FASHION NOTES.

The fashion editor of this journal would remind its million (more or less) lady readers that in order to be on the very crest of the top wave of fashion it is not absolutely necessary, when attending a religious or secular entertainment, for a lady to wear a hat as big as the cover of a family shay. No hats are now worn, in the most fashionable circles, that are larger than a wash tub. The line had to be drawn somewhere and this familiar family necessity has been fixed upon to define fashion's limits. We are prompted to give this information because of an incident that happened at the late Demorest contest. A little preacher of this city, whom everybody loves and admires, attended the contest. Unfortunately the Fates seated him behind a family shay head-gear. With the physical stature of a boy and the capacity for enjoyment of a giant it was painful to watch his efforts to look through the "shay" or around its circumference. For him and all of similar size the enjoyment of an entertainment only enters the sensorium by one avenue—the ear—unless, perchance they are cross-eyed and able to see around the corner of the "shay." If these hats must be worn to an entertainment the wearers should stack them in the vestibule or hold them in their laps during the performance. One thing more; the very latest fashion notes from the Colville and Warm Springs reservations inform us that gum chewing during an entertainment has been substituted for the munching of pea-nuts. No lady who makes any pretension to be au fait ever goes to a theatre or concert without a sack of pea-nuts, and the number of empty shells scattered on the floor determine her position on the social ladder. Of course it is needless to add that at all well regulated religious or social gatherings the hoodlums always sit near the door and proclaim their standing in the ranks of hoodlumdom by the amount of disturbance they can create or the number of times they can needlessly open and close the entrance door.

The wool statistics of the year ending Dec. 31st are full of interest and instruction. The increased rate of duty on new wool has not diminished importations. On the contrary, in 1891 we imported 18,798,402 pounds of wool against 15,483,926 pounds imported in 1890, an increase, under the higher tariff, of 3,314,476 pounds. What does this increase mean? It means that Australia, from which our largest importations are made, still finds it profitable to ship wool to the United States and sell it for twelve cents a pound less than American wool growers receive for the same class of wool and it goes far towards confirming the truth of a statement made, not long since, by a rich wool grower of Australia, to a prominent citizen of The Dalles, that so long as Australian wool growers can net from six to eight cents a pound for their wool they can make plenty of money. But the moral of all this is plain as noon day. Remove the duty on foreign wool and wool growing as an American industry would be wiped out of existence. Flock-masters of the United States cannot compete with 6 to 8 cent wool.

Some time ago, a London paper offered a 2-guinea prize for the best definition of a kiss. Among the 7,000 answers received were the following: "A report at head-quarters," "Contraction of the mouth due to enlargement of the heart." An article that is always accepted and (im)printed, but not always published.

Will Force Free Coinage. WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The free silver men are feeling very good today and seem to think they will force free coinage into the house at all hazards, the anti-s are feeling considerably troubled and their only hope now is that they may prevent the iron clad rule, and thus allow an opportunity to filibuster on the bill until it is defeated.

For Rent. A fine house of seven rooms with good garden, at $25 per month. Call on Mrs. Phelps, Eighth and Liberty. 2-26tf

IN GOOD HANDS.

The Astoria and South Coast railway sixteen miles of standard gauge road, with the right of way over all the land traversed by it, and for fifty feet on each side, and all the rolling stock, equipments, and superstructure, rails, bridges and the whole business generally, was sold by the sheriff last Thursday. Hon. C. W. Fulton bid it in for Messrs. Patton and Thompson. It was started by J. C. Trullinger at $45,000 and knocked down at $55,550, the cheapest piece of property sold on this coast for a long time. The road as it stands today, is worth $150,000. It is understood that the road was purchased on behalf of those who recently put up $50,000. They are I. W. Case, M. J. Kinney, D. K. Warren, W. W. Parker, H. B. Parker, C. W. Fulton, J. Q. A. Bowly, and J. H. Smith. They now own the road, and have and can give clear title, and we predict that they will make good use of it in the near future by turning it in to some corporation or individual capitalist with brain and ability to complete the line to a connection with the trans-continental system, and place Astoria in a position to claim all the commercial prestige due to her superior location as a point in Oregon for the shipping of the seas.

A Woman's Terrible Experience. A farmer named Morand found a woman lying underneath a tree near his farm in St. Jerome parish. She was alive, but almost a skeleton, unable to speak and insane. She was Matilda Grapin, a domestic. Over a month ago she left a house to go to church, but had never been heard of again and was believed to be dead. She had laid down under a tree where she and her husband had often sat together. She fell asleep and slept for two days, and when she awoke she had lost her reason. She wandered about the woods for thirty-five days, and never tasted any food. She obtained water from a brook. Since she has been found she has been rational at times and has told the above remarkable story. She is in a very weak state. —Montreal Cor. Minneapolis Tribune.

Too Late with His Objections. A marriage ceremony at Roseburg was interrupted in a sensational manner a few evenings ago. Charles Minkler, a freight conductor at Woodburn, was the groom, and Lottie Critzen, of Roseburg, the bride. During the ceremony the officiating minister asked if any one had any reason why the ceremony should not proceed.

A young dry goods clerk of Roseburg, named Mannis, stepped forward, saying he had serious objections. He said he wanted to see and speak with the girl privately. He was put out of the house and a pistol was found in his pocket. He said he had always wanted to marry the girl, but had never gathered courage to tell her of his feelings. —San Francisco Chronicle.

Digging for Buried Treasure. A tradition exists about English, Ind., that the Wyandottes buried treasures of gold and silver which they stole from the early missionaries and other parties in that neighborhood, and occasionally the treasure hunters become a plague. One of these fevers is now "on," and as the country is underlaid with iron, the divining rods are leading the owners to dig, until some of the fields look like newly planted graveyards. —Philadelphia Ledger.

La Grippe Successfully Treated. "I have just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Meria, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.' 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

For the Children. "In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. dw
