

THE DALLES CHRONICLE

IS THE LEADING PAPER

Of the Leading City of Eastern Oregon.

During the little over a year of its existence it has earnestly tried to fulfill the objects for which it was founded, namely, to assist in developing our industries, to advertise the resources of the city and adjacent country and to work for an open river to the sea. Its record is before the people and the phenomenal support it has received is accepted as the expression of their approval. Independent in everything, neutral in nothing, it will live only to fight for what it believes to be just and right.

Commencing with the first number of the second volume the weekly has been enlarged to eight pages while the price ($1.50 a year) remains the same. Thus both the weekly and daily editions contain more reading matter for less money than any paper published in the county.

A Severe Law.
The English people look more closely to the genuineness of these staples than we do. In fact, they have a law under which they make seizures and destroy adulterated products that are not what they are represented to be. Under this statute thousands of pounds of tea have been burned because of their wholesale adulteration.
Tea, by the way, is one of the most notoriously adulterated articles of commerce. Not alone are the bright, shiny green teas artificially colored, but thousands of pounds of substitutes for tea leaves are used to swell the bulk of cheap teas; ash, sloe, and willow leaves being those most commonly used. Again, sweepings from tea warehouses are colored and sold as tea. Even exhausted tea leaves gathered from the tea-houses are kept, dried, and made over and find their way into the cheap teas.
The English government attempts to stamp this out by confiscation; but no tea is too poor for us, and the result is, that probably the poorest teas used by any nation are those consumed in America.
Beech's Tea is presented with the guaranty that it is uncolored and undiluted; in fact, the sun-dried tea leaf pure and simple. Its purity insures superior strength, about one third less of it being required for an infusion than of the artificial teas, and its fragrance and exquisite flavor is at once apparent. It will be a revelation to you. In order that its purity and quality may be guaranteed, it is sold only in pound packages bearing this trade-mark:
BEECH'S TEA
"Pure As Childhood"

A Chinese Governor.
Tshang Yao, the governor of the province of Shantung, who died recently, was one of the highest dignitaries of the Celestial empire. He had a highly adventurous career. Born in lowly position, he was obliged to flee in his youth on account of having murdered the tormentor of an old man. He became a robber and soon stood at the head of all the brigands who made the province of Hunan unsafe. When, during the rebellion, the chief town of the province was threatened, the governor issued a proclamation in which he promised the hand of his daughter to the man who would save the town from the enemy.
At the head of 500 bandits, Tshang beat off the attack of the rebels, and led home on the next day, as a reward for his bravery, the almond-eyed beauty. Then he made rapid progress. He was not able to read or write, but was of great integrity, and died poor as he was born. He was called by his people, on account of his charity, Tshang, "the blue sky." It is said, however, that he was not always just toward Europeans, and especially the missionaries.—London News.

A Turtle's Unavoidable Delay.
During a windstorm in the early days of last June a tree on the farm of Mortimer Hamilton, in Jackson county, Ind., was blown down, and in falling a limb struck squarely across the back of a large snapping turtle and forced it down into the earth. A day or two since the limb was cut away and the snapper, released from its imprisonment, trudged away, apparently uninjured, from its prison, where it had lain immovably fixed without food or water for over four months.—Cor. Chicago Tribune.

The damp weather at Lancaster, Kan., caused a package of 5,000 postage stamps to become glued together in a solid block, making it necessary to return them to Washington.

Old People.
J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old or feeble people should take, as the mineral potato which is in every other Sarsaparilla that we know of, is under certain conditions known to be emaciating. J. V. S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing for old, delicate or broken down people. It builds them up and prolongs their lives. A case in point:
Mrs. Belden an estimable and elderly lady of 810 Mason St., S. F. was for months declining so rapidly as to seriously alarm her family. It got so bad that she was finally afflicted with fainting spells. She writes: "While in that dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J. V. S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my lost flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years." That was two years ago and Mrs. Belden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J. V. S.
If you are old or feeble and want to be built up.

Snow at New Orleans.
A fall of snow in New Orleans is an astonishing event. Men would scarcely be more excited if Clay statue were to evolve into the crater of an eruptive volcano. That snow is a most wonderful intoxicant cannot be a matter of doubt to any impartial or unprejudiced observer of the antics of Orleanians the other day. Foremost in the ranks of the snow drunk was the powerful small boy—the Bobby of the mansion, the Mickey of Bank alley. Bobby scraped from rose bush, lawn and doormat sufficient snow to make his first snowball, and pelted therewith nurse, coachman and cook. Mickey scrambled with his ragged fellows for the meager fall of snow upon curbstone and pavement, and as he waited with red shining nose for the evening papers, he sent up many a merry shout and shed many a whizzing snowball.

As the fluffy shower began to freckle the gloomy atmosphere about noon pedestrians stopped in their mad rush along the thoroughfares to stand shivering beneath protecting sheds and gaze curiously at the snow as a thing rarely seen. Clerks and shopgirls thronged to windows and showcases and flattened their noses against the panes to see the flecks. Upon St. Charles avenue and Prytania street one might have thought from the number of ladies in shawls and ulsters upon galleries and at windows that some great procession was passing. There was quite as much enthusiasm, nervousness and color.

Not a few of the schools and academies gave their pupils a half holiday, with instructions to see the snow and take advantage of the opportunity to study the phenomena pertaining thereto. There was not enough snow to cause any fun about the exchange. Eleven years ago, when the snow fell last, the Cotton exchange men were like so many schoolboys. They rubbed each other's faces with snow, they had snowball battles, and the stately and bewhiskered cotton king thought nothing of being shot through the ear with a globe of snowflakes.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Long Sleep in Silesia.

A most peculiar case of prolonged sleep is at present occupying the attention of medical circles in Germany. A miner named Johann Latius is an inmate of the hospital at Myslowitz, in Silesia, where he was admitted four months and a half ago, and since then all efforts to wake him have been fruitless. Dr. Albers, the doctor attending him, is of the opinion that the apparent sleep is really a state of catalepsy, though medical science has on record no previous case of such a prolonged nature. He has arrived at this conclusion on account of all the limbs being absolutely rigid. The appearance of the man, however, betrays no signs of this. The body lies quite still, the breathing is regular, and there is a healthy color in the cheeks. In the last few days the body has become much less rigid, and the patient has even made some slight movement, without, however, the eyes opening or the condition of apparent sleep being in any way disturbed. In the four months and a half that the sleep has lasted the hair has increased in length, but the beard has remained stationary. Nourishment to the extent of two or three liters of milk is administered daily by a tube inserted into the throat.—Vienna Letter.

A Monster Wheel.

The new 30-foot flywheel to replace the one which burst on the Amoskeag corporation at Manchester, N. H., last fall, has been completed and put in position for use as soon as the engine is in readiness. Twenty thousand feet of brown ash was used in the construction of the wheel, as well as 18,000 lbs of 3 1/2-inch screws, a lot of iron rods, tons of iron and quarts of glue. The small wooden sections are fastened together by glue and the screws, and to strengthen the whole there are stout iron rods passing through the sections in addition to this. The screws are driven by steam power. To make the whole mass as compact as possible narrow openings were left between some of the sections, and into these were tightly driven well fitting wedges soaked in boiling hot glue.

The time of its test is being awaited with interest by the mill people. It has been necessary to keep a large gang of men at work upon the racks in the mill in order to prevent interference in the mills from ice.—Lowell Citizen.

Married with Her Arms All Dough.

A very romantic marriage has taken place in Montgomery county, N. C. A young man obtained the license, secured the preacher, took him immediately to the presence of his intended. He found her in the kitchen making up dough. The young fellow did not give her time to clean her hands and arms, but had the preacher to tie the knot at once. The preacher made quick work of it and sent them on their way rejoicing.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Came Near Being Buried Alive.

After a young woman in Morgan county, Ala., had been pronounced dead last week by four physicians, and was dressed in her burial garments, she suddenly, during the night before the funeral, opened her eyes and sat up in bed, to the intense fright of the watchers and the joy of her parents. A few hours later she got up and is now in her usual health.

To Explore the Amazon.

A company has been formed in Rio Janeiro, with a capital of $5,000,000, to explore and develop the natural resources of the Amazon. Colonies are to be established and means provided for reaching a market for a region heretofore practically unexplored.—New York Times.

Lord Lorne's Poetry.

The Marquis of Lorne is a happy man. He is written by the industrious to have composed more poetry than Lord Tennyson, and now he has been made governor and constable of Windsor castle at a salary of £1,200 a year.—London News.
