LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Depew, late with Mr. J. C. Baldwin, is in the city.

Dr. Siddall will leave tonight for Portland to be absent till Monday.

C. E. Hayward of Wamie, gave the CHRONICLE a pleasant call today.

Do. C. Wells Whitcomb of Dufur, returned last night from an extended trip to the east.

David Farrington, of Lower Fifteen Mile, paid this office a pleasant visit today.

Mr. Swick, of Corvallis, was in town today on the way to his stock farm in Grant county.

J. A. Baker, of Eight Mile, returned last night on the Regulator from a trip to Portland.

D. W. Staley, from Sydney, Ohio, came up on the Regulator last night on the way to the Palouse country.

C. L. Richmond returned from Prineville last night and left again for the same place at noon today.

Architect Saunders is preparing plans for a saah, blind and door factory which he is about to erect in North Dalles.

The Regulator this morning took 125 head of cattle for Portland, in addition to a lot of other freight, wagons, etc.

D. B. Kelly, a prominent stockman of Mitchell, Crook county, is in town on his return from an extended trip to the east.

Prinz & Niteche are putting up a two story brick, but it will have a four story foundation. The intention is to make it a four story building later on.

The Klickitat Leader says: The farmers of Klickitat will be glad to hear that a grist mill is to be built at North Dalles, the lumber for which is now being hauled there.

Read the new ad today, on the first page, from A. M. Williams & Co. It is such announcements as that which take precedence of dispatches in most families, now days.

Three hobos and one drunk were accommodated with lodging in the Calaboose last night. The hobos were discharged and the drunk was fined in the usual sum of $5 and costs.

Snipes & Kinnersly, of this city, have been favored with two samples of Prangs photo color prints, for artists studies. These, and some other beautiful designs, are on exhibition at the store window.

The CHRONICLE has just published, in the form of a neat pamphlet, the Australian ballot law and the primary election law of this state. It is for sale at this office at ten cents a copy.

Persons whose habit may require the stimulus of a light pure wine will find a very superior article of claret at the drug store of Byrne, Floyd & Co., at the low price of $3 a dozen quart bottles.

Road Supervisor Henry Hudson has a force of men working on the Eight-mile hill, between the creek and Long Ward'a. He it said to be making a fine job of it, and but few pieces of road in the county had greater need.

Members of The Dalles board of trade, and all interested in the matter of organizing a chamber of commerce for this city, are urgently requested to meet tonight in the hall of the CHRONICLE building at 8 o'clock.

Railroad Accident.

Mr. J. A. Vaughan of Kingsley, who left this city for the east last Tuesday by the Oregon Short Line, sends us the following:

BAKER CITY, Or., March 17.—We have run into a land slide and the train is wrecked. The engine and tender are considerably smashed up, but there is no one hurt very bad. Some slightly shocked. The engineer has his head bruised some, but not seriously. The fireman jumped and saved himself. A tramp that was stealing a ride on the tender had a narrow escape. The wreck occurred at 2:20 this morning, and we will be delayed for some time, can't tell just how long. If the engine had gone 30 feet farther the whole train would have been hurled into the canyon about 50 feet below.

The Fakir "Doctor" Beats a Walla Walla Justice.

From the Walla Walla Journal we learn that "Dr." True, the street fakir who lately visited The Dalles, was again brought before a justice court in that city last Tuesday charged with practicing medicine without a license. The jury found True guilty and fined him $75 and costs, which together, amounted to nearly $200. Then the "Doctor," who acted as his own lawyer, showed the court that he knew a thing or two himself. When the verdict was announced True told the justice he would not pay his fine and the justice proceeded to make out his commitment but before the constable had time to take him to jail a petition for a writ of habeas corpus had been filed in the superior court in which it was alleged that W. H. True was unlawfully detained in the custody of the constable. The petition was granted and True was brought before Judge Upton who decided that the justice had no jurisdiction in cases where the penalty was imprisonment in the statute, as petty larceny, etc. True was therefore discharged.

Prohibition Meeting.

A well-filled house greeted Messrs. Wolfenberger and Huckens, the prohibition lecturer and singer, last night. Mr. Wolfenberger is an able speaker and he dealt many a telling blow at the liquor traffic. He seemed thoroughly in earnest and his work, barring only the obnoxious and unnecessary political features of it, will meet with the approval of every good citizen. Some of us cannot help thinking that the liquor question is infinitely more a question of morals and religion than of partisan politics and that the cause of temperance is hindered and not helped by mixing it up with questions of tariff and finance. In this respect, however, last night's speech was much less objectionable than that of the previous night. Still the speaker seemed to take peculiar pleasure in scornfully referring to President Harrison as the "good Presbyterian elder," who got a present of a keg of Scotch whiskey from the millionaire Carnegie, while Cleveland indignantly returned a similar present to the donor. The singing of Mr. Huckens was very fine indeed and goes far undoubtedly to make the meetings a success. The song "Levi," anent the old chestnut about the vice president running a saloon in Washington, was finely rendered and brought down the house, whatever one might think about the truth or sentiment of the composition.

Board of Trade Meeting.

A meeting of the Board of Trade will be held in the hall over THE CHRONICLE office, this, (Friday) evening, March 18th, at 8 o'clock. Business of importance will come before the board, and it is much desired that every member attend. Per order Vice President.

3-17d2t B. S. HUNTINGTON, Secretary.

Views of a Contractor.

TACOMA, Wash., March 17.—T. W. Hubbell, a wealthy Detroit contractor, who was the superintendent of a force of 14,000 men, who in eighteen months built the Sault Ste. Marie canal from lake Huron to Superior at a cost of $750,000, arrived from Portland tonight. He says the Columbia river canal at the cascades should have been constructed as quickly as the "Soo," and for $1,750,000, which amount he says has already been expended, and as much more demanded to finish the work, which at the present rate will be completed in about fourteen years. Improvements of the water-ways of the state is a more important he says, than government subsidy of railroads.

Get the Rotary, the Amazon, or the California lawn sprinkler, at Maier & Benton's. 3-18-dtf.

Byrne, Bloyd & Co., offer what they believe to be the finest Claret ever brought to this city, put up in quart bottles, at the low price of $3 a dozen. 3-18dt

Wanted to See the Soldiers.

A wealthy New York lady who has traveled much abroad, but who knows very little about her own country, was in Washington a few days ago for the first time. She was taken to the White House by an influential friend, and through his intercession the private apartments of the house were opened up to her, and she had an exceptional opportunity to inspect the numerous beauties of the dignified but modest mansion. As she was being helped into her carriage on departing, a shade of disappointment was detected in her face.

"Well, what do you think of it?" her friend inquired.

"I must confess to a very keen disappointment," was the reply. "The rooms are all very prettily decorated, and some of them are dignified and impressive, but I am sorry not to have seen the military."

It appeared on further inquiry that this un-Americanized New Yorker had fully expected to find the president's mansion surrounded by a military guard in full uniform, and she was vehement in her assertions that the German way was "ever so much better than ours."—New York Recorder.

Man's Duty to Man.

The father may think to hide certain parts of his character from his child, not wishing him to imitate them, and may give him precepts that he has never followed, but the child absorbs what he fancies is concealed and forgets the words which contradict it. Commands and exhortations may produce or restrain certain acts, but they are powerless to inspire emotions or create desires. Often they have a reverse effect.

To give every one his due, to refrain from taking unfair advantage, or in any way enriching one's self at the expense of another, are supposed to be duties which are simply to be inculcated and obeyed, yet how is the desire of gain, so intense in many minds, to be made to yield when it conflicts with these duties? Chiefly by crediting with the breast a stronger desire for justice and integrity. The love of rectitude, the faith in honor, the desire to deal fairly and squarely with all men, must be aroused and strengthened before any one can be thoroughly and truly just. And the same is true with regard to every good quality.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Dear Innocents.

Some Detroit ladies, not more than a thousand miles from a barrel of salt in front of a Woodward avenue grocery store, recently organized a debating club for the development and benefit of the rights of women. It was their first experience, the dear things, so they appointed a committee to go down town and get the needed stationery, etc. When the polite and affable clerk had about finished selecting the articles they had put down in a memorandum book, he inquired of the spokeswoman of the party:

"You will want a 'Cushing's Manual,' won't you?"

"A what?" she asked sharply.

"A 'Cushing's Manual,' madam," he answered, moving out of range.

"No, sir," she said, with severity, "this society is exclusively for ladies, and if we want anything at all in that line it will be a womanual, sir. How much do we owe you?"—Detroit Free Press.

How Some Coins Were Named.

The origin of the names of coins in present use is curious. In many cases they imply a standard of weight that lost its significance long ago. This is the case with the English standard, the pound. The word shilling is of German derivation, like penny, which comes from the German pennig. The word "crown" comes from the image placed on the coin. The name franc was given by King John, who first coined these pieces in 1200. They bore the motto "Le Roi Frank" (King of the Franks) and were of two kinds, one representing the king on horseback, the other on foot.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

Messrs. Cage and Sherman, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Fruit, the Postmaster here had been bedridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.' 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists."
