BASING COUNTY DEPT.

The most logical and economical way of determining the state of the soil is to have it examined by scientists at a very low rate of interest. Instead of paying out money for this purpose, we have nothing better than to pay the state for the privilege of examining it. The state has access to soil surveys, which are in their nature a continuation of the agricultural societies, and the state has many opportunities to invest in the business of soil examination.

WATER WAYS.

It is all involved in these words, and not without some difficulty. The subject of the institution of agricultural societies is at variance with the views of the agriculturists who have taken this line of policy. They have not been in agreement with any of the past efforts of the state in this line of business, and it is now the determination to have the state, or any other body of men, take the responsibility of doing the work.

WINTER WAYS.

The further point in connection with this subject is the fact that the state has no power to prohibit the publication of these efforts. The state has no power to prohibit the publication of the results of its efforts, and it is the determination of the state to have the results of the efforts of its agricultural societies published. This has been recognized in the past, and it will be recognized in the future.

WOMEN'S MEETING.

The women of the state have been invited to attend the meeting of the women of the state on the 9th of March, at the building, in the city of The Dalles.
