LOST IN THE BAD LANDS.

A Montana Woolgrower Nine Days Without Food.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 14.-George Jackson, a prominent woolgrower of Ubet, Fergus county, has had an experience in the bad lands of northern Montana which he will never forget. About two weeks ago, in company with his wife, he left Billings for his home at Ubet, a distance of 175 miles. The second day out they came to where the roads forked, and Jackson, despite his wife's protests, concluded to take a new the bad lands and was rough country, yet it was much the shorter course. At night a small lake, the only water within thirty miles, was reached. Here a camp was made. About dark Jackson ing, in a little while his wife went to to order at noon today, and George When the news reached Golden a wreck-hunt him, but could discover no trace of Rains of Rochester, was above to the rest of her husband. This was Thursday, a week ago. The following day, Friday, and Saturday and Sunday Mrs. Jackson wandered about in the pad lands, with week ago. The following day, Friday, and Saturday and Sunday Mrs. Jackson wandered about in the bad lands, with but a scant supply of food, looking for her husband, but her search was unavailing. Monday some people aided her to hitch the team up and put her on the road to the nearest ranch. Then a posse was organized to look for Jackson, and after five days' search they gave it up, concluding that he had been drowned in concluding that he had been drowned in the lake. Today news was received from Ubet that the missing man had been found by a party of home hunters in what is known as Devil's Rasin. been found by a party of home hunters in what is known as Devil's Basin. He had been without food or shelter for nine days and was a pitiable object. He was so weak he could not rise, and was entirely unconscious of his surroundings. The first thing he said was "Give me more bread and mest." The place where he was found was not more than two miles from the spot where he and two miles from the spot where he and his wife camped, and the presumption is that when he left the lake he wandered around in a circle. The doctors believe that with careful nursing he will ful to the republican congress. He ar-recover. Windell, M. Forrey and Owen Jones.

TWENTY-THREE HURT.

Accident on the Union Pacific Railroad in Colorado.

DENVER, Sept. 14.—Passenger train No. 314, bound for Denver, on the Graymount division of the Union Pacific, was wrecked this morning about 11 o'clock, near Beaver Brook station, and twenty-three passengers were injured. Five of them will probably die. The train was late and running very rapidly. When rounding a sharp curve the express car left the track, and rolled down a fifteen-foot embankment. It was folcars, one of which turned over twice before reaching the bottom. The train was loaded with passengers, many of whom were Knights of Pythias, who SARATOGA, N. SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 14.-Three weeks ago W. R. Nichols, an old resident society has been formed to keep the telegraph out, and the mob is still on watch. Great apprehension is felt by the inhabitants in the border districts of Hussehu. At Newchang Dr. Grigg, missionary doctor, has been assaulted by the soldiers. The matter has been placed in the hands of Mr. Ayerton, the British consul. It is thought that this is a local affair not connected with the secret societies. The reports from Foois in progress and some facts have been brought forth that show that the old man was grossly neglected and uncared for, but as yet no support is given to the poisoning theory.
