Some of the prisoner in the Umatilla county jail made an ineffectual attempt Monday night last to escape from their bondage. The door of the cell was opened by means of a leaden key which the prisoners made out of a chunk of lead melted on a tin platter, but morning dawned before they were able to break through the outer brick wall.

Capt. Pratt was illustrating last evening how unanimously the democrats in his Salem precinct turn out to vote at the republican primaries. In his primfor mayor. These were, 79 democratic and eighty republican. At the last republican primary election 134 votes were in the precinct, but, says Capt. Pratt, proper. Letter from Mr. Thomas R. Coon.

The two following letters explain themselves. The CHRONICLE, from its own personal knowledge confirms the opinion of Mr. McCorkle. Mr. Coon is a gentleman of fine educational and business capacity, and ability, a true man in every sense of the term, and one whose reputation for honesty and probity, is as broad as the circle of his acquaintance. We can pay him no higher tribute than to say that he will get his largest vote where he is best known.

Full particulars about the Shadow of using it, or any part of it, for publication or otherwise. There is evidence that Mr. Coon has ability, and that he is all right for an open river. Please notice

MARRIED.

In this city, April 12th, at the residence of Hans Hansen, by Rev. W. C. Curtis, George Keller and Louisa Kern, both of this city.

An Ingenious Prisoner.

It is seldom that a convict turns the It is seldom that a convict turns the hours of his enforced confinement to such good purpose as an immate of a Maryland prison. His term of imprisonment is thirteen years, on a conviction of horse stealing, of which he insists he was innocent. By working overtime he has earned such sums of money as to enable him to purphase books, of which his cell him to purchase books, of which his cell contains over 200. A short time ago, when electric light wires were being placed in the prison, he became interested in electricity and bought some standard works on the subject. The result was the construction of half a dozen different electrical appliances, including a burglar alarm, which he has just completed for the bedroom of the warden of the prison.

Another result of his industry is a lock which is so arranged that hammering on it drives the bolts deeper into their fas-tening. He exhibited a model of this lock to the warden, who was so pleased with it that it was at once adopted for use in the prison. Castings for the locks were made in the prison foundry, a lathe was set up in the prisoner's cell and he was relieved of all other tasks so that his entire time could be devoted to the manufacture of his locks, with which in a short time all the dormitories of the prison will be provided.-Exchange.

Against the Insurance Company. A merchant who was a member of a mutual accident insurance association was killed, while hunting for recreation, from an accidental shot. The association provided for the payment of sums ranging from $5,000 to $500, according to the occupation of the member. Merchants' certificates call for $5,000; but the company paid the beneficiaries of the man in question only $500, on the strength of a provision that any member receiving an injury while engaged temporarily in another occupation more hazardous than the one given in his cer-tificate, he shall be entitled only to such sum as provided for in the occupation in in which he is engaged at the time of injury.

The Illinois supreme court held that the beneficiaries were entitled to the whole $5,000, as the word "occupation" in the bylaw has reference to trade, vocation or profession, and does not pro-clude a member from the performance of acts which are simply incidents con-nected with the daily life of men in all pursuits.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
