A Pleasant Sruprise.

Last evening as Rev. W. C. Curtis and "none" yet. wife were enjoying what promised to be a quiet hour with Mr. and Mrs. Bela Huntington, Mr. Curtis was called to the door. There being some failure to understand just who was wanted. Mrs. Curtis accompanied him to the door, where the two remained greeting one and another, until about fifty of his congregation and friends stood around him. Full half of them had entered the house before it dawned upon him that it was a surprise so complete that he came near being absent from it altogether. Having almost decided to yield to a certain indisposition and remain at home for the evening though some of the more sturdy ones declared that he would have found that impossible, as he would have been brought by main force if there had been no other way.

After taking off their wraps the party gathered around the pastor, when Mr. Bela Huntington, in a pleasant little speech, presented him with a box of silver coin, to help in replacing some of the books or study furniture destroyed by Kerr & Buckley have 6000 head of the fire, while by word and way the friends assured the pastor of their res-

Settlement of a School District Dispute.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction, E. B. McIlroy, has just rendered a decision in a case that was brought before him from the Mosier dis trict, on appeal from the decision of the exploits at Mobile bay, but besides County Superintendent Troy Shelly, this interesting fact she is one of the that involves matters of interest to the general public. The history of the case shows that in July 1891, thirty-five persons claiming to be legal voters in school old sailor lately said with a sigh. She district No. 8 petitioned Superintendent Shelly for a division of the district. Notice of an injunction to stop the following month. In September the case came before the circuit judge and the injuction was dissolved. The district was then divided and notice served on the chairman of the board of directors. This action was followed by a remonstrance, signed by thirty-seven persons claiming to be legal voter sin the district and certain affidavits were filed protesting against the division; but the superintendent refused to grant a superintendent. The appellant claimed that the superintendent had failed to notify the officers of the district that he had made the division, that the division would work an irreparable injury to the residents of the districts and that the district had a right of appeal. .

Not So Funny After All. A supposed practical jeker weat into the Staten Island ferry slip on Saturday, and exhibiting a black bag declared it contained dynamite and that he intended to blow up the building. Everybody made a break for the door except a po liceman in citizen's clothes, who knocked from a two month's trip to their old rehearing of . the case and an the man down and captured the bag, appeal was taken to the state which was found to contain nothing dangerous. The practical joker had his jaw broken by the policeman's blow .-New York Letter.

A Striking Jury.

Without doubt the most unique strike on record was that which interrupted the trial of the Jones versus Gordon debt case at Burlington, Ia. The jury had arrived at a verdict but refused to report till . paid their fees. The plaintiff, who had demanded the jury, was anxious to learn the verdict and paid the fees. Much to his chagrin the verdict was against him. - Cor. New York World.
