THE DALLES, Oct. 12, 1891. FAIR Weather forecast till 12 m.

MONDAY, OCT. 12, 1891.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Wheeland went down to Portland this morning. H. E. and J. W. Moore, of Nansene, are at the Umatilla house.

M. V. Chase, of Augusta, Maine, an old friend of Colonel Lang, is in the city. Mr. Linus Hubbard returned last night from a visit to the Portland exposition.

There will be a meeting of the King's Daughters at 2 o'clock tomorrow at the residence of Mrs. S. L. Brooks.

Mrs. John Miller and the Misses Ora and Paulina Reno of Mosier have gone on a visit to friends in Linn county.

J. C. Clark of this city passed a successful examination before the supreme court on the 7th instant and received a certificate to practice in all the courts of Oregon.

Mr. Davis the stage man tells us he met fifty-two wagons last Saturday while coming in from Dufur to The Dalles. They were all on their way home after delivering wheat in this city.

The balance of nature has surely been somehow disturbed. It takes 800 expensive roses to make a teaspoon of perfume, while a penny-worth of cooked onions will scent a whole neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dufur, of Dufur, will leave tonight for their former home in Ashland, Wisconsin, where they may possibly remain. We regret to lose them and hope they may yet return and spend the remainder of their days among their numerous friends in Wasco county.

Etta, the fourteen-year-old son of H. Conklin, who lives somewhere on the Deschutes river in this county, had a horse which he was riding, last Saturday, fall with him and break the boy's left arm above the elbow.

Nearly a hundred passengers left this morning on the Regulator for Portland and way stations. About fifty of them are from Sherman county, who have gone down to visit the exposition. They are all enthusiastic supporters of the new boat and one of them was heard to say, "If any of our crowd goes down to Portland by any other way we won't know him when he gets there."

Artesian water has been struck at Farmington, Washington, at a depth of 190 feet, which flows at the rate of 800 gallons an hour. As the well goes down the flow increases. Artesian water could be found in this section if proper effort were made.

A subscriber asks us the origin of the phrase "he isn't in it." It was first used by an editor who died and went to heaven and looked around for the man who took his paper three years and then left it in the postoffice marked "refused."

The following announcement appeared in the last issue of the Hood River Glacier: "Born in New York City, to the wife of Grover Cleveland a-mug-wump."

One Bullet in the Right Place.

The Milton Eagle gives some interesting particulars of the attempted murder and suicide committed a few days ago by Fred Lorn, who lives about seven miles east of Milton.

A New Bear Story.

Judge Thornbury, Ike Joles, R. Kloster, C. E. Haight and "Bingo," went to Trout Lake on a fishing and hunting trip, last week and returned, that is, part of them, on Saturday night.

To The Dalles.

Eddie Howell, the clever little twirler and a Baker City favorite, takes his departure by this morning's train for The Dalles where he has secured a position in the Union Pacific baggage department.

The Baker Will Withdraw.

We are reliably informed that the Baker will make her last trip from The Dalles to the Cascades, that is, at least for the present. Since the Regulator started the Baker has been running at a heavy loss to the company and it has been deemed best to let the Regulator have the trade, rather than reduce rates so as to drive the Regulator off the river.

Quite a Family.

The great state of Missouri keeps up its reputation as a prolific country, particularly in the matter of children. A lady passenger from Missouri, on a west-bound train which passed through Pendleton the other day, had with her a family of eight children, the two oldest seven-year-old twins; the next triplets, aged three and one-half years, and the last a baby one year old.

Only a few days ago, but evidently saved from the big fire, a lady's brown outside wrap of imitation striped Astrachan, trimmed with grey plush, and a lady's manicure case in the form of a hand satchel, outside purple velvet, and lined with blue satin. They can be found at this office.

An elegant organ, nearly new, bedstead, spring mattress, a lot of plates and dishes, for sale cheap. Enquire of P. Willig, the tailor.

I hereby give notice that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Mrs. Jennie Willig, after this day. October 3, 1891. PHILLIP WILLIG.

Four lots with a good house on them, all on the bluff above the brewery which will be sold cheap or trade for cattle. Address J. L. KELLY, The Dalles. 9-11-11

A little eight-year-old Irish boy in one of our public schools, was reproved by his teacher for some fault. He was about to deny it, when she said: "I saw you, Jerry." "Yes," he replied, as quick as a flash. "I tells thim there an't much you don't see wid them purty black eyes of yours." That was the soft answer that turned away wrath; for what lady could resist so graceful a compliment?

Robert Porter insists that the people of the west are quite contented with his census. Not contented, Mr. Porter, but resigned to it. They're like the Dutchman's wife. Probably you have heard of her. When the minister learned that she was dead, he asked if she was resigned to her fate. "Resigned?" answered the weeping widow, "Mein Gott! she haf to be."—Wasco News.
