Spings Below a New York Street.

For the past three months the road department of the Manhattan Elevated railway has been carrying on a very difficult piece of engineering work at Bowers and Bayard streets. At that point the cable company is building a plant, and the operation makes it necessary for the elevated company to sink three pillars forty-five feet below the street level in order to get below the cable company's obstruction. These pillars are built of brick and their foundations are forty feet below grade. They are 8 feet at the base and 4 1/2 feet at the top. Many persons are not aware that sparkling springs of water flow beneath the surface of this busy city, but running water was found at a depth of thirty-five feet where the excavation was made. There was a bubbling spring where each pillar was built. One of the springs spouted 500 gallons a minute, and it required a 4-inch centrifugal pump to keep the hole clear until the mason work could be finished. Roadmaster Black has a large bottle filled with the water, which is as clear as crystal and of fine quality. The sand about the spring is as fine and white as beach sand.—New York Telegram.

A Bride and a Widow in One Day. Pretty seventeen-year-old Conception Sylva, a Portuguese maiden of Contra Costa county, was a bride at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in West Berkeley, and three hours later she was a widow. She was married to Frank Bispo, a young Portuguese dairyman, and after the ceremony and reception the wedding guests repaired to the station, where the young couple were to take the train for San Francisco.

While waiting for the train Bispo took a little nephew in his arms and trotted up the track, while several others walked along the railroad. Suddenly the shriek of the overland flier was heard, and a moment after it swept around a curve. It disappeared in an instant. On one side of the track was Bispo, dead. In his arms lay his little nephew, alive, but badly wounded. On the other side of the track lay the body of Mrs. Sylva. All three had been struck by the train. The grief of the bride was heartrending. The mourning party went to the house, where the wedding supper was cold on the table.—San Francisco Cor. Chicago Herald.

Bruin Holds the Orchard. The Hon. Isaac Bearce, of Meddy-bemps, has a fine orchard, perhaps the finest in this county. It is situated some distance from his house in a thick growth of woods. Isaac, with his two hired men, went to gather apples recently. They discovered a large bear in possession, and at last accounts he had refused to retreat. He was making sad havoc among the fruit.—Cor. Bangor News.

Old People.

J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old or feeble people should take, as the mineral potash which is in every other Sarsaparilla that we know of, is under certain conditions known to be emaciating. J. V. S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing for old, delicate or broken down people. It builds them up and prolongs their lives. A case in point: Mrs. Belden an estimable and elderly lady of 510 Mason St., S. F. was for months declining so rapidly as to seriously alarm her family. It got so bad that she was finally afflicted with fainting spells. She writes: "While in that dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J.V.S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my lost flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years." That was two years ago and Mrs. Belden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J. V. S. If you are old or feeble and want to be built up.

THE DALLES CHRONICLE

IS THE LEADING PAPER

Of the Leading City of Eastern Oregon.

During the little over a year of its existence it has earnestly tried to fulfill the objects for which it was founded, namely, to assist in developing our industries, to advertise the resources of the city and adjacent country and to work for an open river to the sea. Its record is before the people and the phenomenal support it has received is accepted as the expression of their approval. Independent in everything, neutral in nothing, it will live only to fight for what it believes to be just and right.

Commencing with the first number of the second volume the weekly has been enlarged to eight pages while the price ($1.50 a year) remains the same. Thus both the weekly and daily editions contain more reading matter for less money than any paper published in the county.

A Severe Law. The English people look more closely to the genuineness of these staples than we do. In fact, they have a law under which they make seizures and destroy adulterated products that are not what they are represented to be. Under this statute thousands of pounds of tea have been burned because of their wholesale adulteration. Tea, by the way, is one of the most notoriously adulterated articles of commerce. Not alone are the bright, shiny green teas artificially colored, but thousands of pounds of substitutes for tea leaves are used to swell the bulk of cheap teas; ash, sloe, and willow leaves being those most commonly used. Again, sweepings from tea warehouses are colored and sold as tea. Even exhausted tea leaves gathered from the tea-houses are kept, dried, and made over and find their way into the cheap teas. The English government attempts to stamp this out by confiscation; but no tea is too poor for us, and the result is, that probably the poorest teas used by any nation are those consumed in America. Beech's Tea is presented with the guaranty that it is uncolored and unadulterated; in fact, the sun-cured tea leaf pure and simple. Its purity insures superior strength, about one third less of it being required for an infusion than of the artificial teas, and its fragrance and exquisite flavor is at once apparent. It will be a revelation to you. In order that its purity and quality may be guaranteed, it is sold only in pound packages bearing this trade-mark:
