John Anthony late in the employ of Angust Buchler, now in the confectionary business at La Grande, came down on the passenger this morning. Mr. Anthony is well pleased with his new home and with his success in business, but very naturally he has a goft spot in his heart for The Dalles. Just how long it may remain soft it is hard to tell. The fact is there is going to be a wedding held at the brewery next Thursday evening in which John will figure as chief mourner and after that it is cojectural what may happen. We hope, however, that during all his future life he may be able to look back and say that The Dalles is the best place in the world because it furnished him the best wife in the world. The name of the future Mrs. Anthony is Miss Matilda Eichenberger, and the Chronicle devoutly wishes to her and her intended husband many happy days.
