The Farmer's Picufe at North Dalles. What the Regulator is doing directly and indirectly for the farmers was again illustrated in 'a forcible way today at North Dalles. Wheat has been worth-94 cents in Portland for nearly a week, but the Union Pacifie's agent didn't ing. Smith started in yesterday morning by taunting Moody with the remark; Why don't you give the people what the wheat is worth? I'll give 85 a bushel," and at that rate Smith got nearly all that was hauled yesterday, the most of what is arriving at 86 cents a bushel, Smith offering 851/2. Thus whether the Regulator gets the wheat or gets it not, the farmers reap the harvest and the CHRONICLE is glad of it.
