LOCAL BREVITIES.

J. D. Whitten of Kingsley is in the city.
J. Harvey Smith of Sherar's Bridge was in town today.
The Baker arrived today from the Cascades at 3:40 p. m.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hudson of Dufur came into town yesterday.
Ed. Williams says he bought his goods as low as anybody in The Dalles and he will sell them as low as anybody can afford to.

John Pashek the tailor is still in the swim. He has a fine line of samples as can be seen anywhere which he will make to order at prices as low as anybody. Besides he is prepared to do all kinds of cleaning and repairing.
N. Harris will commence an auction sale of his entire stock of dry goods and clothing next Saturday. J. B. Crossen is the auctioneer and the people will have a good chance to purchase goods at their own price. Mr. Harris assures us the sale is bona fide as he has determined to go out of business.

An effort to purchase from George Smith 2000 sacks of wheat now lying at Rockland failed yesterday, because Mr. Smith would not sell it without the express condition that it should be shipped by the Regulator. The would-be purchaser wanted the grain for the U. P., hence, no sale. Z. F. Moody has today placed a pair of scales at the Rockland landing and is buying wheat to be shipped by the Union Pacific. He got one load already.
Superintendent Farley came up from the Cascades last night and will go down again this evening. He says the new locomotive has been tested and she answers fully all expectations. He thinks they have not enough cars to stall her on the inclines. The portage is now able to handle easily all the freight the two boats can possible bring to it and more besides. The inclines are sufficiently low to make fairly good landings and they will be completed as soon as the work can be profitably done.

From a letter recently received by his parents, it is learned that Mr. Frank A. French, a graduate of Wasco academy, was admitted to the classical course in Oberlin college, Oberlin, Ohio, on certificate of the principal of the academy without examination, and that he has three points of the course to his credit. This is an extremely creditable showing, both for the young man and for the school at which he prepared for college; the more so, as the requirements for admission to Oberlin are much higher than those of the colleges on the Pacific coast. We have no doubt that this auspicious beginning will be the means of bringing the young man additional laurels in the college of his choice. He has our best wishes for success.

A Successful Farmer.
J. B. Manly of Wapinitia is hauling wheat all the way from his ranch on Wapinitia flat to this city and selling it for 76 cents a bushel. The distance is over forty miles and he has to climb the Deschutes hill to boot. He brings in about fifty bushels a trip. In answer to the question "How are you getting along, Mr. Manly?" that gentleman answered substantially in these words: "A little over five years ago my wife and I were dumped off a wagon into a fenced corner on the Wapinitia flat. Each of us had a trunk and a grip sack and I had $80.50 in money. We had no team, no cattle, no tools, no house, no home. We pre-empted eighty acres of government land for which I have now a title and scratched for a living as best we could. I could not say that we worked extra hard, we kept at it of course and always had plenty to eat and wear. Today I have 400 acres of good level prairie land under fence, with about eighty-five acres in cultivation. I have four good young horses, a few head of cattle and some of the fattest hogs in Eastern Oregon. I have a good comfortable dwelling house, a good barn and other necessary farm buildings and the only corn crib on the flat and it is full of corn besides, of last year's crop. I have just paid off a mortgage of $230 that I borrowed to pay for my pre-emption, and I have grain enough to pay every dollar I owe in the world, and plenty left besides. I have a good reaper, silky plow, new Bain wagon and every tool I need for running the place. Some people are complaining that farming don't pay. I cannot say so. I have a good farm that I have acquired by the labor of my own hands during the last five years, without any very hard work, and have had a good living all the time besides."

WASCO ACADEMY NOTES.
The geometry class has just issued invitations to a unique social gathering next Halloween.
The number of pupils in attendance is constantly increasing. People in the surrounding country seem to be awaking to the fact that there is a first-class academy in The Dalles where their children can receive the very best instruction at reasonable rates.
The literary society is at work on a new basis. The young men are taking up the work of debate with a great deal of real enthusiasm.
Instruction is now being given each morning in vocal music. Miss Krebbel, the preceptress, is an accomplished musician and the exercise is sure to prove both pleasant and profitable to all.
Base-ball is the leading sport this season. Three games have been arranged with The Dalles nine; the first of the series to be played next Saturday at the fair grounds. Many of the best players in last year's nine are not now attending the academy, but their places have been filled by newcomers and an interesting game is assured if the city nine do not show the white feather and refuse to play at the last moment.

The Same Old Game.
J. T. Knopp of this city ordered lately from Salem a number of boxes of dried fruit giving positive instructions that they should be shipped by the Regulator. They came by the Baker notwithstanding that the address was all right, and the charges were $13.98, and now Mr. Knopp, would like to know who is going to pay him the five or six dollars incurred by somebody's mistake. A similar occurrence happened to Christian Brothers yesterday. They had ordered a lot of paper to be shipped by the Regulator. It came by the Baker, and yet the address on very package was as plain as ink could make it. To an ordinary mortal it is a little singular that a great corporation should stoop to acts as low as these. We venture to say that the agent of the Dalles Portland and Astoria Navigation Company at the Portland end of the line would never stoop so long as to ship by his line goods consigned and plainly addressed in care of the Union Pacific. The ways of Jay Gould are mysterious.

Save 50 Per Cent.
M. Sichel & Co., inform us they have received the freight schedules of The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Company for conveying freight from Portland to The Dalles, and that the rates of the new company are 50 per cent lower than the Union Pacific has been charging. Messrs. Sichel & Co., have ordered all their freight consigned to the care of the new transportation company, and will withdraw their patronage from the U. P. Co., which heretofore has had a monopoly of the carrying trade on the Columbia, and has charge most exorbitant rates.
What has been accomplished in lowering freight rates between Portland and The Dalles by this opposition line gives an idea of what the rates would be all along the river if the obstructions to navigation were removed from the Cascades to Lewiston.—Ochoco Review.

BORN.
On the 12th inst., to the wife of F. J. Chase, of Three Mile, a ten-pound boy. It is nearly ten years since Mrs. Chase surprised her liege lord in this fashion.
CORWOOD.—We have a large quantity of first-class oak wood; also fir slabs which will be sold at the lowest possible rates.
Jos. T. Peters & Co., Office: Corner Front and Jefferson St., north side of railroad track. —015-4t.

Wanted.
Four stone masons wanted immediately. Apply to Blakely & Houghton. 10-15-2t

Pasture.
Good stubble and meadow pasture to be had on the A. B. Moore place on Three-mile, two and one-half miles from town. 8-17-1t.

Pay your city tax at once and save extra costs. Time is up.
