Superintendent Farley Will Resign His Charge in Another Month.

A meeting of the state portage railway commissioners was held yesterday afternoon in the St. Charles hotel for the purpose of hearing the report of Superintendent Farley. The board discussed the freight schedule formulated by Mr. Farley and unanimously approved it. It was the sense of the meeting that the rates fixed by Mr. Farley are not too high for the present.

Superentendent Farley's report showed that the portage road is almost completed, with the exception of the extreme ends of the two inclines. This work cannot be finished at present, owing to the high state of the water. Some anchoring will also have to be done in order to hold the trestles down, in the emergency of extreme high water. The road can be operated, however, and it is being operated with the aid of the government engine used in the construction of the locks.

Although the road is equipped with a good gravity system and a plentiful supply of water, Superintendent Farley deems it advisable to carry from $20,000 to $25,000 insurance. He there- age. fore had the plant insured for $22,000.

Superintendent Farley places the running expenses of the portage road at $1000 a month and figures that the Co., for the present of a handsome glass earnings of the road will amount to about $1800 a month. He arrives at Louis Rorden left last night for a trip this conclusion from the amount of to his native home the island of Fohr in freight now passing to and from The day belonging to seventy-one men.

The editor of the Oregon Express lately visited the Cascade Locks and the way he writes them up would impress one with the conviction that the whole works are simply intended as a monument to the gentlemen in charge. Here is what he says:

We have the words of a visitor, in ex-planation of this stone dressing opera-tion. He says that it has been the policy of gentlemen in charge of the work from way back, to carve his monogram his family on the Regulator, in the morning, for Corvallis where he intends to reside till next harvest.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Wasco warehouse company was held this corner stone, which was taken out, the wanders of the wall had to be taken down, presumably to reach that corner stone, which was taken out, the wanders was taken o afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the office of French & Co., for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year.

Joles Brothers claim they have two sizes larger than the largest coffee mill in town. They have just placed on one of their counters a very handsome cigar appears, and the monogram business above each filled with the best the mean stone, which was taken out, the monogram removed and that of the new officer chiseled in its place. Of course this is a "fake" but the Express man solemnly places on record his conviction that the locks and canal are He immediately telegraphed here and not one-fourth finished and that at the finding his store was safe, proceeded on present state of "progress" it will be fifty years before a boat or even a barge will pull through them If one ever does.

CROP-WEATHER BULLETIN NO. 29.

Report for the Week Ending Saturday September 26, 1891.

EASTERN OREGON-WEATHER.

The fore part of the week was cloudy and occasional showers fell; the latter part was generally cloudless and cool, with frosts on the 20th and 23d, the first general frosts of the season.

CROPS. Harvesting and threshing is generally over, except in Union, Wallowa and Baker counties, where threshing is being finished up. Crops have been secured without any damage from climatic conditions, as is the rule. Large yields are reported from every county, varying from 40 to 60 bushels per acre, the average yield varies from 15 bushels per acre in some localities to 30 and 40 bushels per acre in others. In Union county per acre in others. In Union county, for example, one field of 600 acres averaged a fraction over 40 bushels per acre. The corn in Umatilla county is is unusually good. The fruit along the Snake river was never so good and plentiful. In Wasco, Umatilla and Union counties the orchards are filled with fruit, and the smaller orchards of the othe counties have done remarkably well. The har-vest has been one of plenty, and the quality of cereals and fruit a good aver-
