THE DIPSOMANIA CURE.

Devout Christians have long declared that nothing but the saving grace of re- Cor. Minneapolis Journal. ligion could lift a man out of the gutter and keep him straight ever thereafter. Recent observations of the effects of the Keeley cure for dipsomenia indicate that the good brethren knew what they were 7th of May, is in the city for the purpose talking about. It is reported, says the of having the skin grafting process tried Spokane Review, that many of the cares on him. wrought by so-called bichloride of gold roasted. The skin was burned off his process were only ephemeral, after all, and that the old topers are turning out early in the morning for their eyeopener pretty much as they have so often their stead at present is the raw, inturned out after the temperance crusade flamed and swollen flesh. The sight is had run its course.

The truth is that there is nothing new in the Keeley institute for the cure of drunkeness. Inebriate hospitals have been established in different parts of the country for many years; and it now seems probable that there was nothing I was burned. My ears were as big as new either in the course of treatment by your fist and my head as big as a half these modern institutes. Analyses of the so-called bichloride of gold remedy, made by a chemist of this city, failed to disclose the presence of either soldium or gold in any form, and analyses made by eastern chemists have resulted in the by Dr. F. D. Edsall, who said that he same manner. The secret of the wonderful cures that have made lies in the positive manner in which cures were promised, and to the fact that to give the patient renewed hope the pleasing thought of an entirely new discovery was thrown out. These influences are always powerfully exertive upon the minds of hopeless invalids or inebriates, and can do more in such cases than all the drugs that were ever stacked upon the apothecary's shelves.

But the strength of the new treatment is also its weakness; such a feeling of been selling at five cents apiece, but the confidence is imparted to the patient price took a tumble yesterday and sevthat he returns home with the belief eral fishermen sold a boat load of fine that the drug has destroyed the appetitle, and that he can look upon the wine space. One cent for a twenty pound when it is red without falling into the silver salmon, the finest quality of that oldtime weakness. The consequence excellent fish, is the lowest price perhaps has been that some of the most promis- that a food fish ever sold for in this or ing cures are now suffering with a lamentable relapse.

The best way to stamp out dipsomania is to leave alchol severely alone. An intoxicant can not be poured toto the stomach of even the strongest man with- big money by selling salmon at a cent out leaving its evil effects. It is worse for a well man than for the invalid, for it disturbs the normal balance of health. It is the pioneer of disease sapping away at the constitution until the work of undermining is done, and leaving an that he threw them out with a pitchfork easy pathway for the silent emissaries of and soon got fish enough to last for a death. No drug can overcome these month.-Fort Townsend Leader. evil influences although drugs may occasionally be used as an adjunct to the will of the patient.

THE ELECTIONS;

The This species grows to a length of twenresults give no sound basis for poli- ty-five feet and to the weight of one ton tical calculation as to what may or may not occurr when we come to elect a president. The election of McKinley by 20,000 majority would indicate that the people will not abandon the principle of protection without a hard struggle. At any rate McKinleyism is certainly not dead by a long way, and political or when suffering from hunger.-Forest forecast must take this into account.

A Telepathic Coincidence.

I had as a guest in my residence in Jamaica a lady of unusual intelligence, who was very intimate with and much attached to Mrs. Beecher Stowe. They frequently corresponded. She had a dream in which Mrs. Stowe seemed to be occupied, singularly enough, in dig-ging the ground, and she inquired if there was any foundation for this. From the reply she learned that Mrs. Stowe had been shortly before in Scotland on a visit to the Duke of Argyle, and had been asked to plant a tree as a memorial of her visit on leaving. Here it is probable that, besides the general sympathy between the parties concerned, there was some special thought, on Mrs. Stowe's part, of the friend who dreamed of her act, connected in time either with the actual handling of the spade or with the remembrance of her strange occupation. Few people would suppose such a coincidence to be purely accidental, unless from the apparent impossibility for accounting for it otherwise.—Blackwood's the actual handling of the spade or with Indiana Who Bide in Pine Carriages. The Sions nation is rapidly becoming a nation of aristocrats. During the past few weeks many fine new carriages have crossed over here to the Sioux reservation, and all of them belonged to members of the Sioux nation who came here Horses Bought and Sold on The at different times and purchased them, paying for the same in good hard cash. Carriage dealers are now, in consequence, doing a rushing business with the Indians, and the demand for the finest and most expensive carriages is increasing, all the prominent and wealthier Indians appearing determined not to be outdone by any other member or members of the tribe.

The purchase by one Indian of an elegant carriage is sure to arouse the jealousy of some other Indian, and then some rustling is done. Cattle or anything that will net them the money needed is hurried to the nearest market and disposed of, and with the money thus obtained the fortunate Indian will hurry to a wagon and carriage dealer and purchase the finest carriage that can be procured.

The Lower Brule and Crow Creek Indians are already the possessors of many fine turnouts, and should they keep on as they are now doing every Indian will soon travel about in a carriage of his If the carriage manufacturers would paint their carriages a gaudier color it would result in largely increased sales, on the frontier at least, but at the rate the Indians are purchasing it is quite probable that they are satisfied with the plain colors. -South Dakota

To Have New Eyellds. Harvey Chaffee, of East Valley, a well known oil contractor, who was badly burned by a natural gas explosion on the Mr. Chaffee was very severely face and neck, and ten holes were left in his head. The most serious scorehing was that upon the eyelids. They were completely burned off both eyes, and in his misfortune with great fortitude. When asked if his injuries were painful, he replied: "Yes, sir, they hurt me right smart at times, but it takes a great deal to make me grunt. I can stand a heap. You ought to have seen me when bushel measure. I was a regular sight. You can ask my wife there," and he referred the reporter to a pleasant woman who sat near. The work of putting new cyclids upon the unfortunate contracter is to be done would cut the material for Mr. Chaffee's eyelids out of the patient's arm. Except for his burns Mr. Chaffee was in a healthy condition, and his own cuticle would perhaps knit more rapidly than that from another person. eyelids will be bereft of eyelashes, but utility and a cure is what is sought after rather than beauty in this case.-Pittsburg Post.

Twenty Pound Salmon for a Cent Apiece. The present wonderful run of salmon has so glutted the market that for some time these silver sided beauties have salmon, weighing about twenty pounds any other country, but salmon are so plentiful that people do not know what to do with them.

It is estimated that enough fish could be taken there in one day to fill 1,000 barrels. Fishermen say they can make apiece to the canneries if they will only buy all they can catch. One man caught fourteen with a gill hook attached to a hoe handle yesterday, and another man claims to have found them in such numbers in shallow water in the Dungeness Sharks in Long Island Sound. An unusual number of large sharks was reported during September in Long Island and Fisher's Island sounds. To these the name of man eater is generally applied. As a matter of fact, however, the true man eating shark (Carcharodon being surpassed in size only by the bask-ing shark. It is a relative of the enormous shark whose teeth occur fossil in the phosphate beds of South Carolina. Any shark measuring nine or ten feet in length is liable to be called a man eater, and not without warrant, for all of them will attack man with slight provocation and Stream.
