A PRACTICAL SUGGESTION.
Recommendation That the Pensacola be Permanently Stationed at Honolulu.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—It has been recommended to the secretary of the navy that the United States steamship Pensacola, now at Mare island, but recently ordered to Honolulu, should be permanently assigned to that station and anchored there. The recommendation is of some length, and goes into detail to the effect that it is not considered necessary to keep a large crew or a great number of officers on board of her, but suggest that a guard of marines and an experienced marine officer be always kept on board in case emergencies should arise on shore, or their services should be needed for the protection of the American interests. Officers and marines could be sent to the Pensacola at intervals by the mail steamers, and at a much less cost than is now required to keep the other vessels at that point. The news recently brought by the steamer Zealandia from Honolulu that an expedition to the United States is being agitated in the islands is a forcible argument in favor of keeping a permanent naval force at Honolulu for whatever the ultimate policy of the United States may be towards the Hawaiian island, no secretary of state would be apt to advocate any policy that would lead to the island falling into the possession of England. European powers now look upon the United States as exercising a virtual protectorate over the Hawaiian kingdom, and so long as the American representative there has the support of an adequate naval force, no foreign nation will make an attempt to interfere in the internal affairs of the islands.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.
A Young Man and Woman Find Watery Graves at a Pleasure Resort.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—While closing up Palmer's bathing pavilion at West Brighton beach, Coney island, last night, it was discovered that a man and woman who had occupied two of the rooms had not returned. Mrs. Johnson, who had charge of the woman's department, said that she remembered assisting a pretty girl, of about 19 years of age, to one of the rooms in question shortly before dark. Her clothing consisted of a drab cashmere overskirt, a dark silk waist, black shoes and stockings and rather expensive underwear. There was 40 cents in change in the pocket of her dress. The missing man is supposed to have been about 24 years of age. In his bathhouse was found a pair of light striped trousers, a white tennis shirt, a black coat and necktie, but no vest. His hat was a brown derby. In his pocket was $2, two return tickets over the Calver road to Brooklyn and a time-table of the Jersey Central railway. Officers patrolled the beach all night, but found no trace of the missing persons.

Believes Gordon Living.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—J. J. Coyle and P. C. Johnson sailed today on the Servia starting on a journey to the river Nile. Coyle is familiar with the region, having served several years with the British army in Egypt. He says: "When I was in Cairo I had interviews with three French nuns and four priests who expressed a belief that General Gordon is still alive. Upon their statements, which were consistently linked together and obtained from sources which for prudential reasons I am not at liberty to reveal, I believe that General Gordon is not dead, but held as captive. The object of this journey is to ascertain whether he is dead or alive. I will disguise myself as a native and enter the Khartoum or else lose my head in the attempt."

Warned against Pine Nut.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Governor Colcord, of Nevada, is in the city. He desires to warn the public against rushing into Nevada to work the Pine Nut mines. He says that while Senator Haines is undoubtedly honest in his opinion of the mine, he is not a practical miner, and is too enthusiastic. Governor Colcord has been over the Pine Nut region, and saw no indication of rich mineral strikes. The claims at Pine Nut are all taken up, and it is useless for people to go there now. Governor Colcord will leave at once for Pine Nut, and, after investigating, will announce definitely whether or not the report of the rich find is correct.

A Cool Robber
CINCINNATI, Aug. 30.—Early this evening a man rang the bell of the residence occupied by Father O'Rourke, a Catholic priest. When the priest answered the ring, the man put a revolver close to him and in a business-like tone said: "Give me all your money." The priest opened his pocket book and said, "Take it out yourself." The robber took $50, all the priest had, and left. There is no clue to his identity.

New Developments in the Union Pacific Scheme—A Very Significant Meeting—Wheat goes up.

THAT UNION PACIFIC SCHEME.

New Developments in the Affair—A Significant Meeting.
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Important developments in the affairs of the Union Pacific railroad are expected this week, says the Times: A meeting of the recently appointed financial committee of which Pierpont Morgan is the head, will be held today or tomorrow in this city. Probably the outcome of the meeting may be of greater significance than the mere putting into effect of the scheme for carrying the floating debts. Rumors of the Vanderbilts taking control of the property was received with serious consideration in Wall street where Pierpont Morgan's close relations with the Vanderbilts is duly appreciated. It is well known when the Gould-Dillon contingent first approached Morgan with the request for aid in straightening out the finances of the Union Pacific company they met with a chilling reception. When finally Morgan consented to take charge of the scheme for temporarily disposing of $19,000,000 of the floating debt it transpired that he exacted concessions that practically put him in control of the property.

Chicago Wheat Market.
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Wheat opened excited and higher this morning; all the way from 100½@101½, against 99½ asked Saturday. After fluctuating considerably December advanced to 103½ at 1 o'clock. Stronger cables of receipts and figures from Vienna, showing a shortage in the world's crop of wheat to be 99,000,000 bushels and in rye of 30,000,000 was the cause of higher prices. The highest point reached was 104½. Closing firm at 101½@103; September 101½; December 104. Shortly before noon Rumsey Bros., the long established commission firm, notified those having trades with them to close them out. The announcement had no effect on the market as the firm had been doing only a very small commission business of late.

An Official Confirmation.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Official confirmation of Balmaceda's fall reached the state and naval departments this morning. Acting Secretary Wharton received the following cablegram dated Valparaiso, August 30th: "Balmaceda turned over the government to Baquedano, and fled. Canto goes to Santiago tonight to assume control until the arrival of Junta from Iquique. Good order here."
(signed) McCREERY, Consul."

Trying to Reform the Senate.
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 30.—There seems to be good ground for the assertion of President Polk, of the National Reformers' alliance, that his organization was now addressing itself to cleaning up the United States senate. Alliance leaders and speakers are waging war against Senator Morgan, of this state, and openly declare that he will be defeated for re-election by a candidate whom the alliance will suggest.

Two More Bodies Found.
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Mayor Grant made a personal visit to the scene of the Park Place disaster today. He found while looking through the debris, the bodies of two victims, badly charred and mutilated. He then issued directions that all the debris be cleared away at once. Two more bodies are supposed to be underneath the sidewalk in the vaults but could not be seen.

A Fatal Runaway.
ALBANY, Or., Aug. 31.—Charles M. Rinehart a young farmer living near this city, was killed here today while hauling wheat. He was driving four horses hitched to two wagons coupled together. The team ran away and Rinehart was thrown forward under the wheels. Death ensued instantly.
San Francisco Wheat Market.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Wheat buyer 91, 175½, season 83½.

CRIMES OF ROYALTY.

History of the Death of an Austrian Baroness—She Loved Prince Rudolph.
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The World published yesterday, exclusively in America, but in conjunction with the London Times, which holds the original manuscript, a pamphlet prepared by the family of the late Baroness Marie Yezzer, who was found shot to death together with her lover, Rudolph, the crown prince of Austria, at Mayerling, on the 30th of January, 1889. The pamphlet was suppressed by the Austrian imperial family. It tells a story in a circumstantial manner, backed by autograph letters, as to leave no doubt as to its value as a historical document. The important feature is the famous part played in the tragedy by no less a personage than the niece of the empress of Austria. The pamphlet accuses her of being not only an intermediary, but a blackmailer as well. Briefly summarized the story is that the Baroness Marie Yezzer, then 17 years old, fell in love at first sight with the crown prince, and frequently met him in a social, ordinary way. Finally she entrusted her secret to Countess Larisch, the empress of Austria's niece, and this lady at once undertook to act as a go-between, while taking advantage of her knowledge of state affairs to levy blackmail from the prince.

Ended His Own Life.
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 30.—One of the coolest suicides which ever occurred in this city ended the life of Chris Kellback yesterday afternoon. The body was not discovered until this evening. Kellback was a Grand Army man, about 50 years of age and had lately come to this town from New Mexico where he had served in the regular army and had accumulated $1700. He was swindled out of it in some gambling game a few days ago, and his wife was compelled to go out to service to support the family. When the body was found today it was lying on an army blanket in the middle of the floor, carefully dressed in his fatigue uniform, his Grand Army button and a medal for sharp shooting on his breast, while in the center of his forehead was the hole where his pistol bullet had entered.

TELEGRAPHIC TICKS.

The news of the defeat of Balmaceda is received in London and Berlin with great satisfaction.
The wife of James G. Blaine, jr., has sued her husband for a divorce on the grounds of desertion and adultery.
Mrs. Julia Fillmore-Harris, the last survivor of a family of eight brothers and sisters, one of whom was Millard Fillmore, the thirteenth president of the United States died last Saturday night at San Francisco aged 79 years.
J. J. Coyle, formerly a soldier in the British army and for several years in the service in Egypt, sailed from New York last Saturday on a journey up the Nile. He pretends to believe that General Gordon is not dead but held as a captive and intends to disguise himself as a native and enter Khartoum and ascertain, beyond question, the general's fate or perish in the attempt.
Manager Kelly of the Grand Pacific Hotel, Tacoma, recently had cards lithographed in fac-simile of an envelope which he had received from Geo. Francis Train. The cards bore the design of two canceled postage stamps, and now the treasury department has issued strict orders to prosecute not only Kelly but the lithographing company that did the work for an infringement of the national law respecting counterfeitlets.
The farmers' alliance men of South Carolina are bitterly opposed to the nomination of Cleveland for president and do not hesitate to say that they will not vote for him if nominated. Governor Tillman, Congressman Tillman and Senator Butler are on the stump addressing crowds at alliance picnics all over the state and boldly charging Cleveland with having betrayed the democratic party on the silver question when he was president.
A proposition has been submitted to the people of Astoria to construct a single track standard gauge railway encircling the peninsula of Astoria to a connection with the Astoria & South Coast railway, thence into the Nehalem and Willamette valleys, the terminal to be made at some point that will establish transcontinental connection with the city of Astoria on condition that the citizens of Astoria furnish right of way and station grounds for a double track standard gauge road completely encircling the peninsula, and one thousand acres of land, fairly selected within the present corporate limits.

A touching story comes to us from Hempstead, L. I., of a little girl who was taken mortally ill while the house of her parents, in which she lay, was being destroyed by fire. With loving ing watches around her bed the spark of life fluttered in the little frame while the firemen without worked with double energy to stay the flames. When the water began to drip through the ceiling upon the bed the friends tenderly bore the dying child on a mattress out of the house and down through the line of firemen while every eye was removed and every head bowed till the child was safe beyond the fire line and resting in a neighboring cottage where the death angel with the coming of dawn bore her young spirit to the God who gave it.
