Accidents on Road and Ratt

M. Clerault, locomotive superintendent of the management of the Western of France railway, gives some interesting statistics of the accidents which happen with road vehicles, and which occur on According to his figures the railways. road vehicle accidents can be summed writer spoke of the heavy stock the firm writer spoke of the heavy stock the firm of every $55,000; one passenger wounded out of every $0,000.

At the same time the statistics of the French railways show that one passen ger is killed out of 26,720,000, and one enger wounded out of 1,060,000. Thus in France at the present time the traveler may make a journey of ordinary length with only a twenty-seven-mil-lionth chance of being killed and one-millionth chance of being wounded.-London Tit-Bits.

Do Birds Draw Lots?

Flocks of birds so enhance every landscape that it is a source of regret that they are less and less a common feature of our country rambles. They mark the return of spring more emphatically than the chance blooming of violets; and would that we were so keen sighted as to mark their breaking up and the scattering of mated pairs over the countr This is doubtless a gradual process, for I find the birds, as the nestling season draws near, gathering about their favorite summer homes, often a dozen or more, and in some way there is a drawing of lots, and the particular spots are reoccupied.-Dr. C. C. Abbott in Montreal Star.
