We are more than ever convinced that an artesian well hereabouts would prove a good thing. We understand that a project is on foot to undertake the work of boring in this vicinity. We hope ere long to have the pleasure of noting the success of the scheme.—Goldendale Sentinel.

Crowds are still nightly attracted to the auction sale at Harris' dry goods store. The bidding is always lively and goods are sold literally for what they will bring. Auctioneer Crossen says Harris has a man in New York named Levi who steals the dry goods and he (Crossen) is going to give them away.

How It Works.

The writer of this paragraph is now wearing a ten by twelve smile that reaches all the way from ear to ear; and here is the reason why: Mr. and Mrs. Norris, wellknown residents of Pendleton, Mr. Norris having been for some time employed as book keeper for Landry & Demott of that city, went down from here on the Baker this morning, no unusual thing for residents from the counties east of here, who can save $3.05 by buying a ticket to The Dalles and going the rest of the journey to Portland by the Union Pacific's boats for fifty cents. But Mr. and Mrs. Norris were going to Kansas City, and right here is where the smile comes in. Mr. Norris had intended going by the Union Pacific and two tickets from Pendleton to Kansas City would have cost him $115, but he learned just in time that he could save $6.10 by buying tickets to The Dalles and going to Portland by the river and not being in any great hurry to get to his destination he adopted the cheapest route, and when he gets to Portland he will buy a ticket to Kansas City by the way of the Southern Pacific. Thus the scheme of the Union Pacific to drive the people's boats off the river has a sort of back action to it and it kicks the company hardest. The fifty cent rate costs the company, in this one instance, exactly $102.40 for had it not been in existence Mr. and Mrs. Norris would have paid out to the Union Pacific the sum of $115, whereas they only paid it $12.40. Brethren, let the good work go on.

BOIN.

The Pope and the Italians.

Rome, Nov. 3.—The sudden summons of the chief of the Jesuits to Rome is generally regarded as an indication that the pope is prepared to extend to that order something of its former preponderance in church affairs. As France draws nearer to Italy, the pope diverges from France. The pope has refused to approve the prosecution of the archbishop of Aix, and France has, in some degree, retaliated by making friendly overtures to Italy. The exceptional duties on Italian produce are to be rescinded, and the discussions as to the delimitation of the frontier in Africa are to be resumed. In the face of all this, the pope calls upon the Jesuit element for advice which, in the view of well-known churchmen, means a reactionary policy.

An Explosion in a Graveyard.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 3.—News has just reached here from Coraopolis, Pa., between here and Pittsburgh, of a strange and terrible affair near that place today. The Allegheny Cemetery Company, a few months ago, started to bore a gas well on its new cemetery property in Coraopolis. Yesterday there was a terrific explosion at this well, which caused a great upheaval of the earth in the vicinity. Hundreds of dead bodies in the cemetery were hurled from their resting places, and many costly monuments were shattered. Efforts have been made to keep the matter from becoming public, but the report comes from a reliable gentleman, formerly of Wheeling.

Accused of a Terrible Crime.

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 3.—Boulder is all excitement over a terrible crime that was committed here last night. George Weiderhold took Dora Anderson, a pretty Swede girl, for a walk, and it is alleged, forced her to take poison against her will. She strongly objected, but he held her nose, and forced her to drink a large vial of laudanum. He then threw away the bottle, which was found, and still contained some of the poison. As soon as the crime was made known a physician was called, and worked over her from midnight last night until 9 o'clock this morning, when the girl died. Weiderhold was arrested and lodged in jail. He denies all knowledge of the affair.

Must Answer to the Indictment.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Judge Wallace today refused to set aside the indictment found by the grand jury against Bamberger & Kempfer, the insolvent wine merchants, who claim the jury was not legally impaneled. They furthermore claimed, being a creditor of the firm. On the latter proposition Judge Wallace ruled there was no evidence to that effect. The defendants were granted until tomorrow to file a demurrer to the indictment.

Fourteen Buildings Burned.

FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 3.—Sanger, a town fourteen miles east of here, suffered a loss by fire Sunday night. The fire started about midnight and is believed to have been of incendiary origin, as it started in two places at the same time. Several narrow escapes of life occurred. The first fire was discovered in the rear of Dr. Watson's residence and the other in the rear of the new drug store. Fourteen buildings were consumed, entailing a loss of about $12,000.

But little has been heard recently of the Black Hills tin mines, of which much was said a year ago. This is due to the conservative men managing them and not to anything of a discouraging character. The Harney Peak company alone has expended over $5,000,000 in the development of its properties, building mills and for costly machinery. Smelting might have commenced a good while ago, but it was deemed best first to get the mines in shape to allow of large productions of ore. When the 250-ton mill just completed is started it is said it will be kept bustling. Predictions are freely made by those who have looked the district over that in five years these mines will be able to supply the entire home demand for tin.

The secretary of the navy has determined that the meritorious officers of the service shall earn the reward of their capacity and character. Among other demands that he makes as a condition for reward is that the officer shall be a sober man. The day of the drunken tar on the quarter-deck is over. The sailor has profited with the general diminution of drunkenness, but, more than that, the new navy demands higher intellectual training than the old, and that and alcohol are incompatible.

Wherever the boom boometh there the boodler is pretty apt to boodle. New Denver is having a little settlement with some of her officials.

A MINE HORROR.

The Falling of a Cage Causes the Death of Seventeen Men.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 4.—At midnight last night, when one shift of men at the Anaconda mine were relieving another, seventeen men were killed by the falling of the cage and two fatally injured. As the cage containing nineteen men started to descend, the rope broke and the cage was precipitated to the bottom of the mine. The dead men's forms were crushed out of all resemblance to human beings.

McKinley Ahead.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The result thus far shows Flower, McKinley, Boies and Russell are elected. Pennsylvania republican, Ohio legislature republican and the New York legislature in doubt. The majorities are Flower 40,000, McKinley 20,000, Russel 4,000 and Boies 6,000.

Weather Forecast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Forecast for Oregon and Washington: Light rains except fair weather in Southern Oregon.

They Speak From Experience.

"We know from experience in the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that it will prevent croup," says Messrs. Gaddy & Worley, Percy, Iowa. They also add that the remedy has given great satisfaction in this vicinity, and that they believe it to be the best in the market for throat and lung diseases. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly druggists.

A Favorite Remedy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a favorite during the winter months on account of its great success in the cure of colds. There is nothing that will loosen a severe cold so quickly, or as promptly relieve the lungs. Then it counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. It is pleasant and safe to take, and fully worthy of its popularity. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly, The Dalles, Or. d-w

An Old Adage.

There is an old adage: "What every body says must be true." Henry Cook, of New Knoxville, Ohio, in a recent letter says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has taken well here. Everybody likes it on account of the immediate relief it gives." There is nothing like it to loosen and relieve a severe cold. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly, druggists. dw

Are Your Children Subject to Croup?

As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Snipes & Kinersly, Druggists. d&w.
