TWO FACTS AND AN ARGUMENT.

Tomorrow, Tuesday, the 23rd of September, the boats of The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation company will make through connection, for freight and passengers, with Portland.

The Dispatch complains that the firm of Scott & Pittock is running both the Oregonian and the Telegram—a republican morning edition and a prepared democratic edition just to hold the field and make money for the rich owners.

The Portland Dispatch exhorts all persons "having at heart the business and material welfare of the country to refuse to enter into any agreement to pay only in gold coin."

The question of whether or not Binger Hermann will allow his name to be presented to the next congressional convention as a candidate for renomination is agitating the press of Oregon.

And now since the people of Wasco and Sherman counties have gained their freedom through our assistance, we hope they will not fail to assist us in removing the barriers which stand in the way of an open river from the plains to the sea.

It is expected that when the new system of inspecting cattle for export has been thoroughly tested, American cattle will be allowed to enter British ports.

The Sunday Welcome confidently asserts that owing to the "assimilation" of the Union Pacific management, Tacoma and Seattle are better wheat markets.

Fire Committee's Report.

THE DALLES, Or., Sept. 15, 1891. To G. J. Farley, Chairman of Citizens Meeting and to the Citizens of Dalles City.

We, your committee appointed to investigate the origin of the several distressing fires which have recently occurred in our city and to inquire into the many reports of attempted fires, which have been in circulation since the fires, beg leave to report:

We have made inquiries as to five reported fires and two alleged attempts to set fires and find that the report that three separate fires have been set at the Catholic church is wholly without foundation.

We have carefully inquired into the origin of all the four recent fires. We find that the fire of September 2d started either in the basement of F. W. L. Skibbe's house or under the house of J. H. Larsen.

The fire which occurred on the 5th inst. at the fair grounds, commenced in the first or second stable from the east side. These two stables were unoccupied and were not locked.

We find that the fire in Mr. J. T. Peters' stable commenced in the basement of the stable; the main part of the barn was used as a store-house for boxing materials and a small amount of hay, and was kept securely locked.

The testimony as to the fire in the rear of the Michelbach block is very conflicting. Some of the witnesses who claim to have seen the fire before the alarm was sounded locate the fire wholly in the upper portion of the closet.

possibly by the explosion of this lamp. The fact that the timbers in the lower portion of the closet were more nearly burned off than they were above indicates that the fire originated below and near the ground.

Had any of the first three fires occurred at another time we believe there would have been no serious suspicion that they were of incendiary origin.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, and this time it's the carpenters who got the persimmon. Several months ago, when trade in The Dalles was rather dull, two carpenters, partners in business, came from that city to Fossil.

The state fair which closed last Saturday afternoon is said to have been the most successful fair ever held in Oregon.
