The town of Lebanon in Linn county has a woolen mill in successful operation that cost $120,000.

The Chinese suppose that the number of blossoms on a "China lily" indicate the degree of good luck in store for its possessor in the new year.

The Eugene Guard makes a little kick instances to the Catholic church. at the idea of The Dalles getting $100,-000 from the government for a public building. The Guard is needlessly wasting its strength. It will be time enough to kick in earnest when the appropriation is made.

The CHRONICLE believes that Governor McKinley spoke the sentiments of the a brother of Frederick the Great, and wast majority of all classes and political creeds west of the Mississippi when he said : "There is one thing that they all might as well make up their minds to down east: That they can't have wool free when it comes from the sheep's burg-Schwerin, Baden and the Netherback rnd put a tariff on it when it comes on our backs. They cannot have wool come into their factories in New Eng-land free, and come out of their factories with a tariff to the American people.'

Some folks are poking fun at the CHRONICLE reporter for saying that the grounds around the Joles mansion were now beautified by the presence of "a pair of peacocks-a male and a female." Now really all the CHRONICLE did was to follow a very common usage of the word, as kny one may see by consulting Webster, and apply it to the species instead of the sex. However the blunder is not shalf so bad as that made by a countryman of the writer who was at one time, and may be yet an alderman for one of time in the city of Venice where I wus New York Trib lants of Two Sisters Are at the Head of Many Countries. It is not generally known that the reigning houses of Europe, with few ex-ceptions, are descended from two sisters, the one being the mother of almost all of the Catholic princes and princesses, and the other of the majority of those of the evangelical confession. The late Frederick Theodore Richter, the historian, first discovered this interesting historical fact in 1876. The genealogical records of the various families in proof of the assertion of Richter, however, have been published for the first time by Dr. Ottokar Lorenz, professor of history in the University of Jena.

The parents of the two sisters whose descendants have become so powerful were two German rulers of comparative insignificance: Duke Louis Rudolph of Brunswick-Wolfenbuettel, who died in 1735, and his wife, Christine Louis, who departed this life in 1747-a daughter of Prince Albrecht Ernst of Oettingen. The elder daughter of the ducal pair, the Princess Elizabeth Christine, after her conversion to the Catholic church. married in 1708 the subsequent Emperor

Charles VI of Germany. The Empress Elizabeth Christine, through her daughter, Maria Theresia, the ancestor of the houses of Habsburg-Lothringia, Tuscany, Sicily and Modena and-through the marriages of female descendants-the reigning families of Portugal, Brazil and Italy (Savoy-Carignan), Saxony, the present reigning families of Spain and Bavaria, the Spanish Bourbons and all of the Orleans family. These descendants number all told about 400, and belong in the majority of

The second daughter of the ducal pair mentioned above, the Princess Antoinette Amalie, married her cousin, Duke Ferdinand II of Brunswick-Bevern. The fruits of this marriage were three daughters, the Princesses Louise, Amalie and Julianne, and one son, the Duke Carl. From Princess Louise-Amalie, who married Prince August William of Prussia, thus became the mother of Frederick William II, is descended the present royal house of Prussia. Through the marriages of other female descendants she is also the female progenitor of the reigning families of Russia, Meckleplands

The second daughter of the Princess Antoinette Amalie, the Princess Sophie, became the wife of Duke Ernst Friedric of Coburg-Saalfield, and the ancestor in the female line of the entire house of Coburg, and through it of the ruling families of England, Belgium, Hesse-Darmstadt and Portugal.

The third daughter of the Princess An-toinette Amalie, the Princess Julianne, married King Frederic V of Denmark, From her are descended the reigning houses of Denmark, Holstein-Gluecksburg, Hesse-Cassel and Greece.

Finally, from Duke Carl of Brunswick, who died in 1780, the only son of Prin-cess Antoinette Amalie, was descended the house of Brunswick, which became extinct in 1885 by the death of the late duke. Thus Antoinette Amalie, who was the wards of New York City. At a gathered to her ancestors in 1762, has had meeting of the council a question came 365 descendants, who, with few excepup for beautifying Central Park when a tions, profess the Protestant form of be-Mr. Murphy arose and said: "Misther President I am jist afther payin' a visit 1735, has had up to the present time al-and $1 bottles for sale by Blakeley & to Yurrip an whin there I spint some all of the ruling families in Europe.most 800 descendants, including almost | Houghton, drugglsts. A Curious Indian Custom. In the original settlements in British Columbia a peculiar institution occa sioned gala times for the red men now and then. This was the "potlatch" a thing to us so foreign, even in the impulse of which it is begotten, that we have no word or phrase to give its meaning. It is a feast and merrymaking at or saved what he deems considerable wealth, and who desires to distribute every iota of it at once in edibles and drinkables among the people of his tribe of them, a male and a female, and let pires to a chieftainship or merely for the credit of a "potlatch"-a high distinction. Indians have been known to throw away such a sum of money that their "potlatch" has been given in a huge shed built for the feast, and blankets and ornaments have been distributed in addition to the feast .- Julian Ralph in Harper's.

All this was fun for the hunters, who after a long struggle declared them-selves winners of the scrap. They had hardly so proclaimed when the bird got his wind, and leaving the ramrod viciously attacked his persecutors.

As fate would have it, the business man's friend, being nearest, was the first to catch it. The hawk lighted on his wrist, and the way he stuck there was a caution. One claw sunk deep into the hunter's wrist, and he called loud and ong for mercy.

The business man, seeing that some thing must be done at the risk of his life, finally went to his friend's rescue. He got a good hold on the sunken claw, braced his feet against a rock, and was successful in pulling it out. As the claw came out, the hawk fell back and 7 F. M. La Grippe !

The tendency of this disease toward pneumonia is what makes it dangerous, pneumonia is what makes it dangerous, La Grippe requires precisely the same treatment as a severe cold. Chamber-lain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of severe colds. This Remedy effectually counteracts the tendency of the disease to result in pneumonia, prothe disease to result in pneumonia, pro-vided that proper care be taken to avoid exposure when recovering from the at-tack. Careful inquiry among the many thousands who have used this remedy during the epidemics of the past two years has failed to discover a single case that has not recovered or that has re-

What a Baby Did in One Hour. Uncle Will, the good natured bachelor of the family, was left in charge of the baby one day while every one else was out, and out of curiosity he made a list of what the baby did in one hour. Here it is

Yelled fifteen minutes without taking breath. (Uncle Will declares solemnly that this is a true statement.)

Pulled out enough hair from his uncle's head and whiskers to stuff a sofa pillow. Crocked the wall paper as high as he could reach with the poker. Broke a stereoscope by sitting down on it.

Swallowed six buttons and a good part of a spool of thread.

Emptied the contents of his mother's workbasket down the furnace register.

Tried to squeeze the head of the cat into a tin cup, and was scratched badly in the attempt. Knocked the head off of a fine wax doll belonging to his older sister by trying to drive a tack into a toy wagon with it.

Fell off the edge of the whatnot and brought down with him two costly vases which were ruined.

Broke two panes of window glass with a cane which uncle let him have.

Fell into the coalhod and spoiled his new white dress.

Set fire to the carpet while uncle was out of the room hunting up something to amuse him.

Crawled under the bed and refused to come out unless uncle would give him the molasses jug.

Got twisted into the rungs of a chair which had to be broken to get him out. Poured a pitcher of water into his mother's best shoes. Finally, when he saw his mother coming, he ran out to the porch and tumbled off the steps, making his nose bleed and tearing a hole a foot square in his dress.

And yet Uncle Will thinks that boy will make something yet .- Youth's Companion.

How Aucients Squared the Circle. The rule given by Ahmes requires that the diameter of a circle shall be shortened by one-ninth, and a square erected upon this shortened line. The area of such a square approximates the area of the circle, but, of course, is not exact, and is not even as close a result as that at which other geometricians have arrived.

The Babylonians, who were also great mathematicians, had a solution, to which a reference in the Talmud has been traced. The Babylonian method, however, was not a quadrature, but a rectification of the circumference .- All the World Round.

Home Made Dolls Cheaper.

A "doll with real hair" is the desire of most small girls. As a rule, only the expensive varieties of dolls are so en-dowed. "But," suggests a close shop-per, "I buy a seventy-five cent doll, for which I get a good kid body with bisque arms and feet; and then at some small hairdresser's I get the jute curls replaced with a wig of real hair at much less expense than I could buy the doll thus en-dowed in the first place."-New York Times.

Hoofprints of the Musk Ox.

Vasey says the hoofprints of the musk ox resemble those of the barren ground caribon so closely as to easily deceive the unaccustomed eye. The external hoof is rounded, the internal pointed .-Horace T. Martin in Popular Science Monthly.

Arguing is a source of annoyance and wears upon the nerves of the listeners, however they have schooled themselves to bear and forbear.
