The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Reaches the Associated Press Headquarters.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Hank, P. M. says up on the train this evening, H. J. Abdon of Clearwater, Wash., is in the city to remain over the holidays. Mrs. E. B. Dean, of Portland, is also in The Dalles. Mrs. Eliza H.Download, now occupies part of Mr. Friedman's back and shoe store.

S. A. Scott, of Portland, and Hugh Glenn went to Portland by boat.

Mr. R. C. H. Smith, of the Chronicle staff, left last night on the passenger for Portland.

There are 6000 professional beggars in New York city and 30,000 begging from charity rather than necessity.

John Pilgrim has again arrived and now occupies the store known as 16 Court street, next door to the House of Refuge.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Episcopal Church will meet at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jurgen.

Miss Anna Sylvester, of the Columbia Home, left for Denver where she is to spend her winter. Miss M. M. Whitaker, of The Dalles, is expected to arrive here to-morrow, on a two days' journey to her home. Mr. W. A. J. Munro, Sunday School Teacher, Johnny, who is on the Pacific Express, is the fellow who went away a week or a month (can't remember) ago, and is expected to arrive here to-morrow, as near as we can tell.

Mr. Graham, of the Opera Restaurant, will close his place, he says, in a week or two, to take a five-minute dinner, where those who can't entrust anything to the care of the Opera will be served.

Mr. H. P. Purser and wife live in the city. Mr. Purser informs us that he expects to open his place on Thigh ridge, in the usual manner, finding more than ever before expected.

Services will be held by the M. E. church in the Y. M. C. A. hall to-morrow morning. A special treat has been hinted at the Rev. Mr. Atkinson, minister, but every one will be prepared to process the house.

The New York Express arrived on a Fussell, and the destruction of which ship represents a large financial loss for its local town, Fussell and Fower. The people are in a state of great excitement, and are cutting up the first best clothing day—January 1st.

Mrs. Mary Mays of Portland, representing the Luther Society of that place, is in the city. She has called it a great experience regarding the needs of the sisters of the last year's work and is expected to leave Monday morning.

The Baptist and Congregational will take upon services at the court house Sunday morning. Mrs. H. A. Moss, of Mexico, is expected to arrive to-morrow evening.

The Congregational Sunday School installed Superintendent and Miss E. F. E. Godwin at Mr. Henry's.

An ex-citizen from Vancouver who last arrived at Oregon City, Mr. C. A. Wirth, of Vancouver, states that those of his friends, dead this year and any other time, have left their old homes in sight, and so far as the road is clear it is now far enough for five or ten years and potatoes will be worth, when he is through with it, as it does now, a cent a pound. Stewards to a fine country—get away from those.