The Times-Mountaineer says: "The present attitude (of the Chronicle) in regard to the republican ticket may be Gourlay's own. If so the republicans who own stock in the paper should free themselves from the suspicion of dissatisfaction. Without an atom of reason the Chronicle has chosen to take the position that the republican ticket now in the field is a Moody ticket." Now the truth is the Chronicle has never taken any such position, nor has it ever said one word of evil concerning the republican ticket nor of any man on it. The Times-Mountaineer is simply in a hole. After the state convention it boasted of having routed the "faction," at the primaries, at the county convention and at the state convention, "horse, foot and dragons." By the term faction as it has since explained, it meant the directors of the boat company. The Chronicle contended, what everybody here knows to be true, that there are only two factions, and that if the one has routed the other in the manner described the victor must be on top. Then we asked for proof that Moody was on top, by demanding the name of a single Moody man on the ticket, affirming that the people would rise in their might and down such an one at the polls. Then the Times-Mountaineer caught in its own trap, charged the Chronicle with lying the ticket. This is the whole story. The Chronicle has not started this controversy and does not shun it. It is not fighting the ticket, at the same time it ought to be understood and is, by everyone except the dull intelligence that presides over the Times-Mountaineer, that this is not a party organ. It is not fighting simply to see men elected to office, but for principles that it believes to be beneficial to the community and nation, and only for men as they represent these principles. In their private relations it is very possible that the men who control this journal may be found as true to the party of their choice, on election day, as the faction that seeks through the Mountaineer to admonish them of their duty. That however is something with which the Chronicle, as a newspaper, has nothing to do.

The Eastern Oregon Republican asks: "If the tariff is a tax why is it that wire nails sell for $1.90 a keg, while the duty is $2 a keg? And why does calico sell for 14 cents a yard and less, while the duty is 5 cents a yard? and why can cloth be bought for 75 cents a yard the duty on which is 97 1/2 cents a yard?" The truth is the tariff is a tax when the consumer uses articles of foreign production subject to an import duty. The price of such articles is increased to the consumer by the amount of the duty paid at the port of entry. But protection has so stimulated home production and competition has so reduced the prices of home manufactures that practically, so far as our home products, which enter largely into the consumption of the masses are concerned, the tariff is not a tax.

Linn county prohibitionists have declared against Harrison and the Australian ballot law, and the chairman of their county convention has announced that steps are being taken by the prohibitionists to test its constitutionality. There is no accounting for the vagaries of the human mind. If there ever was a law in the interest of good government it is the Australian ballot law. It is as hard to understand why any one should oppose it as it is to understand what connection the success of prohibition principles has with the Australian ballot law anyway.

There is a sobering evidence that our eviling contemporaries have been taking lessons on manners lately. Last night it devoted more than a column to the journal and its editor never used the term "fellow" but once, on the other hand, "mistreated" was used twelve times. We now believe, more than ever, that while the lamp holds on, to burn the greatest sinner may return.

Union county democrats demand in their county platform, a repeal of the law allowing the clerk and sheriff 3 1/2 per cent. additional compensation over the present fee bill. They also condemn the state board of equalization for the way they equalized the taxes of Union county.

A traveling man who chanced to be in the store of E. V. Wood, at McKees Rocks, Pa., says while he was waiting to see Mr. Wood, a little girl came in with an empty bottle labeled Chamberlain's Pain Balm and said: "Mamma wants another bottle of that medicine; she says it is the best medicine for rheumatism she ever used." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w
