KILLING THE USURERS.

Russian Peasants Driven to Desperation by Money-Lenders.

STARVATION IS THEIR FATE.

A Sacramento Man's Three Families Fighting for His Money.

GOING TO SETTLE THE MATTER.

The Kaiser Wants to Know Whether He is Crazy—Fined the Anarchists—Don't Believe the Tale.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 2.—Advices from Samara state that the peasantry, driven to desperation by the extortions of the "koolaks," as the native usurers are called, have killed a number of them, and robbed their dwellings of the money and valuables wrung from the starving country people. In one Samara village a "koolak," noted for his grasping disposition, had come into possession, since the beginning of the famine, of nearly all of the jewelry worn as heirlooms by the women of the neighborhood. His life was spared on surrendering the pledges. The "koolaks" are known to be in many cases in collusion with the officers, who aid them in extorting their exorbitant interest. One effect of the famine, however, has been to make these peasants reckless of the profound respect which authority in Russia has heretofore commanded, and several of the local officials are among the victims of the recent outbreaks.

Three Families After His Money.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 2.—Thirty-one years ago Joel R. Carter married in England. After the birth of his two children he came to America and established himself in Akron, Ohio. He prospered and for a time corresponded with his family, but finally moved to Peoria, Ill., where he was known as Cramer. In 1870 he married again and had two children by his second wife. A younger woman fell in his way, so that he in turn deserted his later wife, and came here with his new flame, bringing with him $50,000 in greenbacks. The second wife obtained a divorce from him. He left her and his children in possession of property valued at $100,000. As soon as the divorce from him was secured he commenced proceedings against the English wife, who had advertised for information, concerning him. A marked copy of the paper containing the history of the divorce had been sent her. She objected to the divorce, saying he had deserted her. This turn of affairs worried him so he took sick and died. The three families are now claimants of his estate. Joel R. Carter, jr., a son by his first wife, is here. An amicable settlement is possible, as there is enough for all. He was exceedingly successful in all his business ventures.

The Kaiser's Latest Fad.

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—The kaiser, it is rumored, has seriously spoken of submitting himself to medical examination as to his sanity in order to offer a conclusive refutation to the critics in France and England who have been throwing out hints reflecting upon it. Should the kaiser conclude to take the step, the leading experts would be invited from England, and perhaps from Italy and Sweden, who would make thorough examination and a complete report upon the cerebral condition of the illustrious patient. Whatever may be the foundation for the rumors, it is certain that the kaiser's mental condition is a subject of general discussion, or rather insinuations, and it is believed that the current gossip cannot have failed in some form to reach the kaiser's ears.

The Chicago Anarchists Fined.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Justice Woodman, before whom the cases of the anarchists arrested at the meeting held November 11 are being tried, today decided that the assemblies raided were unlawful ones. He fined the leaders $100 each and the others $10 each. These fines, at the instance of the city prosecutor, were at once suspended. This action is presumably taken for the purpose of averting an appeal to the higher court. It is understood, however, the defendants will appeal.

The Story is Not Believed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—It is stated at the Chinese legation that there has been no dispatch received there stating that a preliminary skirmish had recently taken place at the port of Shanghai between two Italian gunboats and the Chinese navy, and the two former were sunk in deep water. The minister said he believed the story to be without foundation.

A Russian Scheme.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3.—Consul General Crawford, at St. Petersburg has transmitted to the department, the late reports upon the details and workings of a system now in practice in Russia, resembling certain plans incorporated in the platform of the farmers' alliance of this country of making advances on the farmer's grain, stored in warehouses or delivered to the officials of the railroad companies. The consul general says: "This scheme which went into effect in June of 1888, and at the present day is generally adopted throughout the country, and business is carried on under it on a very large scale. The scheme gives satisfaction to the farmers."

Is Probably Not True.
LONDON, Dec. 2.—The Times today prints a dispatch from Santiago de Chili, which says that during the hearing before Judge of Crimes Foster, who is investigating the attack on a number of sailors from the American cruiser Baltimore, a witness from the Baltimore's crew appeared in court in such a state of intoxication it was necessary to remove him forcibly. Captain Schley, commander of the Baltimore, apologized to the court for the conduct of the witness.

No Change in the Field Case.
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Cyrus Field passed a comfortable night and has not lost any ground since yesterday. The condition of his daughter, Mrs. Lindley, still remains very serious, but there has been no change since yesterday. Assignee Gould is getting ready a statement of affairs of Field, Lindley & Co., but it is not yet completed. He said there is absolutely nothing new in the case today.

The Speakership Contest.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The speakership contest today shows an increasing activity and it is evident to all that the crisis is rapidly approaching. The relative positions of the various candidates at the present writing seems to be as follows: Crisp, first; Mills, second; Springer, third; McMillan, fourth; and Hotch, fifth.

Striking Miners in France.
PARIS, Dec. 2.—A dispatch states that the affairs throughout the coal mining districts are resuming the normal condition. Striking miners in the vicinity of the mines have returned to work and no further trouble is feared. The epidemic influenza has increased, and deaths from the disease occurred here last week by the hundred.

Busy Preparing for War.
BERLIN, Dec. 2.—Hundreds of women are engaged in Spandau rolling paper for cartridges. This work has hitherto been done in the prisons, but that source of supply was not sufficient to meet the present pressure of work in the royal arsenal. The gunnery department is working night and day.

Bavages on Yellow Fever.
LONDON, Dec. 2.—Advices from Santos state that owing to the prevalence of yellow fever at that port 120 vessels are delayed there waiting to discharge cargoes. Some vessels are departing for other ports with the cargoes with which they were laden on their arrival.

Secretary Foster's Condition.
CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—General Hamilton, of the United States Marine hospital, left hurriedly for Washington last night on receipt of a telegram asking for his services to attend Secretary Foster.

Germany's Liberal Fair Exhibit.
BERLIN, Dec. 2.—The budget committee of the reichstag have voted 900,000 marks to be devoted to providing a proper German exhibit at the Chicago Columbian exposition.

Suing for the Irish Funds.
DUBLIN, Dec. 2.—Timothy Healy has commenced an action against Monro to compel him to restore the Irish funds to those entitled to possession of the money.

To Protect Christians in China.
LONDON, Dec. 2.—The Chronicle says the Vatican is making semi-official overtures to the powers to protect Christians in China.

First Snow in California.
