That the salmon are already in the middle river was proved yesterday beyond question when Mr. S. L. Brooks and his niece Miss Iva, were crossing the river in a skiff and a fine fellow about three feet long jumped clear out of the water, a few yards off.
The carpenters and joiners union of this city call a meeting of the contractors and builders, including the masons, painters and plasterers, for next Thursday evening, in the room over THE CHRONICLE office, to confer on a matter of interest to the craft. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

Senator Dolph acknowledges the receipt of one of Mr. Hubbard photographs, of the whaleback Wetmore, adding that he had devoted the best efforts of his time in the United States senate to realize the object contemplated by the picture, namely, the passage of ocean steamers through the cascade locks.
Attention is called to the reward of ten dollars offered by Mrs. John Bolton, of Kingsley, for the recovery of a dark brown horse branded R K on left shoulder, with small star in his forehead and weighing about 1200 pounds. The horse either strayed away or was stolen from the ranch the first week in March.
Chas. Butler shipped two cars of sheep to Portland last night which he bought from the Baldwin Land and Live Stock Company. Two more cars will be shipped later. McD. Lewis, of Wapinitia, brought in 400 head of mutton sheep last night to ship below. Wiley & Saltmarsh shipped a couple of days ago, 1400 head, purchased from McCall, of the John Day country.
An employe of the U. P. R. "system" accidentally let it out to a reporter of the press yesterday, that the slide night before last, which delayed trains between The Dalles and Portland occurred about 200 miles from the latter city. He will be suspended from the pay roll tomorrow, for coming so near the truth. The "system" is damaged and all broke up when they let the truth be known.
$10 Reward.
Lost or stolen from my ranch near Kingsley, a dark brown horse, branded R. K. connected, on left shoulder, small star in forehead, weight about 1200 pounds. He was last seen near the ranch on March 8th inst. I will pay the above reward for his recovery.

Mrs. J. BOLTON.
The Dalles Local Union of the Carpenters and Joiners of America will hold a meeting on Thursday evening, 31st inst., at 8 o'clock in the hall over THE CHRONICLE office at which all contractors and builders, including masons, plasterers and painters, are requested to meet with them and confer on matters of interest to these several crafts.
By Order of Committee. 3-29d3t
An Epidemic of Hiccoughs.
What is called an epidemic of hiccoughs is reported as prevailing on the Maryland and Delaware peninsula, and in some cases it has proved fatal. The case of Richard Cole, colored, who resided near Middletown, Del., baffled the physicians, as have others, and he fell a victim after coughing violently for four weeks. His death has attracted much attention from physicians. Edward Pardee, a farmer residing in Jones Neck, was stricken sixteen weeks ago with the disease and has hiccoughed incessantly since. At times his life is despaired of, but the attacks become less violent and he rallies. He is now slowly improving. Every mail has brought letters to the family of the sufferer for many weeks, the writers advising the use of different remedies, all of which have been tried to no avail.—Cor. Baltimore Sun.
A Man Cremated Alive in a Furnace.
A frightful accident occurred at the North Lonsdale Iron company's works at Ulverston. A man named John McAllister was working on the top of one of the blast furnaces, and when tipping in a barrow of limestone he stumbled and fell headlong into the burning furnace. The furnace was immediately damped down, but nothing more was seen of him. The burial service held on the top of the furnace was read by the Rev. Father Allan. It will be remembered that a similar fatality occurred recently in the neighborhood of Carnforth, and that there the burial service was also read by a clergyman on the top of the furnace.—London Tit-Bits.
A Dollar for a Kiss.
In Geneva county recently a jury by its verdict settled the value of kisses in this state. A young fellow named William Horton was indicted for assault and battery on Miss Sallie Jones. The testimony of the young woman was that Horton had laid violent hands on her and kissed her against her will. Horton testified that the kiss was with Miss Sallie's free will and consent, and that he had kissed her 150 times before. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty and assessed a fine of $150, stating that kisses in Geneva were worth one dollar each.—Birmingham Age-Herald.
The Emperor's Other Arm Hurt.
The fact that the Emperor William met with a rather serious accident during his recent shooting excursion has been kept very quiet indeed. The emperor, while engaged in a wild boar hunt, slipped and fell heavily on his right arm, which was so severely bruised and sprained that it had to be kept in a sling for two days, and his majesty was advised to rest it for a longer period. This accident might have had grave results, for the emperor's left arm is absolutely useless.—London World.
Swift Justice.
A North Carolina tourist, in Cuba, had his watch stolen on the street. In less than two hours a police judge had sentenced the robber to three years' imprisonment. He also awarded the North Carolinian twenty-three dollars damages for the injury sustained by his watch in the struggle for its possession, and ordered the convict to work it out.—Philadelphia Ledger.
A bear whose head weighed fifty-three pounds and whose hide was nine feet across was recently captured by two Idaho doctors by means of a piece of pork saturated with chloroform and sugar.
A Swiss servant is said to have made a discovery by which he reduces milk to a dry powder in such a manner that by the addition of water it at once assumes all its natural properties.

How Gordon Settled It.
The artillery evinced in their disgust at their removal to Quinisan by refusing to fall in, and in a proclamation they threatened to blow the Chinese authorities away with the small guns and the Europeans with the big guns. Their noncommissioned officers, as usual, all paraded, and were sent for by Major Gordon, who asked them the reason why the men did not fall in, and who wrote the proclamation. They of course did not know; and on Major Gordon telling them he would be obliged to shoot one in every five, they evinced their objection to this proceeding by a groan. The most prominent in this was a corporal, who was dragged out, and a couple of infantry who were standing by were ordered to load, and directed to shoot the mutineer, which one did without the slightest hesitation.
The remainder were marched back and locked up for an hour, with the threat that if the name of the writer of this proclamation was not given, and if the men did not fall in before an hour had elapsed, the arrangement of shooting one in five would be carried out. At the expiration of an hour the men all fell in, and the name of the culprit, who had run away, was given up.
After that time we had no trouble, the men were thoroughly cowed and the noncommissioned officers—the real offenders—dared no longer foster sedition. It is to be regretted, however, that one life should have been sacrificed, but this saved many others which must have been lost if a stop had not been put to the independent way of the men.—Gordon's "Taeping Rebellion."
The Turn of the Sheet.
Two lord chancellors of England have made the turning over of a sheet of note paper a device for executing their neatest joke. Lord Chancellor Eldon, having been asked by a clerical friend to give him a certain living, wrote on one side of a sheet of paper:
DEAR FISHER—I cannot today give you the preferment for which you ask. I remain your sincere friend.
ELDON.
Turn over.
(On the other side: I gave it to you yesterday.)
Sir John Sinclair, who had done much for the agriculturists of England and Scotland, thought the nation should present him with a testimonial, and wrote to Lord Chancellor Erskine, inviting him to subscribe to it. On one side of a sheet of paper Erskine replied:
MY DEAR SIR JOHN—I am certain there are few in this kingdom who set a higher value on your services than myself, and I have the honor to subscribe—
(On the other side the note concluded:—myself, your obedient, faithful servant,
ERSKINE.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.
Messrs. Cage and Sherman, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt, the Postmaster here had been bed-ridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
La Grippe Successfully Treated.
"I have just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
