The Inventor of the Rain-Producing Process to be Well Paid for his Patent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16.—The real inventor of the rain-producing process has been discovered in the person of General Daniel Ruggles, of Fredericksburg, Va., to whom a patent was issued about ten years ago. He served in the Mexican war, and at the breaking out of the civil war cast his fortunes with the South, the result being that he came out of the army impoverished and broken in health. He is now over 80 years old, and for a number of winters he has been endeavoring to enlist aid from congress to make the very experiments that have been made and are to be continued under the supervision of General Dyrenforth. He finally secured the assistance of Senator Farwell, who offered an amendment to the general appropriation bill, whereby $10,000 was set apart for the proposed experiments. It was stipulated in the amendment, however, that the experiments should be conducted under the auspices of the department of agriculture. It is understood that a syndicate of Washington capitalists, satisfied that the invention has proved a success, have offered General Ruggles $75,000 for the patent, their idea being to sell it either to the general government or to the several states. It has been ascertained that seventeen of the forty-four states of the Union, particularly those in the far West, are subject to severe droughts, and they would probably be willing to pay liberally for the use of the invention.

CRIME ON THE INCREASE.

The Spread of Gambling Wakes up the City Authorities.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 16.—There have been numerous complaints received that gambling places and bawdy houses are alarmingly on the increase in this city. The city authorities appear almost oblivious of their existence and have so far failed to enforce the spirit of the city ordinances bearing on the subject. Constable H. Vanatta, of the West Vancouver precinct, last night enforced the state laws by arresting Charles Rice, John Sisson and A. Delor for keeping a faro and stud poker game in a saloon on the corner of Fifth and Main streets, and E. J. Ross for committing the same offense in a saloon opposite on the West Side. The four were arraigned before Justice of the Peace A. F. Tonsant, and pleading guilty were fined $20 each, including costs. It is understood that this course will be continued until the nuisance is abated.

The Capture of a Bear Affords Sport on Spokane's Streets.

SPOKANE, Sept. 16.—A half-grown cub was killed in Cannon's addition, near Irving school this afternoon. Messrs. J. A. Bruce and J. L. Bosquet were driving into town from Hangmah creek when they espied a black bear on the hillside directly before them. Giving chase, they pursued the animal for half a mile through the streets, when he took refuge in one of the large pine trees of the school grounds. A shotgun was borrowed from a neighboring house, and at the first shot the bear fell mortally wounded. The schoolhouse, which was one of the new ward buildings finished last fall, was full of children, who were greatly excited when they heard what had taken place. The animal weighed fifty pounds when dressed.

Dr. James Ramsey Speer, who died the other day in Pittsburg at the age of ninety-four, had lived under every president of the United States, and was the cousin of one, Buchanan, while his mother was the grand-aunt of another, Benjamin Harrison. As a sensible man however, Dr. Speer was very content to rest his claims to attention on his local reputation as a physician and surgeon.

A SALEM BANK ROBBED

Secretary Albertson and an Accomplice Attempt to Get Away With the Funds but Were Captured.

The Superintendent of a California Mine Murdered—Killed for Love—Two Texas Editors Fought.

Vick's Seed House Suspends—Two Bodies Recovered—An American Ship Ahead.

MARSHFIELD, Ogn., Sept. 17.—Fred Chandler and Edward Albertson, the Tacoma bank robbers, were arrested four miles below Gardiner last night by Charles A. Lampkens, Deputy United States marshal of Tacoma, assisted by W. W. Cochrane, of Eugene, and G. N. Moore of Gardiner and J. T. Thompson of Florence.

The arrest was effected by a well arranged plan, skillfully carried into execution. Albertson and Chandler were completely taken by surprise, being ordered to throw up their hands. They were slow to comply, Chandler's hands finally went up while Albertson reached for his revolver, but Cochrane was too quick, however, and shot simply to cripple the now desperate defaulter, making only a flesh wound. They were easily captured then and taken to Gardiner, where medical aid was immediately summoned. Albertson has the best of care, and is resting easily. Chandler talks freely and exonerates all others than himself and Albertson from complicity of robbery, but will not give any details leading up to the robbery of the bank. Lampkens will take Chandler out by way of Drains tomorrow. Albertson will be left in charge of Deputy Sheriff Cochrane until able to be removed.

KILLED THE SUPERINTENDENT.

But Failed to Get the $5,000 in Gold Bar.

NEVADA, CAL., Sept. 17.—S. Galavotti, superintendent of the Derlec drift mine, was murdered by highwaymen this morning while coming to the city with five thousand dollars in gold bars, which had just been cleaned up at the mine. Galavotti and J. D. Ostrom were in a two-horse buggy, ascending the South Yuba River grade, six miles from the city, when a rifle shot was fired from the bank above, and the ball entered in the back of Galavotti's head and emerged from his mouth, causing instant death. Ostrom urged the horses into a run, holding his companion's dead body in the vehicle with one arm. Upon reaching Mount Vernon House Ostrom left Galavotti's body and hid the bullet in the brush, then rode to this city to notify the officers. A wagon has just gone out after the dead superintendent's body and several squads of armed men are starting for the scene of the murder.

FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

It now Transpires That England did not Capture Mitylene Island.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The public are anxiously waiting for a distinct official denial or admission of the news about the seizure of Mitylene. So far, the denials have been qualified in a way that implies a foundation for the story. Advice received from Berlin and Vienna state that the news was received with amazement in government circles, followed by a lively use of the wire in connection with the legations at Constantinople. The Berlin government, from all that can be learned, anticipated war at an early date but did not think it would originate at the Dardanelles. The Dardanelles question, it was thought, would be settled by diplomacy, and the Franco-Prussian or Austro-Russian frontier would witness the first great encounter. While it is now admitted that the British force has not seized the island of Mitylene, the news to the effect that the island has been occupied was received from Mitylene and elsewhere by various embassies at Constantinople and other capitals. The new Turkish minister of the interior telegraphed to the British ambassador at Constantinople, Sir William White, asking the latter to explain the reports of the landing of the British force on Turkish territory. Sir William, in reply, said he was entirely ignorant of the whole affair, but it was probable that the crews of some British war ship might have landed on the island of Mitylene in the course of regular boat drills and landing exercises. The British ambassadors assured the Turkish minister that no fortifications had been constructed on the island by the British troops. This view of the case was confirmed by dispatches received during the night, which stated that the force that had landed from the British war ships has re-embarked and that the men-of-war had left the island of Mitylene for Marmorito. The affair caused great excitement in diplomatic circles for a short time, and it is still asserted that these same "maneuvers" had at least the purpose of showing the sultan and his advisers how easily England could change her boat drills and landing exercises off the island of Mitylene into a dangerous reality.

The News and Chronicle both say the report of the occupation of Sigri cannot be without foundation and that, if true, the seizure will be nothing less than a bellicose act of which Lord Salisbury could hardly have been capable, since he escaped Beaconsfield's influence. They hope the government will, without delay, inform the public of the real facts. The Chronicle says: And fall in American railroads can only be temporary. Even if the worst fears of European complications are realized, a war would mean a rise in grain to benefit American farmers and trunk lines.

Died For Love.

WOODLAND, CAL., Sept. 17.—The lifeless bodies of Miss May Adams and J. W. Montgomery were discovered this morning lying in the rear yard of a small unoccupied residence on College street. It is supposed Montgomery shot and killed Miss Adams and then suicided.
