STATE OFFICIALS.

Governor: S. Penney; Secretary of State: G. W. McBride; Treasurer: Phillip Metcahan; Supl. of Public Instruction: E. R. McElroy; Senators: J. S. Dolph, J. H. Mitchell; Congressman: B. Hermann; State Printer: Frank Baker.

COUNTY OFFICIALS.

County Judge: C. N. Thornbury; Sheriff: D. L. Cates; Clerk: B. Cressen; Treasurer: Geo. Ruch; Commissioners: H. A. Leavens, Frank Kincaid, John E. Barnett; Assessor: E. F. Sharp; Superintendent of Public Schools: Troy Shelley; Coroner: William Michell.

The following, from the Lawrence county, Mo., Herald presents a woeful contrast to this land of sunshine and flowers on this blessed eve of Saint Patrick's day in the mornin'. 'March has been having her own way for the past 36 hours. The wintry gale which has been prevailing has been the worst of the season, not so much from the intense cold but from the piercing, cutting winds. In exposed places the thermometer has reached 10 degrees above zero, a very low mark for this time of the year. Yesterday it was almost impossible for women to venture abroad on the streets. Many tried it for a time, but were simply compelled to spread their wings and float wherever the wind listed. Today it is even worse. The lion has knocked the lamb clear out of the ring. Many swinging signs were blown down last night and in one or two cases plate glass doors were broken. Those who are good judges say that the wind was blowing at the rate of 50 miles per hour.'

We cannot too earnestly urge upon the readers of the CHRONICLE the imperative necessity that exists for sending to the county conventions only such delegates as can be relied on to support men for legislative offices who are known to be true friends of the dalles portage and an open river. Everything depends upon the primaries and if the masses of the people stay away from them, and allow them to be run by the political bosses, we shall have just such a set of legislators as we had two years ago, two of whom, intentionally or otherwise, helped to defeat an appropriation of $400,000 for the dalles portage. Before this one question of a portage every other is insignificant and unimportant, and the success of the scheme depends upon the action of the primaries more than upon anything else.

Senator Hill, who seems to be much more anxious to push his candidacy for the White house than he is to serve his constituents in the United States' senate made a speech the other day at Roanoke, Va., in which he said that 'Today we have not a republican official from one end of the state to the other, elected by the people at large.' He assured his hearers that they had seen the last, in his judgement, of a republican legislature in the Empire state.

Governor Penney says he will not attend the Democratic state convention of his party. He did not attend it four years ago and will not now for the reason that he does not believe that public officials should interiere, even by their presence, with delegate conventions fresh from the body of the people. So says the Salem Journal.

This is a season of political activity and good men in all parties ought to use their best influence to save the country from the designs of selfseeking and unprincipled politicians.

Reciprocity With France. PARIS, March 15.—President Carnot today signed the commercial reciprocity convention with the United States.

Settling Labor Disputes. SYDNEY, N. S. W., March 15.—The legislature has approved the bill for the settlement of labor disputes by arbitration.

The Old Man's Opinion. Mr. Scrimpps—I asked your daughter a very important question last night and she referred me to you. Old Gentleman—Humph! What did you ask her? 'I asked her if she'd marry me.' 'Well, she won't.' 'Eh? Has she said so?' 'No, but from what I know of the girl I don't believe she would have bothered herself about me if she had really wanted you.'—New York Weekly.

In Case the House Should Be on-Fire. A wet silk handkerchief, tied without folding over the face, is complete security against suffocation from smoke; it permits free breathing and at the same time excludes the smoke from the lungs.—New York Journal.

Explaining a Term. Chemical attraction—a force tending to unite everything that ought to be separated and separate everything that ought to be united.—Kate Field's Washington.

Visitors and the Chinese Emperor.

Until the present generation our ministers have never been received by the emperor in person. The Chinese have fought against such receptions as sacrilegious. In 1873, however, the foreign ministers forced the emperor to receive them, and in 1891 the new emperor gave his first reception to the foreign diplomats. He probably will have to do this many times in the future. I have received a letter from China describing this reception and saying that it had a great influence on the Chinese at Peking. It shows the people that these so called 'tribute bearers' are worthy of notice and makes them respect our ministers.

The last emperor wanted the diplomats to go down on their knees and bump their heads against the floor nine times in front of the emperor, as the Chinese do, but they refused to do this, and no attempt was made to demand this on the present occasion. The Chinese idea is to make the foreign ministers, as far as possible, contemptible in the eyes of the people, and it was four months before the audience of 1873 could be arranged.—Frank G. Carpenter in National Tribune.

The flat pieces of iron shaped like a letter S, and frequently seen on the walls of old brick buildings, serving as girders, are said to have been old time symbols of the sun.

A few years ago the Belding Bros. silk manufacturers of Northampton, Mass., sunk a well at their silk works to the depth of 3,700 feet without obtaining water.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism. Messrs. Cage and Sherman, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: 'The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt, the Postmaster here had been bed-ridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement.' 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
