FOUGHT TO THE DEATH.

Newton Baker, Col. Ingersoll's Private Secretary, Fatally Shot.

CROTON LANDING, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Newton Baker, private secretary of Col. R. G. Ingersoll, was fatally shot four times by Orville Anderson, late New York agent of the Louisville gas company, tonight. Anderson and family reside in the Moody homestead, and sub-let a part of the house to Baker and wife. The two families never agreed and there were frequent quarrels between the women of the house. Sometime ago these became so serious that Anderson and Baker took up the quarrel, and often had hot disputes over the matter. The trouble became more serious every day, until each threatened the other's life. The threats culminated tonight in one of the most thrilling duels and tragedies that ever occurred here. Baker and Anderson were attempting to adjust their difficulties. Mrs. Baker came to where they were talking and told her husband that Anderson, in his (Baker's) absence, had been behaving in an ungentlemanly manner to her, in having laughed sarcastically at her. Baker said to Anderson: "That was an insult to my wife, and I cannot allow it." Both drew revolvers. Mrs. Baker sprang between them, but swooned. The men clinched. After a short struggle, Anderson broke away and shot Baker four times, mortally wounding him. He then coolly walked home, where he was arrested afterwards.

AN ANCIENT RELIC.

The Garment Supposed to Have Been Worn by the Savior to be Exhibited. TRIER, Aug. 1.—The holy coat of Trier, the garment supposed to have been worn by our Savior, will be exhibited at the cathedral here for six weeks, commencing August 18. Fully 2,000,000 pilgrims are expected to visit Trier during that time. The relic is said to have been given as a present to the bishopric of Trier by St. Helen, mother of the emperor Constantine, upon the latter's conversion to Christianity. The robe itself is tunic, about five feet long, cut narrow at the shoulder, and gradually widening toward the knees. It is woven out of one piece without any seam. The material is supposed to have been linen, but great age prevents an exact examination. It is enclosed in an outwearing of purple and gold cloth, supposed to have been added some time in the seventh century in order to preserve the relic.

A Candidate for Governor.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 1.—Major McKinley arrived here yesterday afternoon, coming directly from Lakeside, Ottawa county, where he addressed a farmers' picnic. In an interview he said he felt confident of his election and took occasion to say that he was in no sense a candidate for United States senator. He is a candidate for governor alone, and wants that distinctly understood. He held a long conference with Chairman Hahn, of the republican state committee and afterwards stated that the idea of opening the campaign at Hamilton, Campbell's old home, had been abandoned and that he would make his first speech somewhere in the western reserve. To a reporter he said:

I shall certainly be elected; there is no doubt of it. How large my majority will be it is too early to say. This independent republican movement in Hamilton county is only a local affair, while a county ticket has been nominated all the republicans there will support our state ticket, and it will carry that county sure.

A Fish Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Frac Pino, Pietro Motline and Joseph Courplani, fisherman, tell a remarkable story of their encounter with a huge swordfish today. They were engaged in fishing near Point Reyes when a swordfish attacked them. They beat the fish off twice with a harpoon and a boathook. The swordfish finally ran its sword through the bottom of the boat and through Pino's leg, terribly lacerating it. The boat began to fill with water, but they pulled into shallow water, while the swordfish disappeared.

TERRIBLE MASSACRE.

One Hundred and Fifty Men, Women and Children Were Slaughtered in a Small Village in Paraguay.

The Blood Thirsty Brutes Celebrate the Occasion by Wild Orgies—Bandit Bentz at the Head of it all.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The morning papers says, "Harrowing details of a terrible massacre of inoffensive residents of an isolated village in Paraguay, by half savage natives reached this city by mail. According to advices 150 men, women and children were slaughtered, and then the butchers celebrated their victory in wild orgies. The affair occurred on the night of March 10th, and the news was delayed in reaching here by the lack of facilities for communication. The attacking band was headed by the notorious Bandit Bentz and numbered about fifty men.

AN ADDRESS BY INGALLS.

Upon the Social and Political Problems of the Present Century.

PORT RICHMOND, S. I., Aug. 1.—Ex-Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, addressed a large audience at Prohibition park today on "The social and political problems of the present century." Among other things he said:

"The liquor question and the best way to deal with it, is one of the greatest problems of the times. I am a resident of one of the greatest prohibition states and am a prohibitionist myself in practice. I only take a drink when I want it, which is not very often. In Kansas the people have been wrestling with the liquor question for the past ten years, yet there is not a town in the state where a man cannot get liquor when he wants it. More than $900,000,000 are spent in the United States for liquor every year, more than is expended for bread and meat and public education together. In this country every man should be entitled to a vote and have it honestly counted. The people are the rulers and every man should be a politician, and woman too. The republic as a whole has been tolerably successful, but from what I have heard and seen within the last fifteen years it is still on trial. I believe the socialist is right, but I quarrel with his methods. It is no wonder men revolt when the great mass of the American people have before them continuous toil, with no prospect but mendacity for old age. The tyrant of wealth is more fatal than the despotism of kings. I have been often asked to suggest a remedy, but I have none. Mine is but a voice crying in the wilderness.

SUMMONED TO ARMS.

An Attempt by Speculators to Bring About a Decline in Securities.

BARCELONA, Aug. 3.—Great excitement was caused in this city last night by what was for a time believed to be a revolutionary movement by the republican party, but which subsequently proved to be a desperate attempt upon the party of certain speculators on the bourse to bring about a decline in the prices of securities. A band of 150 men armed with rifles and revolvers, slyly approached the buildings and attempted to surprise the guards, it being their intention to force their way into the barracks. For a short time a regular battle was fought and a number on both sides wounded. In the meantime the officers stationed at the barracks summoned the troops to arms and in a very short time the attacking party surrendered and the whole party placed under arrest. They will be tried by court martial and the chances are they all will be shot.

$1,000,000 IN SMOKE.

A Chicago Dry Goods Store Destroyed by Fire—Covered by Insurance.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—A fire involving losses estimated to be at least $1,000,000, broke out this morning in the large retail dry goods store of Siegle, Cooper & Co. About twenty-five employees were in the building at the time, but all of them, as far as known, managed to escape uninjured, except one cash boy who was on the third floor. He started to come down the fire escape but fell, receiving severe injuries. There were three watchmen in the building who have not been accounted for. The building was entirely gutted and the north wall fell in after the interior of the iron works softened by the heat. The firm carried a stock worth $500,000. The loss is believed to be covered by insurance.

An ordinance was read and referred, granting to the Western Union Telegraph Co. the right to maintain its poles and lines in the streets and alleys and public ways of the city.

A ballot for night watchman was taken and resulted in a tie vote between S. E. Farris and Con Howe. A second ballot resulted in one vote for S. E. Farris, two for G. C. Bills and two for Con Howe. George Runyan was then placed in nomination and a third ballot cast, which resulted in three votes for George Runyan and three for Con Howe; no election. The council then adjourned.
