LOCAL BREVITIES.

If you want the news,
You want THE CHRONICLE.
If you are not a subscriber, please read this and hand in your name.
Hon. A. J. Dufur, of Dufur, is visiting his son, Hon. E. B. Dufur, of this city.
J. T. Foster, of Prineville, left town today with a load of freight for that town.

A meeting of the board of delegates of the fire department will be held Tuesday evening.

Pabst's Milwaukee beer at the Umatilla house at a bit a bottle. Free lunch tonight at 8 o'clock.

J. Folco, whose new advertisement appears in THE CHRONICLE today, is selling oranges by the box at Portland prices.

Steward Wiley, of The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation company's steamer Regulator, sets a table which tickles the palate of a passenger with an appetite.

Thanks of this office are tendered to Senators Mitchell and Dolph, and Representative Hermann, for valuable public documents.

Mr. C. Wyss, merchant tailor, 77 Second street, will take your order for any kind of a suit at eastern prices. See advertisement, new today.

Reserved seats for the Jubilee Singers Monday night are going rapidly at Snipes & Kinersly. Remember the Court room is small, a word to the wise etc. Secure your seats and tickets at once.

Three months hence, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, when the convention closes, the man who "first mentioned Harrison for renomination" will be numerous and noisy. The cry has commenced up here already, of "the first paper to mention Ellis for congress" from this district.

You should not hesitate one moment about attending the concert at the Court house Monday evening. The Fisk Jubilee singers have had the honor of appearing by invitation before more distinguished persons than any other company of singers in the world. This includes Presidents Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur and Harrison; Queen Victoria, the emperor and empress of Germany, the Right Hon. William E. Gladstone, and indeed nearly all the crowned heads of Europe, together with many of the most distinguished ministers and educators both in the old world and the new. Secure your seats at Snipes & Kinersly's drug store.

Salmon will be due here, fresh from the Columbia, on tomorrow.

The nice warm rain of today is welcomed by all, notably the gardeners and owner of promising orchards.

The streets of The Dalles today resemble those of a much larger place. So many people are in from the country, and visitors abroad.

Uncle Linus Hubbard has not forgotten the old style of voting in Buffalo—one ballot in your hand and three in your hat. That's the way he was seen going to the primaries today. Whether he got all the ballots into the box or not we'll never tell.

The board of pension examiners of this city, which consists of Drs. Shackelford, Doane and Logan, have been instructed, by the pension bureau at Washington, to hold their regular meetings, for examination of pension claimants, on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month, beginning April 13. Hitherto these meetings have been held weekly.

Our worthy contemporary of Walla Walla, the Statesman, acknowledging the receipt of one of Uncle Linus Hubbard's Whaleback locks pictures says: "It is intended to be prophetic of what will certainly occur at The Dalles, when the cascade locks are finished." Not alone The Dalles, Bro. Parker. These modern light draft steamers are so constructed that they may ascend any ordinary creek, and with the means provided at the dalles of the Columbia, simultaneously with the completion of the locks at the cascades, might reach Walla Walla if the authorities will remove the sage brush along the route from Wallula, and sprinkle the streets well. All jokes aside, there are many more benefits to accrue to points beyond The Dalles, than to The Dalles proper, by this long deferred improvement, and right minded journalists should see that it is for the benefit of the whole interior that we of The Dalles are so persistently working for an open river.

Republican Rally.

The republicans will hold a meeting at the Court house this evening, to ratify the ticket nominated by the state and county Republican Conventions. Hon. P. H. Ward, recently from Indiana, and ex-Judge of the 30th judicial district of that state, and Hon. Geo. Watkins and W. H. Wilson of this city, will address the meeting. Members of all parties are cordially invited. Seats will be reserved for ladies.

Church Notices.

At the M. E. church Rev. A. C. Spencer, pastor, will preach morning and evening.

Congregational Church services in the Court house, Sunday at 11 a. m. Sunday school at 12:15. Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, at 6 p. m. Union services in the Court house at 7:30 p. m. Preaching by Rev. C. W. Jenkins.

Maj. G. W. Ingalls will speak in the Academy, at 11 a. m. tomorrow, on the "Possibilities of the World's Evangelization in the next twenty years." Reference will be made to the work being done by the various religious denominations, and its effect on foreign immigration. Everyone cordially invited to be present.

Senator Watkins.

Hon. George B. Watkins, of The Dalles, who has been nominated for the judgeship of the seventh judicial district, is a native of Montgomery county, Ohio. He was born in 1854, came to Oregon in 1862, and settled in Silverton, Marion county. Remaining at that place four years, he went to Wasco county, located at The Dalles, studied law in the office of Hon. N. H. Gates, and was admitted to the bar in 1880.

In 1886 he was appointed district judge by Governor Moody to fill the office of an additional judge given that district by the legislature. At the expiration of his term of office he resumed the practice of his profession, and in 1888 was elected state senator. At the last session of the legislature he presented the portage railroad bill, authorizing the state of Oregon to construct and operate such a road around the obstructions to navigations on the Columbia river and at The Dalles.

The bill was one of great importance to all of Eastern Oregon, and its final passage gave to the people of the Inland Empire a competitive route to transportation, and the efforts of Senator Watkins in securing to the people such relief, will bring to him the support of many of the residents of the seventh judicial district belonging to the democratic party.—Oregonian.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

Agent Lucky's Experience With the U. F.

THE DALLES, April 8.

Editor Chronicle:
To illustrate the utter smallness and meanness of the corporation known as Union Pacific railway company, permit me to relate a little experience I have lately had with that company. Last fall I went down to the Portland exposition on an excursion ticket purchased from the company. The ticket was good for four days and finding I had to visit Eugene before returning home I went to Agent Hurlburt in Portland and asked him what disposition I could make of my return ticket. He informed me that if I should run two days over the time allowed by the ticket for return, it would cost me 80 cents a day and that I should in that case have to pay $2 for a one way ticket from Portland to The Dalles instead of the regular fare. On the morning of my return (it was Sunday) I called at Mr. Hurlburt's office and was informed by a man who was sweeping out the office that the agent would not be there until 9 o'clock. As the train left there at 7 I was obliged to leave without getting a ticket and, of course, the conductor obliged me to pay the full fare on the train. I applied to Mr. Hurlburt through The Dalles agent, for a refund of $1.55, the amount overpaid through no fault of mine, and was informed that in order to get it I must buy a ticket from the company the first time I am going to Portland, when the amount would be allowed, and not otherwise. Now the mere amount involved is no consideration. It is the principle of the thing. The company owes me a sum of money, acknowledges by letters in my possession that they owe it, but refuse to pay it unless as a rebate on another ticket. Happily they cannot force me to travel by their road as I never do and will not travel a mile on the Union Pacific or ship a pound of goods over their line when I can help it. The Regulator is good enough for me and I thank God on my own behalf and on behalf of the people of Northeastern Oregon for a line of transportation that saved us from being at the mercy of the Union Pacific, and while I am in the business, I thank the CHRONICLE for the noble stand it takes in defense of the people's rights. May its shadow never grow less.
J. C. LUCKY.

Warm Spring Indian Agent.
Concerning an Arbitrary Rule.

THE DALLES, April 9th.

Editor Chronicle:
My little girl, ten years old, who has to travel to school in storm and sunshine, in dust and mud, every day, a distance of four miles, going and coming, has been expelled for being absent four half days, unexcused. I went to the principal to explain the matter, and he sent me to one of the directors, and that director sent me to another director, and this last one I cannot find anywhere, after having spent half a day in the effort, a time that I can ill afford to spare from my work.

The rule by which my girl was expelled may be all right for a boy, who plays truant or absents himself to engage in a game of hockey, but for a girl who is present in school every hour it is impossible for her to be, it works a hardship, both upon the child and its parents. My opinion is that we, in the extreme east of the city, have a right to demand that we be given a school to ourselves, and not crowd all the schools together, as they are now. C. WYSS.

Vote of Thanks.

ON BOARD STR. REGULATOR, }
April 8, 1892. }

Editor Chronicle:
In a duly organized assembly of delegates to the Republican State convention from Wasco and Crook counties, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the captains and employes of The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation company's boats, for the gentlemanly and courteous treatment received on our trip to and from the Republican State convention, and we assure the traveling public that this company, and its employes, leave nothing undone to add to the comfort of their patrons, and we earnestly bespeak for the company the patronage of every man who favors an open river to the sea.
Signed, W. M. McCORKLE, Chairman.
M. P. ISENBERG, Secretary.

The sons and daughters of Nimrod are having fine sport in Mill creek, casting the fly for the gamey speckled and salmon trout. Yesterday Messrs. Nicholas Cornish and William J. Marder, night clerks at the Umatilla house, sailed out bright and early, after being relieved by the watch, and they caught a fine lot of the palate tickling beauties. Billy claimed the championship, but Nick says this can't be so, because Billy's largest fish was only about so long—while he caught a bouncer about so long. Billy disputes Nick's claim, and give the snap away by declaring that the big fish he was showing to his friends was bought from an Indian.

A CLOUD BURST.

"Say, John, where did you get those well fitting stylish shoes from?"
"Why, I purchased them of The Dalles Mercantile Company."
"You don't say so?"
"But why do you ask?"
"Because I have never seen such shoes since I left Boston. What brand did you say they were?"
"Why Walter H. Tenney & Co., of course."
"Well, now; I thought so. I am right glad I met you, for I shall buy a pair for myself, and take my family along too, for my children have always worn them. And do you know? they last a whole year."
"Yes, and you can get them in all widths, and prices, in men's, ladies, misses, child's, infants, boys and youths. And do you know, they are sold under a guarantee?"
"No. Why do they do so?"
"Because they have a world wide reputation, and can be relied upon."
The Walter H. Tenney Shoe is sold only by The Dalles Mercantile Company, who are sole agents for The Dalles.

The Modus Vivendi.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The Yorktown, Adams, Charleston, Baltimore and Mobican it is understood will be employed in patrolling Behring sea, when the season opens. The sailing instructions have been practically completed at the state department, and were yesterday submitted to a conference of United States officials at the navy department. There were present Secretary Tracy, Commodore Ramsay, Gen. J. W. Eoester and Edward O'Brien, commissioner of navigation, of the treasury department. The instructions were considered with great care. Prior to this conference at the navy department, Secretary Blaine had a conference at his house with Sir Julian Pauncefote on the same subject. Later in the day Sir Julian Pauncefote had another interview with Secretary Blaine at the state department. While no one will talk directly of the subject, the impression prevails that the modus vivendi is perfected, and will be announced in a few days in addition to the instructions to the Behring sea vessels.
