A Cowardly Attack on a Chinaman. On the morning of the 5tn inst., a The Dalles and Prineville stage ha reached a point about four miles north of Prineville, six masked men rushed into the road and ordered the driver John Miller, to stop, and then wit drawn pistols commanded A. Doon, chinese passenger and proprieter of hotel in Prineville, to get down from hi seat. The Chinaman obeyed when on of the men struck him a severe blow i the mouth with the butt of a pistol. Th Chinaman's hands were then bound be hind his back and in this condition h was struck several times, the me threatening the while to kill him unless he promised to leave the country and take all the Chinamen in Prineville with him. One of the assaulting party then cut off the Chinaman's cue, and after again trying to make him promise to leave the country and take all the Chinamen with him, the men put him on the stage and ordered the driver to more controlled. News in the Advertisements.

Don't think that you have finished reading your newspaper when you have his annual trip over the county next gone over the published telegrams, local reports, editorial comments, and sketches of life and character. "First of All, the News," is a good motto in journalism, because people naturally want to know about events, more or less sensational, of general interest. Whatever he may have been in the past the traveling man of today occupies terests of many millions. He is found in all classes of business, representing all lines of wares, and his influence upon matters even outside of his own vocation is strongly felt. The traveling man of today, to be successful must, in the first place, be a gentleman in deed and in action. Then he must be possessed of business acumen and tact, be ambitious, active and tireless. He finds it to his interest to keep informed on current topics. and is a storehouse of news and informa-tion. He must be pleasing in address and neat in appearance

All these he is, as he now exists, in the best type. In the drug business the traveler is a very important factor. There are about 1,250 directly connected with the wholesale drug trade of this country, this number not including proprietary, pharmaceutical or druggists' sundries ouses. These 1,250 travelers are an expense to the wholesale druggists of about $3,000,000, and we may be sure that if they were not a necessity and of value, commercial salesmen would not exist.— Pharmaceutical Era.

Exploring the Ventriloquial Larynz. Mr. R. H. Mohr, the ventriloquist went through a strange experience the other day. In one of the laboratories of mitted to an examination of his throat and chest by a number of physiological experts, to determine what special formations gave him his peculiar powers. The experts are uncommunicative concerning the results of the examina tion, and Mr. Mohr, who is not a physiologist at all, did not learn much about himself.

"They put mirrors down my throat," he said. "They led me by narrow pas-sages into a dark chamber, and what they did there I don't know. After it and also that one of the stops in my throat was drawn downward instead of upward by the connecting muscles.

"I can't make much out of that explanation, but I can make a living out of my peculiar throat just the same."

Then he threw his voice under the ta ble and laughed hoarsely.-Boston Her-
