Mr. David A. Wells has been making some computations on silver, and finds there are now in the vaults of the United States treasury $400,000,000 worth of that metal. This makes 11,000 tons, and the government is buying every week 42 tons additional, to add to this store. The stored silver furnishes an interesting subject for computations. A cubic inch of silver weighs 0.38 pounds, and a cubic foot 637 pounds, so there is on hand 53,500 cubic feet. It would take 220,000 men to carry it, each carrying 100 pounds. If coined into dollars and piled up in a column, it would reach 675 miles. This immense amount of silver is in dollars, $348,679,253; small coin, $15,848,620; silver bars, $41,579,253; trade dollars, $2,394,260; total, 409,161,326, and yet buying seven tons a day.

The Dispatch says: Mr. Sinnott, the popular proprietor of the Umatilla house at The Dalles, left for home last evening after meeting a host of friends in this city during the past week. There is only one fault with Mr. Sinnott, and that is, he will persist in being a Republican when he has all the indications of a Democrat. The Chronicle wonders if the last sentence does not contain a covert reference to a rumor that has prevailed here since the Colonel's return, to the effect that the late convention drank up all the whiskey in Portland, and then burned the Troutdale distillery so that the democrats might be compelled to keep sober during their convention.

Whatever men may think or say concerning the effects of a high tariff on the price of farm products, the fact remains that the price of grain today averages nearly 50 per cent. higher than it did 30 years ago, while the prices of dry goods, groceries, clothing, boots and shoes, and farm machinery have meanwhile been reduced all of 50 per cent., so that the purchasing power of a bushel of grain is today 200 per cent. greater than in 1862.

Sheep raising in Walla Walla county is not always a speedy way to fortune, if the following from the Statesman is true. That paper says: "A gentleman of this city about a year ago started a man out with a band of sheep on the range. A few days ago he received the following from him: 'If you want me to remain here any longer you'll have to get another band of sheep; them's all gone.'"

The Telegram is booming Governor Penoyer as Oregon's candidate for a place on the democratic national ticket. The object of the Telegram is briefly stated thus: "We want to give Oregon prominence in national affairs and this is the opportunity to do it." This bears an exhibit at the world's fair, in one respect, at least, it costs nothing but wind.

While honest republicans and honest democrats in congress are fighting for honest money, the Illinois supreme court has decided that old boots, decayed beans, ancient eggs and rancid butter are full legal tender—when forced upon hired men in payment for their services.

Governor Ferry for an Open River.

Uncle Linus Hubbard, though comparatively a stranger in Eastern Oregon, is intensely interested in an open river. As a result, he has sent out at quite considerable cost, over one hundred photographs of the whalebacks Wetmore and Colgate Hoyt passing through the Sault Ste. Marie canal. They have gone to members of congress, newspaper editors, senators, governors of states and other public men. The photographs have been very kindly received by everybody, from our own Binger down, and here is a sample acknowledgment received from Gov. Ferry of Washington.

OLYMPIA, Wash., April 9, 1892.
Linus Hubbard, Esq.,
DEAR SIR: I have received your letter of the 2d inst. and photographs of the whaleback steamers C. W. Wetmore and Colgate Hoyt. I fully appreciate the importance of the early completion of the Cascade locks, and the benefit that will be derived therefrom by the citizens of Eastern Washington as well as Eastern Oregon. I will urge our senators in congress and our member to give their earnest personal attention to this matter. Very truly yours,
ELISHA P. FERRY.

An Unjust Criticism.
From a letter which appeared in Saturday's CHRONICLE headed "An Arbitrary Rule," some fair minded citizen might be led to believe that an injustice had been committed against a patron of our school. That such has not been the case will appear when all the facts are known concerning this particular child's absence. For an absence on March 14th she told her teacher she went to see the train come in. On March 18th she got a little mud on her dress and said she would not come. On March 25th she wanted to stay at home. On March 29th it rained a little but the child was excused by the teacher. April 8th the little girl came tardy. On the day preceding this tardiness the little girl's mother was at school, where the teacher explained to her the conditions regarding the absence. No excuse was offered verbally at that time, nor since in writing.

As to the "boy who plays truant or absent himself to engage in a game of hockey" we are of the opinion that some other kind of punishment which would act more directly upon him would be better. The rule itself I believe is sufficiently mild to meet the wishes of all good citizens who have the welfare of our school at heart. M. W. SMITH.

OREGON LIME.

This lime is manufactured by The Oregon Marble and Lime Company, near Huntington, Oregon, and has earned the reputation of being the strongest lime in the market, and consequently, in addition to making the best work is at an equal price, the cheapest to the user. The following analysis by W. G. Jenne, chemist, Portland, Oregon, is worthy of consideration:

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, d&w
