Republican primary election day.

Hon. F. P. Mays of Portland is in the city.

Hon. W. R. Ellis of Heppner was in town last night and left for home on the noon passenger today.

Mr. W. Lord was called to his farm in Klickitat yesterday, and will be absent from the city several days.

William Worden and Raymond Blue, of Wapinitia, were in town today making homestead entries on land on Wapinitia flat.

Mr. J. P. McNerny invites proposals for the erection of a cottage in the city, according to plans and specifications to be seen at the office of Crandall & Burget.

An egg laid by a hen in Mrs. Frank Chase's poultry yard, three miles from this city, measures 6 1/2 inches in length. The yolk is in one end of it, and the white in the other.

If you should miss the CHRONICLE from your residence, or place of business, please let us know it, as a new carrier boy is being initiated, and mistakes are liable to happen.

John C. Luce, of Grant county, the candidate of the people's party for congress from the second congressional district, passed through the city today on his way home from Portland.

A heavy shower of rain commenced falling a little after dark last night, and lasted for several hours. The ground is thoroughly soaked and the prospects, so far, for fine crops all over the county, have not been so good for many a day.

At a meeting of The Dalles board of trade, held last night in the hall of THE CHRONICLE building, vice-President S. L. Brooks being in the chair, a committee of three was appointed to secure the services of a collector to gather in a sufficient amount of delinquent dues to liquidate certain debts contracted by the board, previous to the great fire.

"This is the worst wind storm I've ever seen in The Dalles," said a guest of the Umatilla house last evening, as he looked out and observed the dust driven up street by a lively gale. "How long since you came to The Dalles?" inquired Mr. Mitchell, of Floyd, Byrne & Co. "Thirty years ago last fall; but I have been away from here 29 years of that time." This last remark seemed to satisfy the inquirer with the truthfulness of the first asperion.

J. P. Shannon of Clackamas county formerly of Oak Grove in this county, gave us a pleasant call today. Mr. Shannon has been attending the foreclosure sale of a farm formerly owned by him in Oak Grove.

Methodist services in the new church. Class meeting at 10 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m., subject, "The Nature and Mode of Baptism." Sunday school at 12:20; children's meeting at 4 p. m.; Epworth League 5:30; preaching at 7:15. Everybody made welcome. Revival services tonight.

The republican primary election being held here today is being hotly contested as we go to press. Two tickets are in the field, one known as the Farley ticket and the other as the Moody ticket. At this hour it is impossible to tell which ticket will carry the day.

The Congregational church services in the Court house Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. Sunday school at 1:15. Young people's society of Christian Endeavor at 6 o'clock p. m. All are cordially invited. Union services in the Court house at 7:30 p. m., (please observe the change in time of service.) Preaching by Rev. W. C. Curtis, pastor of the Congregational church. Subject, "Christianity; a way side Religion."

Fire at Mr. H. C. Nielsen's Store.

Night before last H. C. Nielsen, the popular clothier, was putting out the light of the last lamp in his store, previous to closing up, the wire by which it was suspended to the ceiling broke and let the lamp fall to the floor, spilling the oil which, becoming ignited, for a time threatened the destruction of his immense stock of clothing. The fire was fortunately soon extinguished by throwing clothing on the flames, and the damage to clothing and store furniture amounted to only a little over $50. It was altogether fortunate to Mr. Nielsen, that no greater damage was done as he had, just a few hours before the occurrence, placed on his shelves and counters the last case of a full line of spring clothing and gent's furnishing goods, which he considers the finest lot of goods in this line he has ever exhibited to the people of this city. A visit to the store today fully confirmed the truth of this opinion. Every counter and shelf and every other available space was occupied and Mr. Nielsen, himself an ardent free trader, assured the reporter, that notwithstanding the McKinley bill his new stock of clothing is fully as cheap as anything of similar quality he has ever offered to the public, and handsome all-wool suits, wholly of Oregon manufacture, at the low price of $10 each, fully confirmed this opinion.

Council Meeting.

At the call of Mayor Mays, a special meeting of the council was held last night. All the members were present except Councilman Krefit. The following business was transacted:
On motion, a permit was granted to Prinz and Nitschke to use part of Second street opposite lots 8 and 9, in block 3, of Dalles City, proper, for building material during the construction of the building now begun on lot eight.

The petition was granted of school district No. 12, of Wasco county, to lay a sewer from some point near the electric Light Company's power house to a connection with the Union street sewer, for the purpose of draining the seepage water that now runs down into the school house grounds. The Electric Light Company is to pay heff the cost and the street commissioner is to superintend the work.

The petition of John Donovan and W. H. Butts, asking that the liquor license of John Donovan be transferred to W. H. Butts was granted.

The meeting then adjourned.

BOERN.

In this city, March 19th, to the wife of M. M. Sayre, a son.

Let Us Start a Warehouse.

W. E. Walthers the obliging and gentlemanly assistant of Mays & Crowe of this city, got a postal card from a well-known warehouse of The Dalles, last Monday, informing him that a package lay at the warehouse addressed to him on which there was a freight charge of 25 cents. Mr. Walthers went to the warehouse on Tuesday morning and found a gunny sack, containing a set of harness that had been shipped to him from Hood River. He paid the freight charges and was then told that the warehouse charges were 50 cents or a hundred percent more than the freight charges! Walthers intends to start a warehouse himself just as soon as he can raise the boodle. He thinks there's money in it.

Notice to Contractors.

Sealed bids will be received by J. P. McNerny, till noon March 31st, 1892, for the erection of a one story cottage, to be built at the N. E. corner of Third and Liberty streets, in this city. #### Congregational Art Social.

The sociable given by the Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church, at the house of Mrs. Geo. P. Morgan last evening, was a decided success. Besides being a very enjoyable affair socially, it was a thing of much interest in the fact of being the most complete collection of the work of the artists and amateurs of The Dalles which has ever been gathered. There is much that is very creditable to the talent and industry of our art-workers. The last three years have shown a marked improvement in the work of our amateurs. They paint with a freer brush and a finer appreciation of nature's subtle moods.

Perhaps there is nothing which is more indicative of advance than the presence in a number of the pictures and sketches of an atmosphere and a delicate handling of lights and shadows not before observable. There is not such an opaque and painty effect as was shown in former pictures. Everywhere may be observed a better appreciation of what among artists is termed value—the distribution of the light and shade so as to correspond to the relative planes of the picture. Evidently in this respect there has been some good instruction with power to inspire enthusiasm.

We observe a marked increase in the number of original sketches which is an indication of real progress. We cannot here undertake to discriminate to the praise or dispraise of certain teachers amongst us, any more than we can allow ourselves to select for special praise the pictures and sketches of certain individuals whose progress and attainment has been a wonder and an admiration to us.

Good prominence was given to the work of Ben Foster, a New York artist of very considerable power and talent, by giving his pictures and sketches a room by themselves. A number of Mr. Foster's pictures were burned in the fire which consumed Mr. Curtis' study, making the exhibit considerably less than it would otherwise have been.

The specimens of china exhibited by our own art workers in that direction was a complete surprise, and were the admiration of all. The dainty specimens of needle work exhibited by Mrs. Gibbons called forth a good deal of admiration and praise. Much credit is accorded to Mrs. Lochhead and Mrs. Barrett for the assistance they rendered Mrs. Morgan in the tasteful and artistic arrangement of the various articles.

There were about fifty persons present at the sociable last evening. It is presumed that a number were kept away by the wind and rain which prevailed in the early part of the evening. By a general request the pictures and other articles will remain in place, thus affording opportunity to those who may wish to see them this (Saturday) evening.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

Messrs. Cage and Sherman, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt, the Postmaster here had been bed-ridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

DEFINITIONS OF A LAUGH.

Pat Expressions Concerning an Act of Which Most People Are Gaily.
A London weekly paper, Tit-Bits, offered a prize of ten dollars for the best definition of a laugh. The money was awarded for the following:
An eruption of joy, relieved by an explosion at the mouth of "the crater."
Here are some of the best definitions submitted:
That by which mirth pays a compliment to wit.
The merry thunder peal which follows the lightning flash of wit.
An outward indication of inward satisfaction.
The physical expression of a pleasurable mental emotion.
An antidote against the poison of melancholy.
As brevity is the soul of wit, so a laugh is the soul of expression.
If "Laugh and grow fat," as we have been told.
Is a proverb undoubtedly both true and old. We cannot be wrong if a laugh we define. As the very best condiment when we all dine.
The music of the merry, the croak of the scornful and the wail of the maniac.
The outward visible sign of an inward invisible tickle.
The natural ebullition of a joyous heart.
A burst of music from the harp of mirth, produced by the touch of humor.
The "Volapuk" of mirth and good nature.
The keynote of man's character, the tone of which proves its quality.
An appreciation of humor conveyed without speech.
A cheerful report from the interior.
Nature's mental medicine. Used sparingly it acts as a pleasant tonic, but when resorted to immoderately it paralyzes and degrades the senses.
A temporary relaxation from gravity.
The only family doctor who gives relief in all cases, often effects instantaneous cures and sends no bills.
Merriment's wand, but derision's dart.
One of God's greatest blessings for temporarily relieving the monotony of our existence.
Heaven's best antidote to care.
The luxury of health and the greatest help to digestion.
What a woman is fond of doing when she has got a new set of false teeth.
Nature's tonic for mental ailments.

A spark from the fire of life.
The spray from the fountain of mirth, or a bubble from the well of scorn.
The sunshine of the heart reflected in the face.
The safety valve of mirth, the pondiard of derision and the mockery of despair.
An ostentatious display of one's own sense of humor.
The oil which make the lamp of life burn bright and clear.
The explosion produced by a flash of wit.

A Tamed Lion.

At the Zoo a young lion from Sokoto was much intent on breaking in the iron shutter which separates the house it now occupies from its former quarters next door. Apart from the very proper wish to assert a right to its former domicile, it had the irritating stimulus supplied by an ill tempered and decrepit old leopard which was growling on the other side of the shutter, and even went so far as to insert one of its longest teeth into the crack between the shutter and the wall as a reminder to the lion of what was waiting for it on the other side.

The lion was striking constant heavy blows on the door, and was so intent on its occupation as to disregard the call of its keeper. The keeper quietly attracted its attention by pulling its tail—and the lion at once desisted, rubbed its face against the keeper's hand and lay down to be stroked, patted and have its mane caressed. A very beautiful puma close by exhibited all the pleasure of a friendly cat at being stroked, and the tiger from Turkestan allowed himself to be fondled like a big dog.—London Spectator.
