LONDON, March 6.—The article in Moniteur di Roma sustaining Archbishop Ireland against his calumniators has created the greatest sensation in the church, and is freely commented upon by ecclesiastics everywhere. Some go so far as to say it is the most important utterance emanating from the Vatican during the present generation, and that it proclaims an entire abandonment on the part of the church of anything like an attitude of opposition to the progress of republican institutions. The fact that one point of attack upon Archbishop Ireland was his liberality on the educational question, and that the pope, in the inspired or dictated article in the Moniteur, declares the archbishop is in entire accord with the views of Leo himself is regarded as especially significant. Pope Leo and the prelates who surround him are cute statesmen, thoroughly informed in the methods which prevailed in the political and ecclesiastical affairs of Italy before the days of Machiavelli, and they come promptly to the conclusion that jealousy of Archbishop Ireland's influence and standing as a leader of the church in America was at the bottom of the assaults. The pope abhors duplicity. He appears to have assumed that the ecclesiastic who was so bitterly assailed must be a man of extraordinary merit, and his already good opinion of the archbishop was strengthened instead of being weakened. He showed him marks of especial favor, and made no concealment of his esteem and affection. This article will put an end to the campaign against the archbishop, as it leaves no doubt that his enemies cannot be friends of the Holy See, and that his policy of education and conciliation is indorsed to the fullest extent by the head of the church. The article is also looked upon as a proclamation, on the part of the pope, of entire amity toward the free institutions of the American Republic, just as he recently declared that the church had no quarrel and desired none with the republic of France.

To Sincere Vandals.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Representative Bynum, of Indiana, from the committee on the judiciary, today reported favorably to the house, with a few verbal changes, the bill of Mr. Enoch to prevent a desecration of the United States flag. The report says that the design of the bill and its only effect will be to prohibit any person from printing, or painting upon, or affixing to the flag of the United States, any advertisement for publicity. The display of the flag at all times and places will in no wise be prohibited by the enactment of the measure, and the committee is of the opinion that no person should be permitted to desecrate it by defacing it with advertisements for pecuniary purposes.

The President Disgusted.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—It is quite clear from injury at the capitol that, with the exception of a few members of the house and senate committees on foreign relations, the senators and representatives are in a state of ignorance of the present condition of the negotiations between the United States and Great Britain respecting the seal fisheries. It is intimated by some members that unless the British government evinces a disposition to act with fairness in the matter of the modus vivendi, the treaty may never be sent to the senate by the president. A discussion of the subject has the effect of attracting the attention, not only of the general public, but also of enterprising vessel owners, and the latter, allured by the prospect of large profits, are making preparations of making toward Behring Sea in such numbers as to warrant the belief that unless the movement is promptly checked the seal rookeries will be completely depopulated.

Armour's Turn.

CHICAGO, March 6.—It is stated that a bottle of wine was received yesterday by Mr. P. D. Armour, the great packer, with the compliments of Potter Palmer, his friend, and asking him to try it, as it was of rare quality. The story goes that Mr. Armour would not touch the wine, as he had been warned beforehand by a former employe that he had overheard two men in the Palmer house plotting to send Mr. Armour a bottle of poisoned wine in Mr. Palmer's name. It has been ascertained that the men who occupied the room where the alleged plot was concocted, were registered from New York and Denver. Mr. Armour is to have the wine analyzed. He thinks the attempt on his life was made by cranks.

Several Negroes Wounded.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 6.—Meager details of a fierce fight between negroes and white men in Metcalf county have been received here. The fight took place yesterday at Clark's crossing, five miles east of Edmonton, the county seat. A number of white men who haul lumber were on their way home, when they met a negro, and as they passed him, one of the party, who was probably drunk, struck the colored man with his whip. The negro threatened to "get even." The whites stopped at a distillery near by, and the negro, returning a short time afterward with others, a pitched battle ensued, during which four negroes were killed and several others wounded, two of whom will probably die. The sheriff and a posse have gone to the scene of the trouble.

Bought With British Gold.

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 6.—Considerable excitement was created in Irish-American circles by a report that John P. Hayes, of this city, has sailed for England to become an emissary of the British government. Hayes came to this city from Philadelphia, and it is charged was concerned in the Dr. Cronin murder at Chicago. He, at that time, was alleged to have been a prominent and influential member of the Clan-na-Gael, one of the famous "Triangle," and was subsequently charged with being a traitor to the order and in the pay of the British government. He was also at one time an intimate friend of Parnell. He sailed from Boston on a Cuaderer a week ago. It is alleged he was called to England by the British government to assist the conservatives in the coming parliamentary elections.

Taken by Surprise.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 5.—Four deputy sheriffs went to the cross-roads about three miles from town tonight to arrest a negro who in a quarrel seriously shot a white man. While the deputies were in a grocery store the place seemed to fill with negroes. Suddenly a shot was fired and Deputy Cole fell to the floor mortally wounded. Then the firing became general and Deputy Harris fell dead. The negroes then shot Deputies Yierger and Webber and escaped. No negroes were hurt. The deputies were taken completely by surprise.

The Chance on the Ways.

MARSHFIELD, Or., March 6.—The steamer George H. Chance, which went ashore on the south spit at the mouth of the Siuslaw river, February 13, lighted her cargo of government supplies for jetty work at that point, and got off after having remained there ten days. She worked her way across the spit, over 2,000 feet, at high water. At no time were there any apprehensions of the steamer being lost. She is now on the ways in this city undergoing repairs, and will be ready to resume her route inside of a week.

Mr. Springer Worse.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—At 1 o'clock this morning Springer's attendants say there is no change, but he is resting quietly. There is a recurrence of the violent form of erysipelas, which had once almost disappeared. To-night the left side of his face is badly swollen and the eye is nearly closed. His periods of delirium are also more frequent.

Crop Outlook in California.

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—The crop outlook in southern California is highly favorable. The late rains have quickened the growth of cereals, and with the usual spring precipitation a large yield is assured. The acreage in barley is uncommonly large. Crops of early vegetables are comparatively light owing to the absence of rain in the early part of the season. Extensive planting of fruit trees is in progress.

Must Withdraw the Boycott.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—All the shoe factories in San Francisco closed this evening and will reopen Monday morning with non-union men because of the boycott against several firms. The offer of the Council of Federated Trades to arbitrate the differences, is declined by the employers until the boycotts are withdrawn.

The Santiam Mines—Murder in Idaho— Springer Falling—Suicide— Minor Mention.

LONDON, March 6.—In an interview last evening Secretary Foster said the gold shipments now being made from New York to Europe will not have any serious effect upon the home monetary situation. The gold can be well spared. He added: "The trouble is, some of our most sensible men in other respects seem to have lost their judgement, through the fear that free coinage will be inaugurated. As a matter of fact there is not the slightest chance of carrying such a measure. It is not true that I am trying to arrange an international monetary conference. I gather that public sentiment in England is growing toward the rehabilitation of silver. Outside of London the feeling seems universal in favor of such a change. There would be no difficulty in maintaining a double standard if the great nations agreed on that policy, and Germany and France are only waiting to follow England's lead in the matter." He declared that in his opinion the issue of pound notes in England was perfectly practicable, and he regarded the opposition to the innovation as absurd.

Met His Fate at Last.

MOUNT VERNON, Ky., March 6.—Yesterday Emmett Snodgrass, the town marshal, was shot and killed by his brother, Isaac Snodgrass. It was the result of Emmet having killed his brother, Squire Snodgrass two years ago. At that time Isaac sent word to Emmet he had killed his favorite brother, and requested him not to speak to him. At Crab Orchard some time last year the two first met. Emmet drew a pistol and attempted to shoot Isaac, but bystanders interfered. Last week Isaac was in town. Emmet met him and began, as usual, to abuse him, when Isaac told him to go away and not bother him, saying: "You killed one of our brothers; don't add another to the list. I don't want to be killed nor to kill any one." Yesterday they met, but blood was avoided by the interference of citizens. Isaac went home, armed himself and the two brothers met, Isaac killing Emmet. In 1876 Emmet killed his brother James. Later on he killed a negro. After this his brother Squire built a house on his own land and allowed Emmet to occupy it and cultivate the land free of charge. They frequently quarreled. One day Emmet went over where Squire was living, at his mother's, and when he met him both began firing. Squire fell at the second shot. His mother rushed up and placed Squire's head upon her lap, when Emmet remarked: "Three out of four is pretty good marksmanship, ain't it, mother?" For all these crimes he was acquitted, strange as it may seem, and was recently elected marshal of Mt. Vernon.

The Santiam Mines.

BROWNSVILLE, Or., March 6.—There is a section of country here in western Oregon reaching from the Columbia river on the north to the northern boundary of California on the south which contains large quantities of mineral ore and is well supplied with wood and water, the two great factors in successfully working mines. Already an Albany company has a fine ten-stamp mill in operation in the Santiam district, and has proved to the world that gold does exist in that camp in paying quantities, and from the fine gold found in every stream flowing down the western slopes of the Cascades there is no doubt but that good mines will be found the entire length of the state, if once thoroughly prospected and developed.
