PATRONIZE THE OPPOSITION.

This morning at eight o'clock the Regulator left on her first business trip to the Cascade Locks. The day marks the beginning of a new era. A few days more and we shall have through connection with Portland. Eight car loads of the rolling stock of the portage railroad have already arrived at the Cascades and the locomotive has been on the way since the 4th inst. The city of The Dalles, on the lower river, will be ready for business by the end of this week and sometime the week after, the entire route from The Dalles to Portland should be open for traffic. Every pound of freight that the farmers and merch ants, contiguous to The Dalles, have for shipment, ought to be sent by the new line, and passengers should patronize it in preference to the opposition. It is in every way safer than by rail, and the boats will not fall far short of railroad speed, besides that a trip by water is much pleasanter than by land. The old company has so long held us by the throat while it robbed us that we owe it nothing and the man who does not, by every honorable means, encourage and patronize a line whose existence will put thousands of dollars in the pockets of consumers is not worthy of American citizenship.

AWAY WITH THEM.

Pinkertonism has put the crown on its work of infamy in Washington by the altogether lawless and reckless arrest and abduction of two citizens of Seattle, and the press of the state is thoroughly aroused and unanimous in demanding that an end be put to the dangerous operations of this class of so called detectives. The sentiment of the people, not alone of Washington but of the whole nation is opposed to the existence of a body of brutal hirelings whose very business and occupation are a menace to the freedom of the citizen. Did they confine themselves to the legitimate work of hunting down wrong doers and detecting crime, no fault would be found, but when these relies of a barbarous age make it a profession to sell themselves to those who are rich enough to be able to purchase their services, in order to enforce, under a thin cloak of law, at the muzzle of the rifle, the harsh decrees of some heartless oppressor, it is time that the fitful storms that labor has often raised against them should swell into a tempest that shall wipe them out of existence.

The dispatches inform us that U. S. Hall, ex-president of the Farmers' Alliance, is in St. Louis perfecting arrangements for the National Anti-Sub-Treasury and Anti-third Party convention which will meet in St. Louis tomorrow. Hall expects the convention to be the largest representative gathering of farmers ever held in this country, but while the movement is significant, as showing that the farmers are getting their eyes open to the utter impracticability of the sub-treasury and land loan schemes of the third party, it is quite possible Mr. Hall is oversanguine in his estimation. Nor is it of any great importance. These schemes are bound to die a natural death any way, and if Mr. Hall's estimates should turn out to be true it would only prove that their demise came sooner than was expected. The country will never see the day when the government will go into the business of loaning money on farm or any other kind of produce.

The Milton Eagle has formulated an excellent plan for meeting the expenses of sending home the thousands of Chinamen who are constantly smuggling themselves into this country in violation of the law. The Eagle thinks if the government is going into the pawnbroking and saloon business, as proposed in the Ohio Third party platform, it ought certainly to start a federal laundry and when a surreptitious Chinaman is caught, make him first work out his passage and then ship him to China.

PORTLAND'S GENEROSITY.

The people of The Dalles will not soon forget the kindness and generosity of Portland in contributing to the needs of those who have suffered by the late fire.

$2500 will be raised, in addition to numerous private contributions of various kinds and the proceeds of the benefit at Carlay's theatre tomorrow night, for which tickets are said to be selling very rapidly. Mayor Mason has been very active in the cause of The Dalles people and has even requested the police to sell tickets, and as these gentlemen are said to be possessed of good hustling qualities it is expected that very few will remain unsold, of the great number placed in their hands.

It is rumored that Mr. Parnell intends, in the near future, to visit the United States to see what can be done to reorganize the broken ranks of his party on this side the Atlantic. The cool reception his last emissaries met here would indicate that he may just as well stay at home. Parnell has undoubtedly lost his grip on the Irish people and the best thing he can do is to take Kitty to some quiet corner of the earth, away from the busy haunts of men and—both of them stay there.

Adam Forepaugh Shows.

From the way in which this city and country are covered with the artistic pictorial paper of the Adam Forepaugh Shows, it seems like "carrying coals to Newcastle," to say that the great shows now on their 28th annual tour will exhibit at The Dalles, one performance only, Wednesday afternoon, September 16, in all their regal magnificence. The Adam Forepaugh shows are well known as the oldest, largest and richest of all exhibitions. This year with three circuses, huge menageries, real Roman hippodrome, new Wild West, and famous foreign features, it eclipses its former self. Probably the greatest feature of this season is Colored Edgar Daniel Boone and Miss Millie Carlotta, the celebrated European lion-tamers, who will exhibit five forest-bred lions in a steel encircled ring. The lions will be harnessed to and draw a chariot, they will play see-saw with a great German board named "Saxon," they will form tableaux, ride tricycles, and do many other astonishing things while loose in the ring. The famous Hanlon-Volters appear for the first time under canvas with the Adam Forepaugh shows this year. These remarkable artists will do double somersaults high in the ambient air, from swaying-bar to swaying-bar, fully sixty feet apart. Owing to the height of the rigging and length of the leaps, the acts cannot be done under a roof because there are not more than two or three buildings in the country large enough. In fact, the great waterproof tents of the Adam Forepaugh shows are the only circus canvases large enough. The act is entirely new and extremely hazardous. There are more than 200 artists in the triple circus. Twenty female bareback riders, twenty-five male bareback riders, and in short, actors and acts of all kinds. In the hippodrome more races are given by intrepid riders and fiery steeds than in any other shows, modern races, Roman chariot races, modern running and trotting, mule and donkey, monkey and pony, elephant and camel, bag, wheelbarrow, man vs. horse, and many other races. The Wild west is composed of a great number of Indians, scouts, cowboys, pathfinders, Indian fighters, Indian squaws and papooses, led by Capt. A. H. Bogardus and his sons, champion shots of the world. All kinds of Wild West scenes, historical, romantic and comical are portrayed, the ghost dance, hanging a horse-thief, Custer battle, etc. In the menagerie will be found one or more of every species known to Zoology, more cagefuls of animals than some shows have single ones. Adam Forepaugh, Jr., will present a huge herd of 350,000 trained and dancing elephants, and highly trained stallions, bronchos and dogs. The entire shows will surpass any exhibition ever given in such a way as to defy comparison.

Another Chance.

The following telegram was received this afternoon:
 PORTLAND, Or., Sept 14.—To Hon. A. S. McAlister, president of the Board of Trade: I shall visit the Locks tomorrow going by morning train and returning by freight train. If any of your people can conveniently be present I should be glad to meet them. J. N. DOLPH.
 The following telegram was received Saturday evening, too late for publication:
 WALLA WALLA, Sept. 12.—To Robert Mays, mayor: The committee report $750, check for same, together with a car load of flour and potatoes from the county will be forwarded under care of Colonel Parker. Farther aid being solicited. J. L. ROBERTS, Mayor.

A newspaper is always printed in a rush.

There is always something left out that should have gone in; it is at times too quick to judge, often too quick to act; but with all its faults and shortcomings, there is more education in a bright, newsy paper than there is in a novel. You will find that the brightest boy on practical, sensible everyday questions is the boy who prefers newspapers to novels.—Er.

The Burns Herald says:

In the United States circuit court Henry Miller, who owns a large tract of swamp land in Harney county was given a judgment for want of an answer, against Charles W. Briggs, C. H. Burdick, S. King, G. W. Bartlett, R. J. Ivers, J. E. Leary and Henry Phillips. These persons had fled homesteads on Miller's land, and he brought suit to recover possession and was successful.

An Old Adage.
 There is an old adage: "What every body says must be true." Henry Cook, of New Knoxville, Ohio, in a recent letter says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has taken well here. Everybody likes it on account of the immediate relief it gives." There is nothing like it to loosen and relieve a severe cold. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly, druggists, dw

 JOS. T. PETERS.

They Speak From Experience.
 "We know from experience in the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that it will prevent croup," says Messrs. Gadberr & Worley, Percy, Iowa. They also add that the remedy has given great satisfaction in this vicinity, and that they believe it to be the best in the market for throat and lung diseases. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly druggists.

NOTICE.

R. E. French has for sale a number of improved ranches and unimproved lands in the Grass Valley neighborhood in Sherman county. They will be sold very cheap and on reasonable terms. Mr. French can locate settlers on some good unsettled claims in the same neighborhood. His address is Grass Valley, Sherman county, Oregon.

Notice.

The CHRONICLE will be pleased to publish, free of charge, a list of all property that persons may have lost during the fire and cannot find or may have in possession and cannot find the owner. In all cases where convenient, goods may be left at this office.

Notice.
