The Robber Got Little.

A interview with Charley Adams, the stage driver, who was held up on the new fish line as his pup ate the only Deschutes hill on Wednesday last, reveals little new to the Chronicle beyond the fact that it is now pretty certain that the thief got away with no valuable registered matter, and, outside of money enclosed in ordinary letters, of which comparatively little passes through the mail, he can not be much richer than he was before. The three mail sacks were brought in on the stage last evening. noon, indicated 92 degrees in the shade. They had been cut open and rifled. Miss Grace Crandall returned today The third sack was found in Buck Hollow from a few weeks outing at Yaquina bay. and beside it was the greater portion of Mrs. W. H. Wilson and child returned the mail which had been opened and left there. There is yet no evidence that the robber had an accomplice beyond the fact that two masks were found near the scene of the robbery. It is believed the thief had a horse cached in Buck Hollow during the time Mrs. C. P. Balch of Dufur returned of the robbery and that as soon as he last evening from a few weeks visit to had gone through the anail he left for parts unknown. It is known that the day before the robbery, at least one bridge came into the city yesterday and registered package, containing $500 in greenbacks, was mailed from this city Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for a man in Crook county; but the Captain N.
