LOCAL BREVITIES.

J. H. Sherar of Sherar's Bridge is in the city.

J. J. Lucky of Hood River was in town today.

State Attorney-general George E. Chamberlain and United States Attorney F. P. Mays came up from Portland on the noon passenger.

The following names are registered at the Umatilla house: Mrs. A. H. Hope, Cascade Locks; B. Gunther, Moro; F. Trudell, Kingsley; H. Ward, Kingsley; A. D. McDonald, Monkland; A. F. Brown, Portland; W. J. Haight, Bake Oven; and C. G. Abbott Kingsley.

We are told that the town of Antelope in Wasco county has been rife with litigation lately. In a recent brawl over there a man was shot through the foot, and during a recess in the trial that followed two of the jurors quarreled and fought, were parted by the justice of the peace and then fined by that dignitary for their unbecoming conduct. Antelope is a lively place.—Prineville News.

Dr. Hugh Logan this morning attended to the case of a man on whom a lumber pile fell at John's Mill about ten days ago. The man, whose name we have been unable to learn, was brought to town three days ago, and not till the doctor examined him did he discover that one of his legs was broken. The doctor attended to the fracture and the man is now resting easily.

An exchange truthfully says: "Everybody does not know that the principal supply of pumice stone comes from the Islands of Lipari, situated in the Tyrrhenian sea." It may also be said with an equal degree of truth that everybody is not aware of the fact that Crook county contains enough pumice stone to supply the wants of the United States for years to come. And it is of good quality too. Thousands of tons of pumice can be obtained in the Upper Deschutes country.—Prineville News.

Bad roads are the complaint throughthe county. It should be remedied. The road tax, intelligently expended, would give far better roads than we have at present. The theory that obtains at present is patchwork. If the supervisor of every road district would build a small piece ot road, where most needed every year, the road problem would be solved in a few years, and teams that are now pulled to death on bad roads could be kept at much less expense.—Eugene Guard.

Three hobos were arrested last night and for lack of money to pay their fine were ordered to go to work on the city wood pile. One, a colored brother, obeyed the mandate, but the other two refused. The marshal got back on them by refusing them either food or water ond the way they were calling for the aqueous fluid when the CHRONICLE reporter was around this morning lead him to infer that they would soon be brought to time. It is a law ancient as the human race itself that if a man wont work, neither should he eat, and the marshal is simply putting his brace of hobos under the divine injunction.

A Wedding and a Baptism.

It is not often that an excursion takes the double character of a wedding festival and a religious ceremony. It is generally an occasion for hilarity and mirth, while the more solemn services of religion are left for other occasions. The excursion last Friday night was an exception, however, to the general rule. Church bells and wedding bells were happily intermingled. If there was a wedding there was also a funeral—or, as our good baptist brothers would insist, a burial. That is, there was a baptism and a wedding, but both have been kept dreadfully quiet for reasons that will now appear. The fact is both were very private affairs—too private in fact. Parson Spencer, the celebrant, promised to conceal the names of the wedded pair if his dues were promptly paid, or, what amounts to nearly the same thing, he threatened to reveal the names unless his fees were paid and we suppose they have been for we have not heard from him.

The baptism case was altogether different. There was no particular secrecy about it. Mr. Spencer could not be blamed if it was observed according to strict Baptist custom, rather than Methodist. In fact Mr. Spencer had nothing to do with it unless, being the only preacher present he might be construed as a sort of proxy god-father celebrant. The place was at The Dalles landing, the time being just before the boat started on the excursion; the exact spot was the Regulator's gang plank; the candidate was B. F. Laughlin, and the act was performed without so much as a word of confession. In fact it is evident the conversion must have been very sudden for after the candidate came out of the river he had to become indebted to Captain Wilson for a dry suit of clothes whose longitude might be proportionate to the emergency, but whose latitude was sadly defective. Thus did B. F. Laughlin become a charter member of the church of the Regulator.

Tht Regulator Gets There.

The fight between the Regulator and the Union Pacific becomes more interesting every day. Today John Boydston of Moro, Sherman county, arrived in town on his way to Salem and stopped to put up for the night at Lochhead's feed yard. The agent of the Union Pacific, as soon as he cast his "heagle eye" on him, asked him where he was going and on being informed the agent told Boydston he would take him and his wife and his team and wagon to Portland for $11.50, which was "a great deal Portland cheaper than the other boat would take him for." Boydston accepted the offer and the agent and he started to go to the Baker landing. On the way the party met A. C. Sanford and as Boyton wanted to be identified at the bank to get a check cashed Sanford accompanied him, while the agent herded Boydson's team on the street. While the agent was standing guard Sanford and others had fixed him solid for the Regulator so that when Boydson came out of the bank he lead his team to the people's boat, notwithstanding that the agent offered to carry him for nothing and give him a dollar for the privilege. It is the same old bait and if Boydston had bit at it he would have found himself mulcted for about $15 at Portland which he must either pay or fight the company in the courts.

Crude Petroleum.

Mr. Linus Hubbard has left at this office two sample bottles of crude petroleum taken from the Canadian oil fields in Petrolia, in the province of Ontario, twenty miles from the eastern terminus of the St. Clair river tunnel. This oil, in its crude state, is used as a lubricant on the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk and other railroads, and in its refined state as an illuminator everywhere throughout Canada. Its supply is practically inexhaustible, the only question being how much can be marketed. It has proved a great source of wealth to the Canadians and has been the means of development of the immense salt interests of Western Canada. The entire industry has been developed by simply boring holes in the ground, and it is the opinion of Mr. Hubbard, who is thoroughly familiar with the Ontario country, that if proper steps were taken in this country and Washington that similar results would be obtained.

Circuit Court.

John and William Jordan both pleaded guilty this morning to the charge of horse-stealing and an effort is being made to have them sent to the state reform school. William had his trial yesterday and was found guilty. The verdict evidently brought them to time.

The case of Jonathan Morris vs. the W. H. McAtee estate occupied the court this entire forenoon and was not ended at this writing.

Little Johnny Tells a Story.

San Francisco Examiner.

One time there was a young gote wich felt butty, and there was a ole ram wich lay in the road, haf a sleep, a chune his cud. The gote he had been shet up in a paster ol his life, an' had never saw a ram, and he said to his sister, the gote did, "You jest stan' still an' see me wipe that freek of the erth.

So the gote he went up before the ram an' stomps his feets an' shuke his head real frightful, but the ram he didn't get up, but only jes' kep a chune his cud an' wotchet out between his i lashes. Bime by the gote he backed of and take a run and then arose up in the air an' come down with his hed on the ram's bed, wack! The gote's hed was busted but the ole ram he never wank his eye. Then the ole ram he smiled with his mowth an' sed to the buttegote's sister, "Pears to me, miss, that kangaroo of yourn is mity careless where he lites, he come gum dasted near makin' me swoller my cud."

There Is None Better.

Dr. R. L. St. John of Howland, Putnam county, Missouri, takes especial pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, because he knows it to be reliable. He has used it in his practice for several years, and says there is none better, It is especially valuable for colds and as a preventative and cure for croup. This most excellent medicine is for sale by Snipes & Kinersly, The Dalles, Or. d-w

Notice.

The D. P. & A. N. company have increased their force at Portland and are new prepared to handle important shipments as express or fast freight. The rate on shipments so ordered will be ten cents per hundred higher than the present freight rate. We trust the public will understand and appreciate our endeavors to give them prompt and efficient service. H. R. SIBLEY. 11-16-21. Superintendent.

A Favorite Remedy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a favorite during the winter months on account of its great success in the cure of colds. There is nothing that will loosen a severe cold so quickly, or as promptly relieve the lungs. Then it counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. It is pleasant and safe to take, and fully worthy of its popularity. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly, The Dalles, Or. d-w

Notice.

To all business men and citizens. The D. P. & A. N. company will not be responsible for any debts contracted by its employes or others, unless the same are properly covered by a written requisition from this office. H. R. SIBLEY. 11-16-21. Superintendent.

An Old Adage.

There is an old adage: "What every body says must be true." Henry Cook, of New Knoxville, Ohio, in a recent letter says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has taken well here. Everybody likes it on account of the immediate relief it gives." There is nothing like it to loosen and relieve a severe cold. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly, druggists. dw

Are Your Children Subject to Croup?

As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it conisins no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Snipes & Kinersly. Druggists. d&w.
