

THE PRIMARY LAW.

An Act to provide for holding primary elections, and regulating the manner of conducting the same, and to prevent frauds, and punish crimes at such elections, in cities of two thousand five hundred inhabitants or more.

Be it enacted by the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon. Sec. 1. All elections hereafter to be held within any incorporated city of the state containing a population of two thousand five hundred or more, as shown by the last state or federal census, by any voluntary political association or party for any delegates to any convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for public office, shall be held under the provisions of this act, and such elections shall be styled primary elections.

Sec. 2. Not less than seven days before any such primary election is to be held, the managing committee of the political party or association calling the primary election shall cause a notice to be published in some newspaper of general circulation in the city in which the election is to be held. Such notice must be signed by the secretary of the committee or association calling such election, and must state the purpose of the election, the date when the election is to be held, the place where the polls are to be located, and during what hours each polling place shall be kept open for the reception of votes, and the number of delegates to be elected in each election precinct, ward, or district. Three persons shall be named therein who are to act as judges for each polling place at said election, and such judges shall be legal voters of and householders in the precinct, ward, or district at which he is to act as judge at such elections. The judges shall appoint two clerks for each polling place, who shall have the same qualifications as themselves, excepting that they need not be householders.

Sec. 3. The judges and clerks mentioned in the last section shall, before entering upon their duties, take and subscribe the oath prescribed by law for judges and clerks of general elections, which oath may be administered by any one of the judges or by any person authorized under the laws of this state to administer oaths. And if one or all of the judges appointed to serve at the election be absent or refuse or fail to serve at the hour appointed for the election to begin, then the electors present, to the number of not less than five, and being members of the political party or association holding such election, shall choose a person or persons to fill any vacancy or vacancies that may exist. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall subject the offender, on conviction, to punishment by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Sec. 4. The polling places at all primary elections shall be kept open for the reception of votes not less than five nor more than seven consecutive hours, and between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 7 o'clock p. m.

Sec. 5. No person who is not a qualified elector under the laws of the state, or will not be so qualified at the next ensuing general election, shall be qualified or permitted to vote at any primary election held under this act.

Sec. 6. Any person voting or offering to vote at any such election who would not be qualified to vote in the election precinct at the general election; then next ensuing, or who has voted at the primary election of any other political party or association held for the purpose of electing delegates to any convention at which the candidates of the respective parties are to be chosen for the ensuing election, or who shall vote more than once at the same or different polls on the same day at the same primary election, or knowing that he is not a qualified voter at such election, wilfully votes, or offers to vote at such election, or wilfully aids or abets any one not qualified to vote at such primary election in voting or attempting to vote at such election, or by offering, or giving, or promising to give, a reward, or bribe, or money, or any valuable consideration, either directly or indirectly, to attempt to influence or to influence any voter in giving or withholding his vote at such election, or by bribery, or by corrupt or unlawful means, prevents or attempts to prevent any voter from attending or voting at such election; or if any one places any ballot in any ballot-box in use at such election which has not been regularly voted and permitted to be voted by the judges thereat, or any one concealing, or destroying, or removing any ballot from such ballot-box for the purpose of destroying or altering the same, or changing the result of the election, or for any other purpose except for the purpose of counting such ballots after the polls are closed, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than two nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

THE NIGHT RIDE.

Tonight we rode beneath a moon That made the moorland pale; And our horses' feet kept well the tune, And our pulses did not fail.

The moon shone clear; the hoar frost fell, The world slept, as it seemed; Sleep held the night, but we rode well, And as we rode we dreamed.

We dreamed of ghostly horse and hound, The flight at dead of night; The more the fearful thoughts we found, The more was our delight.

And when we heard the white owl fly And hoot with mournful tone, We thought to see dead men go by, And pressed our horses on.

The merrier then our riding song Upon the homeward road, Oh, whether the way be short or long, Is all in the rider's mood!

And still our pulses kept the tale, Our gallop kept the tune, As round an ever hill and vale We rode beneath the moon.

—Ernest Rhys in Youth's Companion.

Juvenile Precocity.

New York is a great city. During the run of a pantomime I sat one matinee down in front. One of the most conspicuous characters in the piece, which was "Cinderella," was a little chap about as large as a five-year-old baby, dressed in Hungarian uniform and acting as page to the prince of the fairy tale. And very clever he was too. That same evening I saw something in the two little boys who bring my family laundry to remind me of the small page and the prince's footman.

On inquiry I found they were the same. The small page has been on the stage three or four years and is, in his way, an old timer at nine years. He named over his repertory as he played on the floor with the baby with the air of one who had pretty much exhausted the theatrical gamut. These two bright little fellows live with my laundress. Their father is an attache of an up town theater and they make their own living as professionals.—New York Herald.

Dr. John Piente, the amateur telescope maker, is now finishing a 80 inch silver on glass mirror for Alleghany college, which, when mounted, will give that institution the largest reflecting telescope in this country.

An immense flume is being constructed near Fresno, Cal., which will not only furnish water for irrigating purposes, but will be used to transport lumber needed by farmers living near by.

It is pretty hard to be told at the beginning of a long, cold winter that gold table services are coming in. It was hoped that they had gone out to stay.

CON STIPATION.

Afflicts half the American people yet there is only one preparation of Sarsaparilla that acts on the bowels and reaches this important trouble, and that is Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. It relieves in 24 hours, and an occasional dose prevents return. We refer by permission to C. E. Elkington, 125 Locust Avenue, San Francisco; J. H. Brown, Petaluma; H. S. Winn, Geary Court, San Francisco, and hundreds of others who have used it in constipation. One letter is a sample of hundreds. Elkington writes: "I have been for years subject to bilious headaches and constipation. Have been so bad for a year back have had to take a physic every other night or else I would have a headache. After taking one bottle of J. V. S., I am in splendid shape. It has done wonderful things for me. People similarly troubled should try it and be convinced."

Most modern, most effective, largest bottle, same price, $1.00, 50c for 500.

A Revelation.

Few people know that the bright bluish-green color of the ordinary teas exposed in the windows is not the natural color. Unpleasant as the fact may be, it is nevertheless artificial; mineral coloring matter being used for this purpose. The effect is twofold. It not only makes the tea a bright shiny green, but also permits the use of "off-color" and worthless teas, which, once under the green cloak, are readily worked off as a good quality of tea.

An eminent authority writes on this subject: "The manipulation of poor teas, to give them a finer appearance, is carried on extensively. Green teas, being in this country especially popular, are produced to meet the demand by coloring cheaper black kinds by staining or facing with Prussian blue, tumeric, gypsum, and indigo. This method is so general that very little genuine uncolored green tea is offered for sale."

It was the knowledge of this condition of affairs that prompted the placing of Beech's Tea before the public. It is absolutely pure and without color. Did you ever see any genuine uncolored Japan tea? Ask your grocer to open a package of Beech's, and you will see it, and probably for the very first time. It will be found in color to be just between the artificial green tea that you have been accustomed to and the black tea.

It draws a delightful canary color, and is so fragrant that it will be a revelation to tea drinkers. Its purity makes it also more economical than the artificial teas, for less of it is required per cup. Sold only in pound packages bearing this trade-mark:

BEECH'S TEA

"Pure As Childhood"

If your grocer does not have it, he will get it for you. Price 60c per pound. For sale at Leslie Butler's, THE DALLES, OREGON.
