LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. P. Ward of Kingsley was in the city to-day.

Wm. Holder of Grass Valley was in town yesterday.

W. R. Gradon of Burns is registered at the Umatilla House.

Dr. Tucker arrived home last night from a pleasant eastern trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sherar paid a flying trip to The Dalles to-day.

Chas. Levin a prominent sheep man of Antelope Valley is in the city.

Mr. C. L. Palmer, manager of the Baker City Lime & Marble Co., is in the city.

Willard Vanderpool, a prominent member of the S. B. Manufacturing Company of Dufur is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Sharp and their daughter Miss Grace Sharp went down to Portland on the Regulator this morning.

This week will about finish up threshing in the Tygh Ridge country, which means the end of the threshing season for the whole county.

The Misses Edith and Alma Schundt, Wm. Dietzel Sr. and Otto Birgfeld went down on the Regulator yesterday morning to take in the exposition.

John Doe and Richard Roe, filled themselves up with bug juice, you know, when Con and Ralph took them in tow and landed them safe in the cooler below.

The writer counted in the neighborhood of 30 new buildings now in course of construction in the burnt district. Nearly every building is better than the one that preceded it.

Jules Brother have at their store thirty-five onions of the Yellow Denver variety that were grown on Mill Creek by Victor Mesple; whose united weight is forty-eight pounds. Who can beat this?

Wheat continues weak in sympathy with foreign quotations. The highest price paid yesterday at the warehouses was 76 cents. The mill continues to pay 80 cents for extra choice—the only class it buys.

The family of Mr. R. A. Roscoe were on a visit to Victoria at the time of the great fire that burned up their dwelling. As Mr. Roscoe has sold out his interest in the firm of Roscoe & Gibbons to Joles Brothers he will join his family at Victoria in a few days with the intention of remaining there till next spring.

We have been requested to correct an error that appeared in last week's issue which gave the "Sweep stake" premium for best sucking colt to R. Sigman instead of to Patrick Ward of Kingsley. The mistake was not made through any fault of the reporter. The error was in the book from which the reporter copied which was corrected after we had made the copy. It is due also to John Thomas to say that the printed report did not give him full credit for all his premiums. Mr. Thomas took three blue ribbons for Heford cattle and another for the best grade heifer under nine months. Besides these he took first premium for the best grade cow, another for best bull calf under nine months, another for the best litter of pigs and, two second prizes besides.

Mr. J. B. Manly, a prominent farmer from Wapinitia was in town today.

This morning when W. E. Garretson came to open his store he found the door filled with cord wood from step to transom. Will didn't get mad; he only remarked, "I'll bet the fellow who did that didn't do a lick of work, before, for a month."

Deputy Sheriff Gradon of Harney county arrived in town this morning, bringing with him John Jordan, formerly of Tygh valley, who has been arrested for horse stealing. John's brother William is also in the Wasco county jail charged with the same crime.

This office is indebted to the courtesy of Mr. Tom Kelly of the Umatilla house for a bunch of Muscat grapes, weighing three pounds and ten ounces, which were grown at the Mission gardens, by James A. Varney. It is the intention of the CHRONICLE to have them preserved, if possible, in their present shape and keep them on exhibition at the office, so that strangers may see what this country is capable of producing.

Yesterday Col. Sinnott received a letter from the Notre Dame, Indiana, university conveying the flattering intelligence that his son Nicholas had been selected out of 700 students and teachers of the university to deliver the address of welcome to Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, who intends paying the university a visit in the near future. This is a very rare honor and makes Nicholas, as a young man, of very brilliant promise.

Those who are familiar with Niagara Falls will remember the little pleasure boat that plies below the falls and is called the "Maid of the Mist." The captain, R. F. Carter, a fine, wholesome fellow, by all accounts, was lately called on by a little band of Dalles tourists among whom was a sister of Mr. Linus Hubbard of this city. Mr. Hubbard, knowing of the visit, had sent the captain a sum of money beforehand with the request that he should give the visitors the best he had on board, which the captain undoubtedly did, but the money he refused to touch and two or three days ago Mr. Hubbard received a post-office order for the amount.

The New Italiano-Macaroni Band.

A new—not exactly brass band but a new band all the same, was quietly organized in this city yesterday with Judd Fish as leader and immediately after its organization it proceeded to the residence of Hon. D. J. Cooper and perpetrated an alleged serenade on an utterly helpless young couple who had committed the crime of getting married. What the musical instruments lacked in variety was fully made up in tone and discordancy. Ernest Jacobsen, who occupies the position of chief organist supplied the instruments—nine hand organs of the genuine Italiano-Macaroni brand, one banjo and one flute. The band's strong forte is choruses. One organ would play a solo and then all come in on the chorus and as each organ played a different tune the effect can be better imagined than described. Another variation was a song with the refrain "What's the matter with Bailey? He's all right—you bet—every time." The words of the refrain were distinctly heard many blocks off. After the band had enjoyed themselves to satiety they went to the residence of Mr. S. L. Brooks, the agent of The Dalles Portland and Astoria Navigation Company, where they again awoke the sleeping echoes and wound up with "Three Cheers for the Regulator," which were given with a will after Mr. Brooks had thanked the band for their courtesy, in a neat little speech.

The socialist De Leon of Buffalo, who is candidate for governor in the state of New York, got off the following the other night in the Buffalo Town hall. After chipping that the United States was practically a colony of the British Empire, he told of a magnificent and costly gown that one of the Astor women recently bought for her reception by Queen Victoria, and then asked: "Did she buy this elegant gown to celebrate George Washington's birthday?" Not at all. Did she buy it to observe the anniversary of the battle of Lexington? Not at all. Did she buy it to celebrate Labor Day? Not a bit of it. What, then, was the occasion of it? Why, she bought it to wear when bowing down to the Queen, whose soldiers her own great-grandfather fought."

A lady writes to inform us that she has slyly given her drunken husband the "sure cure for the whiskey habit," without decreasing his love of strong drink, and asks "What shall I try next?" Try a large dose of dishwater when he's asleep with his mouth open. Try this 84 times and if that don't cure him, try a meat-ax with all the affection and faith and muscular power you can bring to the scratch.—Klamath Star.

MARRIED.

All parties indebted to the firm of Roscoe & Gibbons are requested to call at Joles Brothers and settle their accounts. 10-7-10 Roscoe & Gibbons.

The S. F. Chronicle's editorials on the flight of Buckley contain about 70 per cent. of bitterness toward the Grand Jury, who are now investigating the political doings of the last California legislature. We suspect that the hour of general exposure will see Mike De Young shaking a little in his fine gaiters. My editorial friends, it is hard to stand around knowing not when the deep sound of the great bell in your cupola will strike an awful hour for you! So live that the Grand Jury may find you uncommonly virtuous, and reposing upon laurels in your 14-story publishing houses. We charge nothing for this advice. We feel that we owe it to our noble brethren of the Oregon press.—Klamath Star.

The country generally will congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland upon the birth of a daughter. This certainly is the best gift that the ex-president has yet given to his country. The great American question henceforth will be, "Shall Baby Cleveland drive Baby McKee from the White house?"—Spokane Review.
