Joe Trippier of Wapinitia came into the city yesterday and left for home this morning. He informs us that by the last of next week he intends to start by the Barlow road for Portland with four head of thoroughbred running horses and twelve head of thoroughbred Devon cattle. He intends to make the circuit of the different fairs and races and return here in time to exhibit at our district fair. Mr. Trippier makes a business of raising thoroughbred horses and cattle. He has a herd of thirty-eight Devons that would be hard to beat anywhere, and a band of thoroughbred horses. Mr. Trippier brought all his original stock from Missouri, his former state, and we are pleased to learn is making the business of raising fine stock here a success.

Miss Grace Crandall is at Yaquina in company with Mrs. W. H. Wilson.

The sad and melancholy look that has marked the features of M. Randall since Joe McEachern left town has now given place to one of placid calm and joyousness since Joe came back.

Hon. D. J. Cooper came up today from Oregon City where he has been engaged examining swamp land selections in the Oregon City land district. He will return to his work Monday morning.

On account of the illness of the gentleman who intended to officiate at the Congregational church tomorrow morning there will be no preaching service at that place. Sabbath school and Christian Endeavor services will be held the same as usual.

Mr. H. O'Neil of Nansene is in the city. Mr. O'Neil thinks that the crops on Tygl Ridge were not greatly injured by the late hot spell, and believes that that region will yet produce a fine crop. He says late grain looks much better since it has become cooler.

Teachers will bear in mind that the time for holding the quarterly examinations has been changed from the last Wednesday to the second Wednesday in each quarter. The examination, therefore, for this quarter will begin August 12th.

The number of sheep in Eastern Oregon is estimated at a million and a half and the wool clip for the season of 1890 is estimated at 8,978,123. The general average price was 14 cents which amounts to $1,214,937.23. The sheep themselves represent an estimated value of $3,750,000.

Mr. G. J. Farley came up from the Lucks last night and will return this evening. He informs us that the portage is so far finished that freight could be hauled over it if the boats were running, and the "donkey" locomotives had not been destroyed. What work remains to be done is at the west end of the track and will not be finished till a lower stage of water is reached.

Mr. Zene Moody has been appointed by the United States government to a situation in the Portland custom house. Mr. W. H. Moody has been appointed by the same authority, fish reporter for the Columbia river at a salary of $3.50 per day, and ex-Governor Moody, we are informed, will be appointed, within the next sixty days to a government office, in connection with swamp land matters. The CHRONICLE extends congratulations. Now let us have peace.

According to the statement of Colonel Houghton in another place the third regiment is out of pocket seventeen dollars for the rent of the camp ground at the Dalles. He received from the Fourth of July committee $105, and from the third regiment committee $178, making a total of $283, and paid for rent $200, leaving a deficit of $17 which the regiment had to pay. The Col. makes the statement merely to correct the impression that the rent of the camp ground was paid by the Fourth of July committee, whereas $105 was all the cash he received. The Colonel makes this statement not to find fault with anybody or anything but to present the naked facts.

Young Wah or Ah Ame—that is the Chinaman who was charged with the assault on the Earl of Taffe, had his examination before Justice Schutz yesterday afternoon. Both Mr. Taffe and his foreman swore that the Chinaman had committed an assault, both with two rocks, which were produced in court, and with a large butcher knife. When the Chinaman was put on the stand he swore that he "never did nothing." The rocks he had never seen and the butcher knife he "no saved." This left the justice no other alternative but to believe, either the Chinaman or the united testimony of Mr. Taffe and his foreman. The Chinaman had evidently overdone the job. Had he owned up, like a man, that he used the rocks and knife to defend himself he might have been now free. Mr. Taffe acknowledged that he had used him roughly when he took the rocks from him: but the fatuity of all liars clung to the Chinaman, and Justice Schutz could do nothing less than bind him over to appear before the grand jury, in the sum of $250. The Chinaman was committed to the county jail in default of bail.

We are requested to call the attention of the people of The Dalles to the condition of the western approach to the new bridge between this and Sherman county. It is well known that a water spout fell at that place which destroyed so much of the road that the lessee Mr. Harris, has spent, it is said, $500 of his own money, and Sherman county has given $200 to repair the damage. The most of the work has been done on the other side of the river but the approach on this side is still in a fearful condition. As Sherman county has contributed $200 Wasco cannot afford to do less and really ought to do more, if necessary. Something ought to be done immediately else a good deal of trade will be cut off from this city and the people of Sherman will be very greatly inconvenienced. As a matter of fact the county judge is powerless to do anything before the next session of the county court. What the people ought to do is to get up a petition and have it ready for presentation when the court meets, asking for the sum required, and we have not a doubt that the commissioners will respond liberally.

The Moonlight Excursion. EDITOR CHRONICLE—I am not much of a scribe but if you will allow me space I would like to say a few words with regard to the excursion on the D. S. Baker as described by our friend the Times-Mountaineer. We take a newspaper to get the true news and when a paper tries to gull the people with such a false representation as we got of our trip to Hood River in Friday's edition, it looks like it would sell itself pretty cheap.

Now I was there and never saw moon or moonlight and it was so dark that coming up the track from the wharf I could not see to keep my toes from stumbling. As to dancing, there were a few waltzes a good while after we turned at Hood River and these were under such difficulties, dodging around pillars and confined to such small space down in the hold, that it was soon abandoned and all came up on deck to growl and wish they had not come and that all such excursions were in Hong Kong. I think a party that will help to deceive people and get their hard earned money by a fake ought to be "sat down on."

Timing One's Turns. When Captain Duncan Knock asked Jennie Deanes the secret of her housekeeping, remarking that the fairies must help her, for the house was always clean, yet he never saw her with a broom in her hand, she modestly answered, "Much might be done by timing one's turns." We have all seen such households where the mistress was always ready to receive her friends and her business friends; where everything seemed to move by some unseen rhythm. The secret certainly lies in perfect system, in "timing one's turns," doing the routine work of the house or seeing that it is done on exactly the same day and time of the day each week, and in training the servants to work so methodically that they always know what is expected of them. It is a fatal mistake to call servants away from their regular work and send them off on all sorts of spasmodic errands at any time of the day. It takes time to pick up the threads of a piece of work which has been dropped, and work that is done by piecemeal is never well done.

If housewives were more methodical in their ways of laying out their servants' work for each day, and in adhering to it, there would be less trouble with servants. It is a noteworthy fact that servants remain the longest in families where the work is the most exacting and is done in the most methodical manner.—Exchange.

Are You Astigmatic? Do I think that the use of glasses is on the increase? I do. There are people wearing glasses today who have no business to wear them, and there are people who ought to wear glasses who will not. There are many who are astigmatic who do not know it. Astigmatism is an ocular defect that is very prevalent. When you see a man cast his head to one side while he reads a sign or close one eye to see an object more clearly, that person is astigmatic, although he may know nothing about it.

Astigmatism is not troublesome as a rule, but in many cases it is annoying, and the defects in the curvatures of the pupils should be corrected with lenses ground specially to fit each individual case. Some persons think if they do not need glasses they cannot wear them without suffering. That is not the case. The wearing of glasses is just like wearing a ring or a watch. You soon get used to the sensation.—Chicago Tribune.

Prof. E. L. Shuey, Dayton, Ohio. LAGODA HEIGHTS, SPRINGFIELD, O., June 16, 1891.

DEAR SIR:—Replying to your request for a statement of the facts concerning my experience with the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York in their late settlement with me, I would state that in the early part of 1881, my age being 56 years, I took out a Ten-Payment Life Policy in the Equitable upon their Ten-Year Tontine Plan, for $40,000. My premiums during the period Company then offered me the following terms of settlement:

FIRST—A paid up policy for $40,000.00 And cash 9,751.00 SECOND—A paid up policy for 51,600.00 And cash 36,496.80 THIRD—Surrender my policy, and receive in cash $10,000.00

I was so little satisfied with the results of my investment that I chose the third, cash, proposition, but when I so decided, the company, through several of its representatives, labored to induce me to take one of the other forms of settlement, but finding that I was determined to surrender the policy and take the cash, they finally instructed me from the home office to send policy and receipts for the amount, $36,496.80, to their State manager in Cleveland, and he would remit me the amount. I followed their instructions and sent the policy and receipts from the Cleveland Bank with the information correspondent in Cleveland, only to have it returned from my bank in Springfield to our State manager of the Equitable states that he "had not sufficient funds to meet it." This forced me to return it to the New York office, and compelled me to wait some twenty days after maturity before receiving final settlement.

I have given no statement endorsing the Equitable, or expressing my satisfaction with their settlement with me. On the other hand I have positively refused to do so. The fact that my returns were $1,015.20 less than my total investment renders further comment unnecessary.

During the time I carried the Equitable policy and up to the day when they submitted the above proposition to me, I was kept in total ignorance of the condition of my investment. In marked contrast with this has been my experience with the Northwestern, in which in 1882, I took a Ten-Year Endowment Policy, Ten-Year Tontine, for $10,000, that company having from their actuary, so that while my policy has not yet matured, and will not until next year, I have the satisfaction of knowing that at maturity it will net me from $1,000 to $5,000 more than the face of the policy calls for.

Very truly yours, ROSS MITCHELL. We have thousands of comparisons with all the leading Life Insurance Companies of the United States. Full information furnished upon application to T. A. HUDSON, Associate General Agent. JOHN A. REINHARDT, Special Agent, The Dalles, Oregon.
