MODERN SEA GOING CRAFT.

A New Canadian Vessel which May Loa-At The Dalles for any Port.

Mr. Linus Hubbard calls attention to the new monitor steamers, described by a Toronto paper, which will undoubtedly be competitors of the whalebacks, in carrying the inland products of our country to all seaport markets, wherever water transportation can be used from the grain fields and mines to the ocean, and will prove strong factors in increasing all values to the producers. The following is from the description referred to: "The John Doty engine company, of Toronto, is building a steel steamer of the monitor type, to engage in the grain and coal trade between Kingston and the upper lake ports, for the Canadian steel barge company. The design is by W. E. Redway. The boat differs somewhat from the cargo vessels building in Cleveland, Detroit and Buffalo, and to which the same peculiarities have been applied. The machinery is placed nearly amidships, with a view to making the vessel trim better when light. Instead of the cigar-shaped bow of the whalebacks, this boat has a ram bow, with a forecastle deck forward, the top sides of which flare outward slightly, something like the mold-board of a plow. She is fitted with seven selftrimming hatches, the openings being raised about three feet above the top, or the rounded deck, and so arranged as to be easily accessible for loading and unloading cargo. Her keel is 225 feet, full Welland canal size, beam 38 feet, hold 20 feet. She will be fitted with fore and aft compound engines, having cylinders 26 and 50 inches in diameter, 40 inches stroke, with two cylindrical boilers, 12 feet in diameter, 11 feet long, and is expected to have a speed of 13 knots on a coal consumption of 1,000 pounds per hour. She will register about 850 tons, and will have a carrying capacity of 2,200 tons of dead cargo, wheat, coal etc., on a draft of 15 feet of water." With the cascade canal open such a vessel as that can take her cargo from The Dalles to any sea port in the world.

Profession Versus Business.

A friend of mine, a physician, did a rich manufacturer a vast service in the way of his profession. When the obliged man asked for his account he requested a deduction for prompt payment, and this being declined, grumbled over the amount. The doctor was immovable. "You are at liberty," he said, "to pay nothing or all." "But this is business," an, wered the other; "why not discuss it like any other business?" "I am not a business man," said my friend; "I belong to a profession. I sell that which no man can weigh or measure.'

Finally the bill was paid, and then the manufacturer, suddenly changing his tone, said, "Well, now that the business is completed, I should like you to accept this as a slight proof of our gratitude." It was a check for thrice the amount of the debt. The doctor said, "No; I never allow a man to overpay me." The next day the check was sent to a hospital in which the physician was interested.— Dr. Weir Mitchell in Century.

An Expensive Dining Room A well known statesman took dinner at Tilden's old home in Gramercy park, New York. He was captivated by the decorations of the dining room. Next day he looked up the decorator. "I want you to convert my dining room want you to convert my dining room into just such a room as the one at Gramercy park," said he.

"I shall be delighted to do so," replied the man, "but the cost"—

"Never mind the cost," said the statesman. "I know it will be large, but you do the work and I will pay you for it,"

"Yes, I know you will," persisted the man; but I think you had better know just what you will be expected to pay. That room at Gramercy park brought

That room at Gramercy park brought me $50,000." The statesman got over his infatuation immediately and told the decorator that he would call on him later. — Washington Cor. Cleveland

Imbecile Boys Chase the Bainbow.

One of the peculiar freaks of some of the boys at the Home for the Feeble Minded at Lincoln is the annual hegira after the bag of gold buried at the base of a rainbow arch, according to the fairy tales. How these boys become possessed of the idea I cannot say, but regularly each summer they run away after big rainbow storms, when the conditions are such as to produce the natural phenomenon, to capture the gold. Each time they return tired, hungry and bedraggled, glad to resume their old places.—

Set a Horse's Broken Rib.

Four or five months ago one of the hostlers employed at the stable of Charles D. Nichols, of Pawtucket, no-ticed that one of the handsome pair of cream geldings acted a little lame. cial examination of the shoulder resulted in not finding any cause for lameness. The next morning, when the there was a swelling back of the shoulder and a veterinary surgeon was con-sulted. It appeased to him like rheu-matism, and with instructions to see if it could not be sweated out he left, saying he would call the next day. The sweating process did not meet the de-sired results, and a thorough examina-tion revealed the fact that the fifth rib was broken off very close to the back-

The rib was set, and since that time the animal has done no work. The result of this piece of bonesetting has been watched with no small amount of interest by all veterinary surgeons hereabout who have become acquainted with the peculiar circumstances of the case. How the rib was broken is yet a mystery, and it probably will remain so. The result of the operation was successful, and in a short time the animal will again be all right.-Providence Journal.

Rad Blood.

Impure or vitiated blood is nine imes out of ten caused by som form of constipation or indiges-tion that clogs up the system, when the blood naturally becomes impregnated with the el-fete matter. Theold Sarsaparillas attempt to reach this condition by attacking the blood with the frastic mineral "potash." The potash theory is old and obsolete. Joy's Vegetable Sarsapartila is modern. It goes to the seat of the trouble. It arouses the liver, kidneys and bowels to healthful action, and invigorates the circulation, and the impurities are quickly carried off through the natural channels Try it and note its delightful action. Chas. Lee, at Beamish's Third and Market Streets, S. F., writes: "I took it for vitiated ood and while on the first bottle became convinced of its merits, for I could feel it was working a change. It cleansed, purifled and braced me up generally, and everything is now working full and regula." Vegetable Sarsaparilla

For Sale by SNIPES & KINERSLY THE DALLES, OREGON. A Revelation.

Few people know that the bright bluish-green color of the ordinary teas exposed in the windows is not the natural color. Unpleasant as the fact may be, it is nevertheless artificial; mineral coloring matter being used for this purpose. The effect is two-fold. It not only makes the ten a bright, shiny green, but also permits the use of "off-color" and worthless teas, which, once under the green cloak, are readily worked off as a good quality of tea. An eminent authority writes on this sub-ject: "The manipulation of poor teas, to give them a finer appearance, is carried on extensively. Green teas, being in this country especially popular, are produced to meet the demand by coloring cheaper black kinds by glazing or facing with Prussian blue, tumeric, gypsum, and indigo. This method is so general that very little genuine uncolored green tea is offered for sale." It was the knowledge of this condition of affairs that prompted the placing of Beech's

Tes before the public. It is absolutely pure and without color. Did you ever see any genuine uncolored Japan ten? Ask your grocer to open a package of Beech's, and you will see it, and probably for the very first time. It will be found in color to be just between the artificial green tea that you have been accustomed to and the black teas.

It draws a delightful canary color, and is so fragrant that it will be a revelation to teadrinkers. Its purity makes it also more economical than the artificial tens, for less of it is required per cup. Sold only in pound packages bearing this trade-mark:
