FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

It now Transpires That England did not Capture Mitylene Island.
LONDON, Sept. 16.—The public are anxiously waiting for a distinct official denial or admission of the news about the seizure of Mitylene. So far, the denials have been qualified in a way that implies a foundation for the story. Advances received from Berlin and Vienna state that the news was received with amazement in government circles, followed by a lively use of the wire in connection with the legations at Constantinople. The Berlin government, from all that can be learned, anticipated war at an early date but did not think it would originate at the Dardanelles. The Dardanelles question, it was thought, would be settled by diplomacy, and the Franco-Prussian or Austro-Russian frontier would witness the first great encounter.

While it is now admitted that the British force has not seized the island of Mitylene, the news to the effect that the island has been occupied was received from Mitylene and elsewhere by various embassies at Constantinople and other capitals. The new Turkish minister of the interior telegraphed to the British ambassador at Constantinople, Sir William White, asking the latter to explain the reports of the landing of the British force on Turkish territory. Sir William, in reply, said he was entirely ignorant of the whole affair, but it was probable that the crews of some British war ship might have landed on the island of Mitylene in the course of regular boat drills and landing exercises. The British ambassador assured the Turkish minister that no fortifications had been constructed on the island by the British troops. This view of the case was confirmed by dispatches received during the night, which stated that the force that had landed from the British war ships has re-embarked and that the men-of-war had left the island of Mitylene for Marmarito. The affair caused great excitement in diplomatic circles for a short time, and it is still asserted that these same "maneuvers" had at least the purpose of showing the sultan and his advisers how easily England could change her boat drills and landing exercises off the island of Mitylene into a dangerous reality.

The News and Chronicle both say the report of the occupation of Sigri cannot be without foundation and that, if true, the seizure will be nothing less than a bellicose act of which Lord Salisbury could hardly have been capable, since he escaped Beaconsfield's influence. They hope the government will, without delay, inform the public of the real facts.

The Chronicle says: "And fall in American railroads can only be temporary. Even if the worst fears of European complications are realized, a war would mean a rise in grain to benefit American farmers and trunk lines."

THE ADMINISTRATION ENDORSED.

Massachusetts Republicans to Adopt a Sensible Platform.
BOSTON, Sept. 16.—Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge will be permanent chairman of the republican convention which meets here tomorrow. The following is understood to be the synopsis of the platform: President Harrison and the administration are congratulated; the maintenance of civil service reform is demanded; there is a strong demand for a federal law to insure fair elections, a true ballot and an honest count; on the money question it is asserted that a true standard must be maintained and the position and record of the democratic party are condemned. The tariff legislation of the last congress is approved and its good results pointed out, particularly the benefit from the duty on sugar and the reciprocity clause; extravagance in pensions is denounced as well as the statement made that the party had fulfilled its promises to the loyal soldiers. It is urged that immigration be restricted while honesty, intelligence, and industry are heartily welcomed to America. The welfare of the workmen is declared to be the welfare of the state and just legislation is favored which will give the fruits of labor to all.

Friends of both William Rapp, of New Bedford and Charles H. Allen, of Lowell, are confident their men will be nominated for governor.

A Railroad Bridge Gives Way.
SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Sept. 16.—About 6 o'clock this morning, as a freight train on the Jacksonville & Southeastern railway was passing over the Sangamon river bridge, four miles south of this city, the structure gave way and the caboose, a coal car and a car filled with merchandise went into the stream. Four trainmen went down with it, and all were badly injured. Conductor Charles Kutter was heartily welcomed to America. The brakeman, had his face and head badly cut, and received internal injuries. Fred Harris, a brakeman, was also badly hurt, and J. H. Kipp was taken from the wreck insensible. He will probably die.

A Texas Road in Trouble.
DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 16.—Judge Rainey, at Waxahatchie, yesterday declared the charter of the Texas Trunk railroad forfeited to the state, and today named John H. Gaston, of Dallas, receiver. The Trunk line is now without a charter and has three receivers—Dillingham, appointed by Judge Pardoe; Maroney, appointed by Judge Burke, of Dallas; and Gaston, named by Judge Rainey, of the district court. Meantime no trains are being run, employes are idle, and people along the line have fallen back upon the wagon and cart for transportation.

THE SEAL QUESTION.

A Complication Arising From an Infringement by a Commercial Company of Their Lease.
Defaulter Chandler in Portland but He Refuses to be Interviewed—His Salary Was Too Small.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, British minister, officially called the attention of the United States to the violation of the term of modus vivendi in effect between the two countries as to catching seal in Behring Sea by agreement between the two countries. The North American Commercial company, which leases Seal Island from the United States, was restricted in its catch of seal this year to 7000 skins, but it is alleged that the Commercial company has exceeded the catch. Special Agent Williams in his report, it is understood, makes the admission that the North American Commercial company exceeded the limit of the catch fixed by the modus vivendi. The matter is regarded as quite important, and it may lead to the modus vivendi being declared in operation after this date.

THE CYCLONE RECORD.

Heavy Winds Doing an Immense Amount of Damage.
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—An Iquique special to the Herald says: "A hurricane struck that town Sept. 15, which caused great damage to shipping in the harbor. The hurricane lasted half an hour and was accompanied by a heavy rain. A like occurrence was previously unknown."

A Storm of Wind.
MAUAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 18.—A terrific cyclone occurred at Saucetown, near Leon on September 9th, which destroyed houses uprooted trees and caused a great panic among the residents. Many persons are reported injured.

DECLINED TO TALK.

The Tacoma Bank Robbers Don't Want to be Interviewed.
PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 18.—United States Deputy Marshal Lampkins arrived here this morning, having in charge Fred Chandler, who, with Edward Albertson, was arrested Wednesday near Gardiner. Albertson was left at Gardiner in care of Deputy Sheriff Cochran, pending the healing of his wound. Chandler was met at the train by a reporter but refused to be interviewed.

It is now reported that the officers took Chandler to the office of Detective McSullivan where he is being kept a close prisoner and is not allowed to communicate with anyone.

His Salary Was Too Small.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The trustees of an Ulster county banking institution removed James E. Ostrander from the office of treasurer, finding that he had misappropriated the funds. The amount is variously estimated at from sixty to eighty thousand dollars. This will not embarrass the bank. Ostrander is under arrest at his house and it is thought the matter can be adjusted by his turning over real estate sufficient to cover the amount.

A BAD MAN ESCAPES.

He Loosens his Handcuffs and Gets Away While Being Taken to the Penitentiary.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—Lincoln Person, a noted desperado, and one of the number of prisoners who were being taken to the penitentiary, picked the lock on his handcuffs and then escaped by jumping from the train which was going at the rate of 40 miles an hour.

FOREST FIRES IN WISCONSIN.

Nearly an Entire Village Wiped Out.
CUMBERLAND, Sept. 18.—Forest fires are raging in the country immediately south of this city, and strong wind prevails. Several farm houses and barns and two wood yards near the Omaha track and a large amount of other property has been destroyed. The village of Pery was almost wiped out by the fire.

The Lands Open for Settlement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The president signed the proclamation opening to settlement under the homestead entry, of the newly ceded lands of the Sac and Foxes, Kiowa and Pottowattomie Indians in the eastern part of Oklahoma. These lands may be entered upon next Tuesday the 22d inst at 12 o'clock, noon, central standard time.

San Francisco Wheat Market.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—Wheat buyer '91, 1.72 1/2, season 1.80 1/2.

THE ST. LOUIS CONVENTION.

Action Taken by the Farmers and Laborers Assembled There.
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16.—The farmers' and laborers' convention reassembled this morning. The resolutions which were considered yesterday were brought up and adopted by a good majority. The committee on permanent organization reported. It provided for the appointment of a committee of seven, which is authorized to submit to the next supreme council at the Ocala convention; also, that the committee be authorized to file the objections of the convention to the passage of any resolution whatever binding the individual membership of the alliance to any political course of action.

OTHER RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

A. S. Smith, of Missouri, presented a resolution, which was adopted, declaring the sole object to prevent the convention to be to express an opposition to the proposed sub-treasury and land loan enactment, and to institute an educational movement in that direction, thereby bringing the farmers' alliance back to those principles of wisdom, justice and fraternity on which it was originally based. The following resolution was also adopted:

"We recommended that the members in each state, who oppose the sub-treasury and land loan scheme and government ownership of railroads, and were not present in this meeting, be respectfully invited to co-operate with us, and requested to proceed to organize and elect one member from each state, who shall become a member of the national central committee, provided for in the report of the committee on permanent organization."

NO TICKET NOMINATED.

Pennsylvania Alliance Men to Choose Their Own Candidates.
GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 16.—There were probably 200 delegates at the convention of the people's party. F. R. Agnew presided. A resolution was adopted recommending every citizen to vote as he pleased on the constitutional convention question. The platform adopted recommends:

The abolition of national banks as banks of issue and the substitution of greenbacks for national bank notes, condemn alien ownership of land and land-holding by railway companies in excess of that necessary to their traffic; demands free and unlimited silver coinage, equal taxation, a graduated income tax, government control, and if necessary, ownership of railroads, and a direct vote of the people for president, vice-president and United States senators. It also recommends that the government loan money at two per cent, on real estate and non-perishable products.

The platform was adopted, and it was decided to organize a state committee and issue an address. An attempt was made to capture the convention for the democratic nominee for state treasurer, but it fell through. No ticket was nominated, and the convention adjourned.

Choice for President.

SARATOGA, Sept. 16.—A poll was taken of the 491 delegates to the New York democratic convention held at Saratoga by New York World reporters. This was the question: "Who is your choice for the democratic nomination for president in 1892?" A summary of the answers is as follows:

For David B. Hill	246
Grover Cleveland	83
James E. Campbell	3
William C. Whitney	3
Arthur P. Gorman	3
Alfred C. Chapin	1
Non-committal	153
Total	491

The Kings county delegates were for Hill originally, but when they discovered that Chapin's gubernatorial aspirations were sure to be ignored, they turned into an equally solid Cleveland band, and proclaimed their preference for the ex-president with as much enthusiasm as they had manifested earlier for Hill. But for this change Hill would have received 280 and Cleveland 58.
