The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

The Northwest Pacific Farmer has the following:
"One will occasionally find a man in the employ of a big corporation who has enough manhood about him to become disgusted with their nefarious or unwarranted impositions, and with the strength of his convictions break away from a lucrative position and stand out as a man. Such a person has Captain J. W. Troup, superintendent of the Union Pacific water lines of the Northwest proven himself to be. For many months he has been compelled to run the line of boats from this place to The Dalles in a manner which he knew to be contrary to the wish, best interest and accommodation of the patrons, as well as to the detriment and disgrace of the boat line itself. Captain Troup stayed with the company until such papers as The Dalles Chronicle, Northwest Pacific Farmer and other papers which were working in the interest of the people showed the workings of things in their true light, then he withdrew. In an interview he gave as the cause of his withdrawal:
"There is nothing to say regarding the affair. I sent in my resignation a week ago, and it was accepted. I have no complaint against the company, as far as I am personally concerned, and they have none against me. I have been very much dissatisfied with the way things have been running, and as I saw no way to remedy them on my part, I tendered my resignation to the company. I leave on my own accord, and having been offered a position which will be advantageous for me to accept, I have chosen this opportunity to resign."
If many another honest man in the employ of this company would send in their resignation it would soon bring Jay Gould who has no interest in the Northwest except getting all that he can out of it, to his senses. If this man who has served faithfully for so many years and who was one of the most important officials will resign, because things will not be run right, there must be something indeed rotten in the management.

How Wholly Unprepared the Brazilians are for the responsibilities of a republican form of government may be gathered from the fact, if fact it is, that their main reason for desiring the return of the empire is, as it is said, that under the republic the prices of commodities have doubled. Men who want a change of government every time there is a rise or fall in the price of commodities are not fit to be trusted with a republican government. Brazil needs education.

How He Warmed His Feet.
E. E. Charman of Oregon City was awakened Tuesday night by a severe pain in his foot, and upon brief investigation found his bed was on fire. He seized wraps and finally succeeded in smothering the flames. The cause of this midnight experience was the electric light. Mr. Charman was detained in his store later than usual Monday night, and upon reaching his home retired, and thoughtfully placed the incandescent electric light under the clothes to warm his feet. He went to sleep with his electric bed fellow and was awakened by the blaze.

The descriptions published by the public press of the new Catholic cathedral to be erected in Portland some day are purely imaginary. Plans for such an edifice have not been contemplated. When His Grace, however, decides on erecting a new cathedral it is needless to say that it will be one of the grandest in these United States.—Catholic Sentinel.

A Michigan judge has decided that common intelligence and such information as comes from reading the newspapers does not unfit a man for jury duty. This is a decided victory for intelligence in the jury room, but it will knock many chronic jurors out of a job.

Last night Mrs. C. Schroeder, the wife of a well-known East Portland barber, gave birth to four girl babies, at their home over there. The little ones are well, fat and happy. Crops never fail in Oregon.—Ex.

The royalties from Moody and Sankey's famous "Gospel Hymns" have, it is said, amounted to $1,200,000, every penny of which has gone for charitable purposes.

Lieutenant-Commander Marthon, U. S. A.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A cable dispatch was received at the navy department from Shanghai today announcing the death of Lieutenant-Commander Joseph Marthon, of that port, from cholera morbus.
Lieutenant Marthon served twenty-eight years in the navy—twelve years in active service. He was commander of the United States steamship Palis, on which vessel he died.

Depositors Will Lose Everything.
ARLINGTON, Minn., Nov. 20.—It was learned this evening that J. A. Oblinger, owner of the Arlington bank and the village postmaster, is a defaulter to the extent of $15,000 or $20,000. Depositors will lose everything, as the bank was a private one. The postoffice is not involved.

Death From Excessive Drinking.
ST. PAUL, Nov. 20.—The dead bodies of John Whalen and James Walsh were found in the upper room of the Manitoba house this morning. The police suspected foul play at first, but the coroner's jury has decided that the cause of death was excessive drinking.

Will Soon Get Used to it.
CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 21.—A telegram recently received from Guatemala says the political excitement is increasing there and that no day passes that President Barrillas does not find a note threatening him with death.

Col. Polk, president of the southern farmers' alliance, declares that if Cleveland is nominated for president next year he cannot carry North Carolina. The idea of North Carolina renouncing Democracy is startling enough to take away the breath of a Kentucky colonel.
Somebody besides the fishermen must be making considerable money out of sturgeon. It sells readily in Boston and New York for 25 cents a pound. On the Columbia it is worth at most 2 cents.
