Searrell's Coast Defense.

New York, March 2.—Edward W. Searrell's new coast defense is being studied by the committee of coast defense of the senate. What is claimed for the invention is this: If any hostile ship or fleet attempted to enter the harbor, or it crossed any given line, say that six and one-half fathom line in the outer bay, a blow of 50,000 tons could be struck upon the ship, which would effectually put any vessel now afloat out of the way of doing damage to New York or any other city. Twenty of these 50,000-ton blows could be struck in ten seconds' time. The six and one-half fathom line is distant about fourteen miles from the city hall, and twelve miles from the built-up parts of Brooklyn.

Hill Cannot Carry New York.

New York, March 2.—The Post says editorially: It has been the sole claim for Hill's candidacy, which his supporters in this state have put forward, that he could carry the state of New York. That claim cannot be made any longer, for in view of the elections of the past few weeks it is made so plain as to be undeniable, that he is the one candidate who certainly could not carry New York. His candidacy would consolidate all the decent elements of politics into an irresistible mass, which would give the state to any opposing candidate who was an honest man by an overwhelming majority.

March 4th to be Reduced.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The house committee on election of president and vice-president today authorized Representative Crain to prepare for submission to the house a joint resolution proposing the substituting of December 31st for March 4th as the commencement and termination of the official terms of members of the house of representatives and United States Senators, and providing that congress shall hold its annual meeting the second Monday in January, and substituting April 30th for March 4th as the date for the commencement and limitation of the term of president and vice-president.

Political Stuffing.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—"What is to be the policy of the democrats regarding free silver?" was the question propounded to Senator Hill today. Hill smiled one of his knowing smiles, and replied with an innocence childlike and bland: "I am a senator, and I have not as yet been able to discover that the democrats have a policy about anything." When asked how he would vote on the free-silver bill if one comes before the senate, he said: "I will not cross that bridge until I come to it."

The Surviving Fairs.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—A morning paper says that a contest of the will by which Mrs. Theresa Fair disposed of her $4,000,000 is probable. Mrs. Fair left two sons $500,000 each and her two daughters $1,500,000 each. Charles Fair has returned to the city from abroad, ostensibly to look after his brother's affairs, but it is said that he was telegraphed for. Mrs. Oelrichs and Miss Birdie Fair are on their way from the east, and this gathering of all the surviving Fairs is taken to mean that the will is about to be contested.

Secretary Foster in London.

LONDON, March 2.—Charles Foster, secretary of the United States treasury, arrived at Southampton on the steamer Spree this morning. Upon landing he was presented with a bouquet, which a special dispatch says was the gift of Mrs. Harrison. He took the 10 o'clock train from Southampton for London. In an interview he said his mission was solely to regain his health.

How Minnesota Lost Him.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 2.—At the time of Archbishop Ireland's summons to the Vatican, it was reported he was to be raised to the cardinalate, but it has since transpired he went to Rome at the pope's invitation to accept the position of cardinal prefect.

The Lost Seal Fishers.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 2.—Of the 220 men who went sealing off the coast of Newfoundland last Saturday and were caught in the storm, at least 40 have been either drowned or frozen to death. Most of those lost were fathers, and there is great lamentation among their families. The legislature adjourned as a mark of sympathy.

SEATTLE, March 2.—The directors of the Pacific Northwest baseball league met in this city this afternoon, and finally determined upon the circuit and other matters for the championship season. Jay C. Smith was on hand to represent Salem, the candidate for admission. It was decided, after a spirited discussion, that the league circuit should remain unchanged, inasmuch as it would be inexpedient to have a five-club league, and no town could be found to join with Salem in increasing it to six clubs. A double championship series was decided upon, the season to open April 13th at Spokane and Tacoma. The salary limit was fixed at $1300 a month for each club. The secretary was authorized to engage a staff of umpires. The best of feeling prevailed, and the delegates reported great interest in the game in their respective towns.

SALEM IS DISAPPOINTED.

SALEM, March 2.—Salem baseball enthusiasts feel pretty sore over the Pacific Northwest leagues, refusal to grant Salem a franchise, after having representations made to them that Salem incorporated a baseball club with a capital stock of $10,000 and sent a manager east to sign players, "Pap" Lytle now being at St. Louis for that purpose. Talk once more slowly reverts to the formation of an amateur league among the valley cities, including Salem, Albany, Corvallis and McMinnville and probably Eugene.

Not a Joke.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—It has long been supposed that the candidacy of ex-Senator Blair, of New Hampshire, was one of the huge jokes of that erratic personage. Blair while in the senate, was one of the most witty and humorous senators on the floor, and when it was announced that he was a candidate for president it was supposed to be an outcropping of the humor that had been so long pent up, but Governor Little, of New Hampshire, confirms his candidacy, and his New Hampshire friends say they will be for him. It is really one of the odd freaks of this very popular man.

Gave up the Fight.

NEW ORLEANS, March 2.—The much talked of Fitzsimmons-Maher match is over and Fitz is winner, the Irishman having given up the fight, a badly punished man, after twelve rounds. Tonight's entertainment at the Olympic Club was one of the greatest series of pugilistic exhibitions ever occurring in one club the same night. Fully 5000 persons were present. There were sporting men from England, Ireland and every corner of the United States. Chicago and New York, between them, had fully 500 delegates, and New Orleans supplied its leading professional men.

The Will is all Right.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The executor of Mrs. Fair's will says there is no truth in the report that Charles Fair intended breaking his mother's will. The will provided that in the event of the death of Jas. G. jr., the portion allotted to him should be paid to Charles, if living. Now, James is dead, and the sum of $500,000, and $180,000 interest, is to revert to Charles, at the end of six years, at which time it would have been paid to his brother.

No War Ships Wanted.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Gen. Berdan's efforts to induce the government to construct a war vessel equipped with sub-marine guns from designs of his own invention is being opposed by Com. Folger, chief of the ordinance bureau, who in a letter to the senate naval committee says the naval vessel is not necessary and the proposed price of $1,250,000 is two-thirds more than it ought to cost.

O. D. TAYLOR, THE DALLES. 72 WASHINGTON ST. PORTLAND.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—In the senate today, Senator Dolph, in presenting petitions from his state favoring government aid for the Nicaragua canal, said he was urgently in favor of such legislation. He regarded it as the most important public question that now or that has been in the last quarter of a century before congress and before the American people. He is now sanguine as to the ability of the canal company to secure the construction and completion of the canal, and he wished to see the United States at the head of the matter—first, because he desired to have the canal speedily constructed; second, because he desired that when constructed it should be under the control of the United States; and third, because he desired the canal to be capitalized only at its actual cost. The value of the canal, when constructed, to the people of the Pacific coast and to the people of the United States would depend largely on the amount for which the company was capitalized. He was, therefore, earnestly in favor of government aid to secure the early completion of the canal.

Would Uncle Jerry Stand.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Jerry Rusk for president is the latest thing in the political line in Washington. Uncle Jerry does not know it, and has not been even consulted, but a number of republican senators, eager to defeat Harrison's re-nomination, have agreed to take up the farm statesman from Wisconsin at the proper time and nominate him if they can swing enough votes to do it. Rusk is popular with the farmers, and therefore would be a great votegetter, he has a good record as a soldier, he has had experience enough in public affairs to show he is a man of ability and capacity, and it is argued that if Jerry is put forward in the convention he could weaken Harrison where Harrison is supposed to be the strongest, in the west and south. If the republican senators succeed in bringing enough anti-Harrison republicans into line for Rusk, it is probable a break for him will be arranged.

Barillas, Barrios, Lienfiesta.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Advised from Guatemala via steamer City of Panama, which reached this port yesterday morning, are to the effect that Barillas, the defeated candidate for the presidency, is a fugitive, and is trying to escape from the country without disgorging the money amassed by him during his incumbency in office. Lienfiesta, who was elected to succeed Barillas, had not yet been installed in office when the Panama sailed, and, if the reports are reliable, it is doubtful if he will be. One of the candidates against him was young Barrios, whose father was once absolute dictator over the land. Barrios is very popular. It is now understood that the lately defeated Barillas will join forces with him to prevent the seating of Lienfiesta. It is understood that the soldiers sympathize with Barillas and Barrios, and that Lienfiesta's enemies are well provided with funds and arms. A new outbreak is expected when the lately elected president attempts to take his seat.

Little Rhoda for Grover.

PROVIDENCE, March 2.—The democrats of Rhode Island met this morning for the nomination of state officers and the selection of delegates to the national convention. Charles E. Gorman was elected temporary chairman. His speech eulogized Cleveland's administration, and his remarks were greeted with loud applause. A resolution was presented, and referred to the platform committee instructing the delegates to the national convention to vote for Cleveland. It was received with great enthusiasm.
