Tom Joles has the distinguished honor of being the first of the season to remember the gastronomic wants of the CHRONICLE office. He laid on our table this morning a bunch of fine radishes which were grown in the Joles garden. They are just of the right size for the table and they look as tender and savory as a maiden's kiss.

Monday evening next, at the court house, a rich musical feast is in store for The Dalles people. The Fisk Jubilee Singers always delight their audiences, wherever they go; and here, besides the features of the concert, patrons are conferring a benefit on one of our own best societies, the Congregational church.

Besides: it sometimes so happens, in a well regulated newspaper office, where copy has to be given out to several compositors at once, that manuscripts which might otherwise reach the public through the press, go into the waste-basket, for no other reason than that they were written on both sides of paper which—cannot be split. Such is the situation in The Chronicle office.

Tellow Flowers Bring III Luck.

Actors have a queer superstition about yellow flowers, and will not wear them. While at Dr. Todd's booth at the fair grounds Miss Marie Greenwood saw some yellow flowers, and after admiring them asked for them. Mr. Guibertson, her leading man, was present and begged her not to take them, saying they would surely bring her ill luck. A laugh was indulged in at his expense and she took the yellow flowers. In an hour the opera house was in ashes, and Miss Greenwood's ill luck had cost her $7,500. The flowers got in their work.—Owensboro (Ky.) Register.
